FORMAL STATEMENT MADE

Alleged False Assertions of Compact to Serve Term of No Moment in Decision-Honor Big, He Says, but Still Won't Run.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 .- Mayor Gayner Essued tonight, for the first time, a formal statement, saying he is not a canddidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor.

Nowhere in the statement does the Mayor say, however, what course he will pursue in the event that nomination is thrust upon him. He indicates that he prefers to serve his full term as Mayor, but at the same time he emphasizes that he feels no moral obligaons to do so. The statement, in the form of a let Dix, chairman of the state committee, in part follows: "I have further considered the mat-ter, as you requested when you called on me here with Mr. Mack last Wednes on me here with an Mark has the volution day, but can only reiterate to you that I am not a candidate for nomination for Governor. Many tell me and write me that in taking this course I give up my future. But I shall not take myself or my future into consideration. None of us has a future, but only the present. And if I thought I had a future I should be content to entrust it to be people of he City of New York.

I trust that the convention will nominate one who is not a mere dealer in the political commonplaces and fingles of the last 25 or 38 years, but who has kept pace and growth with the times and whose absorbing purpose will be to make the government of the state, in all its branches, general and local, intelligent, honest and decent, and to lift the and make it an object lesson to up and make it an object lesse the whole Nation. If to do this he has forgive his meddlesomeness if kept fairly within the law."

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 38.-The opponents of Mayer Gaynor devoted today and tonight to preparation for the strug-gle against his selection for the head of the Democratic state ticket, which now seems likely to be the distinguishing feature of the two days remaining be-

The extent of this opposition is difficult to define. Friends of James S. At present the Havens men head the anti-Gaynor forces and hope to enlist the ald of other candidates on the ground that the elimination of Gaynor is the first requisite toward insuring the success of anybody size to matter from what.

One of the most valued and gifted artists of the Metropolitan Opera Company is Antonio Scotti, the well-known baritone. He was born in Naples, and even as a child showed a desire to become a singer.

This great baritone is repeating his previous successes and thrilling the audiences with his wonderful display of dramatic power. Scotti's impressively tragic impersonations are among the most striking features of the Metropolitan season, while as Falstaff he achieved an artistic triumph, revealing himself as a worthy successor to Maurel in the many moods required by this exacting part.
