Commissary Chiamonte.
Madame Bernard.
Countess.
Sister Giovanni.
Miss Allen.

That the doors of the new Heilig Theater will be thrown open Monday night, October 10, was the announcement made by Calvin S. Heilig last night. With this handsome new theater completed, as well as the new Baker Theater, which opened last Saturday night, Portland will be in a better way for theaters than it has ever been.

Together with the announcement of the date of opening, comes the information that Viola Allen, the well-known American actress, will be the star attraction in her latest piece, "The White Sister." With the achievements and popularity of this actress it is in keeping that she should open the new playhouse.

Many Stars in Company.

It is not always that the supporting company of a star represents as much talent as does the one which Miss Allen brings with her. It could be termed an all-star cast. Chief among them is James O'Neill, without doubt one of the foremost actors on the stage today. He gained fame in "The Musketeers," "Monte Cristo," and other plays of rapiers and sword. He was with "Monte Cristo" for years, and is conceded to be the greatest ecclesiastical character this country ever had.

Widely different from the character Mr. O'Neill has heretofore depicted in romantic pieces, is his effort as the venerable bishop, "The White Sister." The part, however, is said to be well adapted to his ability, and his friends have expressed their liking for him in his new role. The actor announces that he will hereafter confine himself to solid and substantial character parts.

Minna Gale Well Known.

Minna Gale, Henry Stanford and Fannie Pitt are included in Miss Allen's company. Miss Gale was at one time known from coast to coast as the talented leading woman for Booth and Barrett. Several years ago she retired from the stage to marry Archibald Haynes, a prominent insurance man of New York. Her role as Countess Chiamonte in "The White Sister" was taken by her only on account of being a life-long friend on Miss Allen.

Henry Stanford came to this country several years ago as a leading member of Henry Irving's company, and has been prominent in numerous metropolitan successes. Mr. Stanford will appear as an Italian officer in "The White Sister."

"White Sister" Shows Talent.

Probably in no play has Miss Allen appeared to such advantage as she does in "The White Sister," the last play penned by the late F. Marion Crawford. This is the third drama with its scenes laid in Latin countries, in which this actress has appeared in six years. The two previous plays were, "In the Palace of the King," a drama of old Spain, by F. Marion Crawford, and "The Eternal City," a play of modern Rome, by Hall Caine.

In both of these plays Miss Allen achieved success, but it is the general opinion that the play in which she is now appearing, affords possibilities for the actress which neither of the other two contained. As Sister Giovanni, Miss Allen portrays a nun who has taken the veil on hearing that her lover has been killed on the battle field. The really pretty part of the play is where the lover appears, it being a mistaken report that he was slain. Here the young woman's character is tested to the utmost.

Ability Is Early Shown.

It was while Miss Allen was a very young girl that she displayed talent toward stage work. Her father, C. Leslie Allen, was an actor of the old school, and, while he instructed his daughter, never intended that she should go on the stage.

Shortly after Miss Allen finished her course in a Canadian convent, she received an offer from the manager of the old Madison Square Theater, in New York, to take a part in "Emmeline," in which her father was the leading man and Annie Russell was leading woman. Miss Russell was taken suddenly sick and Miss Allen was requested to take her place. The young actress' success in that play is well remembered by New York theater-goers.

PRUNES TO GO TO LONDON
Carload of Clark County Fruit Will Begin Journey Today.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—It is a long cry from Vancouver, Wash., to London, England, but that is the distance a carload of extra fine Clark County prunes will travel, beginning its long journey tomorrow. The shipper is the J. K. Armsby Company, which has the largest prune-packing plant in this county.

This plant in Vancouver started this morning with 80 or more packers, and it is estimated by the manager that it will have a 40 days' run this season, an exceptionally short one.

The A. C. Burdick plant also started today with 60 packers. This company will ship one carload to St. Louis, Mo., tomorrow. The E. L. French packing plant at Ellsworth started today.

MISS VIOLA ALLEN, WHO WILL OPEN THE NEW HEILIG OCTOBER 10, AND JAMES O'NEILL, HER CO-STAR.

BABIES ARE PRETTY

Two Hundred Fifty Dimpled Darlings Placed on Show.

THELMA ROBISON, BEAUTY

Brunette Is Awarded First Prize at Pure Food Show—Leonard A. Leach, 6 Months Old, Weighing 38 Pounds, Is Fattest.

Baby shows always prove attractive and interesting, but the one held at the Pure Food Show yesterday afternoon attracted an attendance larger than that of any of the previous shows at the exposition. There were nearly 200 babies from 1 to 4 years old on exhibition and so many that they were all pretty babies would not be an exaggeration.

After considerable deliberation by the judges the following babies were awarded silver:

Thelma Robison, first beauty; Herbert Crampton, second beauty; Lorene Hill, third beauty; Leonard A. Leach, six months, 38 pounds, first fat; Elliott Levin, 8 months, 33 pounds, second fat; Anita Paulsen, 18 months, 50 pounds, third fat.

Little Thelma, the first prize beauty baby, is of the brunette type, with large, dark, expressive eyes and a mass of black hair, which seems to accentuate the whiteness of her skin. The second prize beauty baby has golden curls and pretty blue eyes.

Manager Trempe also presented Myra and Marie Holt, the only twins present, with a large engraved silver cup.

Friday afternoon the last baby show will be held, when the same amount of prizes will be awarded, six cups to three of the prettiest and three of the fattest babies. The age limit will be 3 months to 2 years.

That was the day when the victors enjoyed to the utmost the excellent program which is being given every night this week.

Miss Chinese Impersonator, Hop Lee, with his funny faces and his dialogues, although given in his native tongue, caused considerable laughter.

Notwithstanding the fact that Buffalo Bill's show drew large crowds last night, the attendance at the Food Show was as large as any night last week.

Miss Zynia, the contortionist, gave some good turns and Miss Katherine Dinamore received a goodly amount of applause for her vocal selections.

Lee Chinese band will not appear again this week. Manager Trempe announced last night.

This afternoon will be the usual Tag day for the women and this evening will be the Christian Endeavor and Epworth League night.

Thursday night will be Grocerymen, Manufacturers and Free night, when a special program will be given for the entertainment of the visitors.

Saturday afternoon there will be another Chinese Baby Show.

That the Pure Food and Industrial Exposition will be an annual event is decided upon. Many of the exhibitors have already arranged for the same amount of space for next year as they have now and some have requested increased space. Manager Trempe said last night that indications are that next year's exposition will be conducted on a larger plan.

TEMPERANCE UNION MEETS
Mrs. L. H. Additon, National Organizer, Is Principal Speaker.

The annual convention of the Multnomah Christian Temperance Union opened yesterday afternoon at the First Christian Church. An address by Mrs. L. H. Additon, National organizer and lecturer, was the feature of the afternoon session. Mrs. Additon's subject was "Wheels Within Wheels," in which she took up the sociological aspect of the labor and moral departments of the work. "The three great reforms," she said, "are the labor question, the moral question and the temperance question, while that of social purity belongs to them all."

Mrs. Mary Mallett, president of the Union, also gave an address, in which she reviewed the work accomplished during the past year.

Last night Mrs. Ada Wallace Urush, state president, delivered an address on the issues of the campaign. Miss Marie Wooddy and Fred Goodwin sang a duet. This forenoon will be devoted to reading of reports from superintendents and the election of officers for the coming year. In the afternoon, 15-minute talks will be given as follows:

"Woman's Work," by Mrs. Sarah A. Evans; "Christian Consistency," by Mrs. Robert; "Temperance," by Mrs. M. L. E. Hadden; "Union of Unions," by Mrs. O.

A cleaning and dyeing establishment at Sixth and Yamhill streets was entered just before daylight yesterday morning by a robber who secured access by breaking through the door and turning the latch. He went in the room where J. L. Handley, an employe, was sleeping, and demanded his money. Handley showed fight and the robber pulled a revolver and struck him on the head. The intruder then made his escape.

M. B. Price, employed in the trouble department of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company, and living at 310 East Forty-seventh street, reported yesterday that his house had been entered some time in the night. The burglar secured a revolver, some silverware and considerable jewelry.

200 GOING TO HOOD RIVER

Portland Commercial Club and Guests Plan Day in Apple Region.

Hood River will entertain today more than 200 Portland business men who will leave for the famous apple district at 8:30 o'clock this morning as guests of the Portland Commercial Club. The visitors will be entertained by the Hood River Commercial Club at a luncheon at noon and then will be taken through the apple orchards in automobiles.

More than 200 Portland people have holdings in the Hood River district. Nearly all of these orchard owners have arranged to make the trip with the Commercial Club delegation.

It has been arranged with the O. R. & N. Company to bring the visitors back at 5:30 o'clock tonight on the Oregon-Washington Limited train. By this means the delegation will be able to spend the greater part of the day at Hood River and to arrive in Portland reasonably early.

CLERK FINED FOR PROTEST

Butterworth Is Assessed Day's Pay, but Useless Order Is Revoked.

John Butterworth, dean of the railway mail clerks running out of Portland, and president of the 13th division of Railway Mail Clerks, has emerged from an encounter with an empty registry pouch, the loser of one day's pay and the mail pouch.

Butterworth's run is from Portland to Ashland and return. Before the Shasta Limited was placed on the Southern Pacific he was required to make up a registry pouch to be taken up at Ashland for delivery at San Francisco. Since the Shasta Limited went on the run that train has robbed up all the registered mail and the necessity for carrying the registry pouch was done away with. After reporting the case several times, Butterworth refused to take the useless pouch from the Portland office.

He was fined for insubordination, but the same order revoked the necessity of carrying the pouch.
