BEAVERS RALLY IN NINTH; OAKS LOSE

McCredie Is One of Principal Factors in Victory, Which Mightily Cheers Fans.

JACK LIVELY IS

Fisher Manager and Ryan Are Hitters Who Bring in Winning Runs. Game Is Intensely Exciting, but Fraught With Errors.

Portland got the decision in the opening game of the crucial series for the pennant, which commenced at the Vaughn-street park yesterday afternoon, for the Beavers got busy in a grandstand finish and sent the big opening-day crowd home slapping each other on the back and laughing glee-fully because of the victory. The final score was 5 to 4, and Portland had to overcome a 4 to 2 score favoring the Oaks when the McCredie squadron went to bat in the last chance.

It was a slorious fittish to a more or less exciting, though ragged game, for the three tallies registered by the Oaks in the fourth were due entirely to errors by the home guard, and rank ones at that. However, the players of both teams were keyed up to the highest pitch of excitement and each player tried his utmost to take advantage of every opportunity offered. every opportunity offered.

McCredie Goes to Bat.

With the Oaks leading 4 to 5, the Beavers came to bat in the final chance of the game. Gus Fisher was the first man up, and he slammed a slow hop-ping grounder towards short. Wares fielded the ball, but falled to get Fisher at first. George Ort then sacrificed, ad-vancing Fisher to second, and Walter McCredie decided to bat for Bill Steen. McCredie decided to bat for Bill Steen, who had relieved Gregg after Gus Hetling, once more a Beaver, batted for the southpaw in the seventh. Big Mac walked to the plate amid a demonstration from the fans, for all yelped excitedly for a hit, and McCredie delivered the grade.

vered the goods. Jack Lively, the demon Oak heaver had replaced Moser, when the Portland bunch got too busy with the latter in the seventh, and Jack fed Walter one that the big manager liked and he quickly laced it past Bill Hogan for a safety to left, which scored Fisher.

Manager Gets to Second.

This run tied up the score, and when McCredie brought up at second after Maggart had allowed the ball to get away from him, the enthusiasm knew no bounds. Hats were tossed promiscu ously in the air and many a fan will have a sore back this morning because of the wild swings landed on it by exhuberant fellow-bugs in the rear. McCredie called Eddie Mensor out to run for him, and went to the bench. while Huddy Ryan stood up to the plate with a determined air.

Lively pitched a wide one, and then shot one straight over the pan and Buddy broke up the matinee by hitting far over Maggart's head and the ball landed under the left field bleachers, which swat chased Mensor across the last with the decision. This had e with the decision. This his ed the fans to go into further costa-This hit sies, and the scramble to the waiting streetcars and automobiles resembled an enthusiastic buach of collegians celebrating a victory of their team.

Fans Show Glee.

Dignified business men and fans of all walks in life simply disported them-selves like a bunch of kids. It was a sight well worth seeing, for hardly a fan left the grounds who did not show his pleasure in some visible or audible manner. Demonstrations have occurred at the Vaughn-street park sefore, but never one like that of yesterday. Every one was keyed to as keen a pitch as were the players, for all Portland's fandom is interested in the gal-lant struggle the Beavers are making for the pennant, and yesterday's vic-tory gives the Portland team a better chance than ever. Oakland is the com-petitor and this series of seven games will be a big factor in deciding whether the bunting flaunts at Vaughn street or at Freeman's Park in Oakland.

Beavers Score in First.

Portland "busted" into the run col-umn in the first linning. Ryan, the first man to face Moser, walked, and took second on Olson's neatly executed sacri-fice. Artie Krueger then pickled one of Moser's choicest to right for a single, which was long enough for Buddy Ryan to register ahead of Swander's throw. While he was fanning Casey fouled a ball which hit him on the ankie and he had to leave the game, which put Ort at second and sent Speas to right field.

Hits

The one-run lead looked good for Portland until the fourth, when the Cake profited by a series of hits and errors. Pfyl opened this inning with a single to right, and went to thirl when Happy Bill Hogan pasted out his first two-hagger. Gregg fanned Cutahaw, but Olson failed to grapple Swander's infield tap, and Pfyl scored, while Hogan moved up to third. Thomas hit to Olson, but Ort failed to cover second, and Ole held the hall, as it was ond, and Ole held the ball, as it was too late to get the batter at first, and Hogan scored. Swander stole third and Fisher's wild heave into left field to catch him allowed the "white-top" to tally the third run.

Such a series of misplays and poor Judgment almost took the heart out of the fans, but the home team came back at the Oaks by scoring another run in their half of the fourth, and this served to ameliorate the indigo atmosphere.

Sheehan Gets Single.

With two out in Portland's half. Shee-han singled to left, but took two bases because Maggart erred. "Roaring" Bill Happs banged one to deep center, on which Tommy scored, but "Trilby"

Rankin, who broke in as a Pacific Coast League umpire, doubling with Finney, got hasty in calling things and declared Rapps out at second. "Tril-by" seemed nervous and altogether too erratic in registering his base decisions.
He might wear this nervousness off, but if he den't, he is going to cause completed, and vesterian Rankin did completed, and yesterday Rankin did so several times. A pass to Wares, who immediately stole second, and Bill Hogan's second two-bagger, gave the visitors their fourth run in the fifth inning.

Lively Relieves Moser.

Portland dld not get into the scoring habit again until the seventh, when they made things so lively for Moser that Wolverton substituted Jack Lively. Fisher, after two were out, hit the center-field fence for a triple. George Ort scored him with a single to center, and Gus Hetling, batting for Gregg, also singled and the crowd expected a rally. A pass to Ryan filled the bases, and Wolverton then chased Moser. Older, and the green forced Ryan at second and the expected as a filled the bases. son forced Ryan at second and the ex-citement ceased temporarily.

Lively got through the eighth without any more damage than a lone single by Billy Speas, but there seemed to be an atmosphere of expectancy permeating the void at the ball yard, and very few of the fans left, even though the Oaks were depending on their star pitcher to hold the Beavers and The explosion came as expected and the result was been chronicled

Scattle Men Here.

The Scattle bunch comprised Dudley New, Billy Horing, Jim Ellison, Ernest Bradshaw, "Fat" McGill, W. E. Christ-ensen and Harry Warner, and every ensen and Harry Warner, and every one of them speaks a good work for "Lefty" Zackert, the southpaw pitcher McCredie secured from the Seattle club. Several Northwestern League players also took in the game. Among them were Miles Netzel and Jesse Baker, of Spokane; Jack Warner, of Tacoma; Joe Seaton, of Seattle, and Danny Shea, of Spekane. Oakland and Portland play again this afternoon, and Jesse Garrett, who has not been defeated by the Oaks this season, will do the honors for Portland, while Wolverton will probably send while Wolverton will probably send Jack Lively against Portland once more. All the old men who were expected to return to college this year, except Dunn, have reported. They are all in excellent condition and should improve upon their performances of last year.

Even these men are very light, the heavyweights of the 1909 team being lost by graduation or by withdrawal from college. Keck, who will probably be the main-stay of the team this year because of his experience and ability as a backfield player, has fully recovered from the injury to his ankle, which so handicapped him during the latter part of last season. HARRY WOLVERTON is the protest-Because his team sluffed off yester-day's game he protests it on the ground that Hetling is not a Portland player. Gas was loaned to Spokane by Mc-Credie and belongs to Portland.

If the Oaks had won that game yesterday. Wolverton would never let a chirp out of him, but when a near champ team drops a game in the last inning the old gag crops out, and Wolverton could not find anything else wrong, so he imagines McCredie would reconside his permant changes by jeopardize his pennant chances by playing an ineligib: player. It is to Ha Ha, Harry.

Vean Gregg was not as effective against the Oaks as he usually it, but even at that the Commuters did not find him for many hits. However, the few hits they did get were made to count in the run-getting. Gregg had Maggart on his staff us usual, fanning the left fielder three times.

With Lively on the hilltop as the game was fast winding up very few fans thought Portland would have a look-in, yet none of them would leave the park until the final spasm was over, and they were well rewarded for their tenacity. That grandstand finish was worth anybody's while. Young Thomas, the ex-Portland boy who is one of the Oak's change catchers, is being played regularly in center field because of his batting prowess, and also because of the temporary in-capacity of Manager Wolverton. How-ever, Wolverton expects to get 'nto the game later in the week.
