DEBATE IS REFUSED

Home Rule Advocates Decline Challenge From "Drys." NO GOOD WOULD RESULT "Wets" Say Attorney Hinshaw Seeks Notoriety by Contest With Able Anti-Prohibition Speakers. Widened Breach Avoided. H. C. McAllister, general manager of the Greater Oregon Home Rule Association, declines to accept the challenge of J. D. Newell, chairman of the executive committee of the Prohibition party, to debate one of the association's speakers against Virgil G. Hinshaw, representing the Prohibitionists. There has not been a meeting of the Prohibitionists in the city since the campaign to make Oregon "dry" began that challenges have not been hurried at the anti-Prohibitionists to debate. Early in the campaign an official challenge was issued from the "dry" headquarters to debate on the merits of the Greater Oregon Home Rule Association's local option bill, but the challenge was not accepted. The only men who have debated on state prohibition during the present campaign are Dr. Clarence True Wilson and E. Hofer. The latest challenge to debate was issued by Chairman Newell September 30. In declining the proffered word contest, Mr. McAllister last night said: "In my opinion the only one who would benefit by a debate with Mr. Hinshaw, who styles himself an attorney, would be Mr. Hinshaw. To place our learned and noted speakers in a word contest with Mr. Hinshaw would be equivalent to recognition of equality that does not exist. Almost any struggling attorney who wants to build up a practice or any man who desires to be in the public eye for monetary gain or notoriety would only be too glad to jump at the chance to appear in public against such men as Mr. Rose, Mr. Darrow, Mr. Wasson or Mr. Story for the free advertisement he would get out of it. "These men are brought to Oregon at great expense to the Greater Oregon Home Rule Association. They are men of brains, education and ability, and have national reputations as public speakers who really have something to say. I believe the average citizen of Oregon would much prefer to hear them speak without interruption. If the Prohibitionists will permit them, listen to a controversy between two men—one noted for his brilliancy and thought, and the other an unknown quantity to say nothing about quality. "These debates accomplish nothing, anyway, even when men of equal strength are pitted against each other. Both sides go to the debate with their minds made up, prejudice aroused and determined that they shall not be convinced. Both sides drum up all of their staunchest supporters in an attempt to pack the meeting. The result is that the breach is widened, the contest becomes more bitter and friends differing in opinion become avowed enemies. No good is done for either side by the debate, but it usually results in harm. "Perhaps it would be better for me to decline the challenge to debate by referring my Prohibition friends to Proverbs xxv, which reads: "Debate thy cause with thy neighbor himself."

WESTERN HOGS NEEDED

BUSINESS MEN OF NORTHWEST TO CONFER AT SPOKANE. Plan Under Way to Induce Farmers to Go More Extensively Into Raising of Porkers. Prompted by the fact that live hogs in enormous numbers are annually imported into the Northwest, as well as hundreds of carcasses of cured meats, a conference of heads of Government experiment stations, agricultural and industrial experts and railway officials will be held in Spokane, commencing today, to consider ways and means of inducing the farmers of Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana to go more extensively into the raising of hogs. C. Chapman, manager of the Portland Commercial Club's promotion department, and D. O. Lively, general agent of the Portland Union Stockyards Company, left last night for Spokane to attend the meetings. It is contended that hogs of equal quality to the corn-fed product of the East can be produced in the Northwestern states, and it is proposed to start a campaign of education to persuade farmers that this is a fact. Dr. Withycombe, director of the Oregon experiment station, is authority for the statement that hogs can be grown and fattened on alfalfa, field peas and clover, and finished on mill feed with profit, producing pork of quality equal to that of Eastern corn-fed hogs. The real object of the conference is to keep within the Northwestern states the vast sums of money which annually go to the Eastern states in payment for hogs and cured meats. Experts say that farmers are missing an opportunity to reap a golden harvest in not going more extensively

MILL WORKER IS HURT

MACHINERY POUNDS B. H. DARLING AGAINST CEILING. Clothing Caught by Belt and Many Bones in Body Broken Before He is Released. With every bone in his upper and lower extremities fractured in several places and his hands and feet mashed into a pulp as a result of being caught in a belt and then wound about a drive shaft several times, B. H. Darling, a workman employed by the Portland Woolen Mills, Bradford and Baltimore streets, St. Johns, was removed to the Good Samaritan Hospital in this city last night. It is not believed he can survive. The accident occurred about 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the mills where Darling had been employed as a machine operator for several years. The exact manner in which he was caught in the belt is not known. It is believed, however, that in his attempt to adjust a belt to a pulley on a machine he operated, his clothing became entangled and his body was carried on the belt toward the drive shaft near the ceiling. Attention of other workmen was attracted to Darling by his cries when his body began to revolve around the shaft. Before the machinery could be stopped the unconscious form, held fast by the remnants of his clothing wound about the shaft, was bruised and broken by its contact with the ceiling. It was necessary to cut the clothing before he could be released. Upon being given temporary medical treatment it was found that he had sustained fractures to every bone in his lower limbs, arm and several ribs besides many ugly lacerations about the head and body. Owing to

BOWERMAN STAYS ON JOB

Acting Governor Familiar With Many Matters Yet Unsettled. SALEM, Or., Oct. 3.—(Special).—Acting Governor Jay Bowerman will continue to discharge the duties of the executive offices during the coming week or ten days, notwithstanding the fact that Governor Frank W. Benson has returned to Oregon. Owing to the fact that there are a number of unfinished matters in this department with which the Acting Governor is familiar, and which he will dispose of before turning over the reins of office, this arrangement has been made. Governor Benson is somewhat fatigued after his trip from San Jose to Salem, but is, nevertheless, very much improved in health. He does not feel, however, that he can assume the burdens of the Governorship until he has become thoroughly rested and until pending matters are settled. He intends to devote a portion of his time to the numerous duties of the office of Secretary of State and will begin at once the compilation of his biennial report to the Legislature. Acting Governor Bowerman spent today at the capital transacting much routine business incidental to meetings of boards and other affairs of the office and in the afternoon was in conference with Governor Benson at the latter's residence. For pains in the side or chest dampen a piece of flannel with Chamberlain's Linctament and bind it on over the seat of pain. There is nothing better. For sale by all dealers.

PRISONERS MAY BE PAID

Congress Would Protect Families of Those Incarcerated. WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Payment of prisoners according to their industry, to insure protection for their families and their own rehabilitation on release, was recommended to the International Prison Congress today by the section on "preventative means." The resolution provoked heated discussion in the Congress, not because the principle of caring for the families of prisoners was opposed, but because it was not worded as to apply to several countries, including the United States, where prisoners are unable, under the existing law, to earn anything. A resolution favoring productive work for prisoners including those in houses of correction and county jails was adopted. Secretary Meyer Coming West. ST. PAUL, Oct. 3.—Secretary of the Navy Meyer, his clerk and military aide arrived in St. Paul this morning, en route to the Pacific Coast. After an inspection of Fort Snelling and a visit to Minneapolis, Secretary Meyer will leave for the West tonight. The canal theory of Mars is opposed by the Swedish savant, Arrhenius, who thinks the phenomena observed are huge cliffs in the surface of the planet.
