

FEW CHANGES DUE TO OFFICIAL COUNT

Manning Now Leads Lane as Democratic Nominee for Representative.

SMITH OPPOSES HAWLEY

Bowerman's Plurality Now 3252. While That of Crawford Is 12,029—Hoff Has Lead of 1324 for Labor Commissioner.

Official canvasses of the votes cast in the primary election of last Saturday were made yesterday in Washington, Clatsop, Gilliam, Hood River, Josephine, Lincoln, Sherman and Willamette counties. In addition thereto complete unofficial returns were forwarded from Yamhill, Union and Linn. All precincts but one in each county have reported unofficially from Tillamook, Morrow and Grant, and the official count on Governor and Labor Commissioner from Benton County. From all other counties, with the exception of Lake, more or less full returns have been made.

Changes and additions made to the compilations heretofore given reduce Lafferty's lead over Ellis for Representative in Congress about 100 votes and increase Bowerman's plurality over Dimick for Governor by 200, while Hoff for Labor Commissioner, is 200 more ahead of Orton than shown in the returns received the day before.

As the official returns come in it is apparent that the estimates made Monday morning of the pluralities were not materially out of the way.

Manning Now Leads Lane.

Interest now centers in the result of the contest for the Democratic nomination for Representative in Congress from the Second District.

Returns from Baker, Clatsop, Harney, Hood River, Morrow, Multnomah, Sherman, Umatilla and Union give John Manning 589 and Harry Lane 500, or a lead of 69 for Manning.

The report of the official canvass in Grant County does not disclose that any votes were cast there for either Lane or Manning, but Lafferty's name was written in on 12 Democratic ballots. Three votes will not be counted in his contest with Ellis for the Republican nomination. It is reported, also, from Wasco and Columbia counties that Manning had had the better of the voting in each county, but no figures are given. Twelve of the 17 counties in the district are thus disposed of, and Manning has carried all of them, with the exception of Multnomah and Umatilla. He has overcome in counties other than Multnomah a majority of the votes in this county, and on the indications that the balance of the district is for Manning he is looked upon as the nominee.

Smith to Oppose Hawley.

In the first district, the Democratic nomination for representative, Eugene Smith has gone to Robert G. Smith, of Grants Pass, and it is understood he will make an aggressive campaign against W. C. Hawley, the Republican nominee.

The state vote so far as reported gives Oswald West, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, 1324 over Jefferson Myers.

Pluralities shown by the incomplete returns to date on contested places on the Republican ticket are as follows: Congress—Second district, Lafferty 2837, Congress—Second district, Hawley 1295, Governor—Bowerman, 3252, Justice Supreme Court, four-year term—Bean 3464 over McCamant, Secretary of State—Benson 11,262, State Treasurer—Kay 2452, Attorney-General—Crawford 12,029, State Printer—Dunaway 10,271, Labor Commissioner—Hoff 1324, Water Superintendent—Division 1, Chinook 7872.

STORM ON PINCHOT BREAKS

(Continued From First Page.) various questions affecting fuel and mineral lands and timber and water rights. "Our present public land laws," he continued, "insofar as they relate to the classes of land heretofore described, need revision, and even if Congress shall fail to agree entirely with the suggestions made by the department of the interior, it is hoped that some will form the basis for new legislation. Any departure in legislation on these subjects is of course in a sense experimental, but it is the intention of the Interior Department to secure practical legislation and eliminate the experimental features so far as possible.

Legislature to Promote Is Cry.

"It seems that the efforts of all citizens and organizations interested in the subject should tend to the direction of securing legislation which will promote development, but guard the public interest by protecting against injurious monopoly for unreasonable charges to the consumer for the use of the minerals other than those described—and it seems there is a clear line of demarcation between the fuel and minerals and those which may be denominated as precious metals—I believe that our present mining laws, based upon the experience and wisdom of those who for nearly half a century have participated in their development, should not be changed, except by such amendments or additions as may be deemed essential to improve them. In this connection it is believed that the law should be modified so as to require mining location notices to be placed on record in the local land offices of the interior where the lands are situated, that final payment and entry upon mining claims should be required to be made within a fixed period after location, seven years, exclusive of such period as the placer mining laws should be required to make the maximum area subject to location by an association, corporation, or individual, 40 acres."

BOY REMEMBERS LITTLE Trial of Tacoma Woman for Killing Brother-in-Law Featured by Child's Hesitating Testimony—Shot Is Heard.

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 27.—(Special).—Twelve-year-old Earl Johnston appeared on the witness stand in the Superior Court today, as one of the state's witnesses against Mrs. Belle Johnston, on trial for the murder of Frank Hawk last July. Such an unwilling witness the boy proved, that wordy combats were indulged in between state and defense. The common answer to questions was, "I don't remember."

Mrs. Johnston kept her eyes fastened on his face. The boy was visibly agitated, and glanced at his mother over his shoulder. He declared, as he did at the coroner's inquest, he had heard his mother and "Uncle Frank," as he called Hawk, quarreling over bills before the fatal shot was fired.

Youth Heard Shot.

"Where were you just before you heard the shot?" he was asked. "In the kitchen."

"Tell the jury what you saw." "I saw Uncle Frank go into the front room. Mother went into the closet and got the shotgun."

"What did you do?" "I yelled to Uncle Frank to look out. Money was going to shoot him."

"How long was it from the time she got the gun until you heard the shot?" The boy was unable to say, but he testified the interval by clapping his hands. Watches recorded an interval of 15 seconds.

"What did you hear your mother and Uncle Frank say before they left the dining room in which they were sitting?" "Yes sir."

"I heard her say 'you owe me that money.' He said that he had paid the bill once, but 'if you are low down enough to take it, I will pay it twice.'"

"That was the last word you heard him say, and it was not more than 15 seconds afterward when you heard the shot?" "Yes sir."

150,000 ACRES SET ASIDE

Large Tract of Land to Be Put Under Water on Warner Lakes.

LAKEVIEW, Or., Sept. 24.—(Special).—Approximately 150,000 acres have been segregated by the State Engineer under the terms of the "Canby Act" for the Warner Valley Land & Irrigation Company. The land lies along the shores of the Warner Lakes and is proposed to take water from Honey and Deep Creeks, where large storage reservoirs will be built.

If more water is needed the company proposes to utilize some of the power from these streams, for pumping water from Flagstaff Lake, where it will be carried in canals to the land. The company has expended nearly $40,000 this year in making surveys of the tract, and estimating the flow of the streams.

There are a number of large cattle and sheep ranches in Warner Valley that will necessarily have to limit their range with the development of this project and it will mean the ultimate cutting up of a great deal of this valley into small farms and fruit ranches.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Sept. 27.—(Special).—J. H. Jager is to build a block three stories high at the corner of Second and Washington streets, and it is to cost $10,000. The building occupying the site was recently burned. It is within a few feet of the North Bank Railroad track, where it crosses Washington street.
