Braga Proclaimed President of Portugal.

KING FLEES FROM CAPITAL

List of Killed and Injured Will Reach Several Hundred.

MEN BATTLE IN DARKNESS

Insurgent Warships Carry on Pierce Bombardment of Palace While Land Forces Fight Troops Loyal to King on Land.

LANDMARKS IN PORTUGUESE REVOLUTION. King Carlos and Crown Prince Luis slain in capital, February 1, 1908, when an attempt was made to wipe out the whole royal family. Premier Franco, the hated reactionary leader, forced to flee the country. A new ministry and a "reform" parliament came into power. Clerical party dominates new relations. Liberals are squelched, and Republican propaganda breaks out with new fury. Bomb plots unearthed and plotters arrested from time to time, but sedition grows apace throughout the nation. New parliament opened September 25, 1910. King promising reforms, but again the progressives are outvoted and the "reform" programme is delayed. Assassination Monday of Prof. Bombarda, a Liberal deputy, charged to editorial plot, sparks that starts revolution. King Manuel and Queen-mother, now besieged in palace, bombarded by guns of revolutionaries. Royal flag hoisted and flag of revolt waves over palace. Army and navy join revolt. Serious fighting in streets of Lisbon, and many victims killed. Foreign nations sending warships to protect lives of their citizens. Republic proclaimed late today and ruling family placed in peril.

LISBON, Oct. 5.—The capital is now completely in the hands of the Republicans, who have formed a provisional government, with Theophile Braga as President. A new national flag of red and green is flying over all public buildings, including the town hall. This afternoon a proclamation was issued by the provisional government to the Portuguese people, announcing: "The people, army and navy have succeeded in proclaiming a republic. The Braganca dynasty, mischievous and disturbing to social peace, has been forever exiled from Portugal." King Manuel, with the Queen Mother Amelia and his grandmother, the Queen Dowager Maria Pia, has taken refuge at Mafra, 23 miles from Lisbon. Already the Spanish Minister, in full uniform, has called to pay his respects to the Republican leaders. Casualties Not Known. It is impossible to estimate the number of those killed or wounded in yesterday's fighting, but it is expected to reach several hundred. The city has been considerably damaged by the bombardment of insurgent warships. The buildings occupied by the Ministries around the Praça do Comercio and the Necessidades Palace were made the particular targets and today show broken walls and turrets. The tower of the church attached to the palace was demolished. Thus far, however, no attack has been made upon private property and it is reported that the banks are being guarded by blue jackets. No word has been received from the province, as communication has been largely cut off, and dispatches and messages of all kinds have been suppressed. Firing Is Intense. All through the night artillery fire was incessant and toward dawn it increased in intensity. At 11 o'clock last night insurgents encamped on the Heights of Avenida de Liberdade tried to force their way to the center of the city, but were driven back by loyal troops. As the latter passed the barracks of the First Artillery, they discovered that it was in the hands of the rebels. They charged the civilians and dislodged them, inflicting considerable loss. The night firing was carried on in complete darkness, the electric lights having failed. Reils Leads Insurgents. The insurgents were led by the retired Admiral Carlos Reis. Their forces were augmented by desertions from the forces of the monarchists. The inhabitants today paraded the streets, most of them carrying rifles, singing the Portuguese Marseillaise, which has now become the national anthem. Red Cross ambulances, police and men from the fire brigade are patrolling the streets and removing the dead and wounded. Old Flag Torn Down. The revolutionists raided all buildings (Continued on Page 2.)

HEARST'S COHORTS REJECT MANDATE

INDEPENDENCE LEAGUERS PUT UP STRAIGHT TICKET.

New York State Convention Refuses to Indorse Republican Ticket as Shearn Desires.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Contrary to the wishes of Clarence J. Shearn, one of W. R. Hearst's lieutenants, the Independence League in state convention, voted to nominate tonight a straight ticket and not to indorse the Republican ticket. The vote was 217 to 24. John J. Hopper, state chairman, and William P. Hearst were duly chosen to lead the ticket respectively for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, and the convention adjourned until Friday, to give time for discussion as to the rest of the ticket. The platform, after stating that it is the duty of the party to deal a crushing blow to Murphy's scheme to Tammanyize New York State, declares for direct nominations for every elective officer, for the initiative and referendum and recall, and calls for a plebiscite on a constitutional amendment granting woman suffrage in New York. After the platform was adopted, Mr. Shearn introduced a resolution that the convention decide whether to nominate a straight ticket or to indorse the Republican ticket. Rev. Ivan M. Jacobs of Syracuse begged the convention to help the upstate people defeat the Democratic ticket and said that the best way to do it was by nominating a straight ticket.

NEW ANESTHETIC IS TRIED. Stovaine Used in Operation at Spokane, While Patient Watches. SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 5.—(Special.)—The first operation to be performed in Spokane with the new anesthetic, stovaine, took place Tuesday at St. Luke's Hospital. For 45 minutes Dr. S. E. Lambert operated upon Guy Lemson, a cook, 49 years old, for varicose veins, one of the most painful operations known to surgery. During all of this time the patient was conscious, exchanged words with the surgeons gathered about, and occasionally watched the progress of the operation. Below the chest he had no feeling. He would not have known that he was being touched but for the witness of his eyes. The administering of the new anesthetic was in the nature of a demonstration by Dr. C. E. Parsons, of Denver.

WRONG NAME GIVEN DEAD

Error Discovered When Friends Seek to Console "Widow."

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 5.—(Special.)—Under the name of W. S. Oliver, the body of Oliver P. Skoyne, killed in the railroad yards last evening, was held at the Hoeka-Buckley-King Morgue until today where sympathetic friends began telephoning condolences to Oliver's wife. Then an investigation was made and the error was discovered. Skoyne was working on a freight train that was being made up at 8 o'clock last night, and was coupling the air hose between two cars, when the train jolted suddenly, and he was caught beneath the wheels. His legs were cut off above the knees. When fellow-trainmen found him he was still alive and an effort was made to rush him to the hospital, but he died on the way. By some error, he was identified as Oliver.

TROUT TRIP FISHERMEN

Fish So Numerous in Riffles It Is Risky to Wade In.

GRESHAM, Or., Oct. 5.—(Special.)—Salmon trout fishing in the Sandy River is the leading sport just now. The fish have been running in great schools, in such numbers that fishermen wading in the riffles were thrown of their feet. At the falls, near the mouth of Bull Run River, the fish were so thick that they were pulled out by dozens. George Moulton and Oscar Carlson, on Sunday, brought home a wagon load, which they "mangled" by means of a hook on a throw line. At almost every cast fish would be hooked and dragged ashore. Settlers are waiting large quantities for winter use.

SULU SULTAN COMING BACK

Filipino Hopes to Make Annual Tour to United States.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—The Sultan of Sulu, with his retinue of aides and servants, sailed for his island home today on the United States Army transport Sherman. Before leaving he expressed himself as amazed and delighted with what he had seen since leaving the Philippines, and said he would make an annual visit to this country if possible.

Turmoil in Portugal Pleases Carlists and Republicans.

FRONTIER IS ANIMATED

General Weyler Is Hurrying Troops to Radicals' Strongholds, Against Uprising on Anniversary of Execution of Ferrer.

PARIS, Oct. 5.—(Special.)—The Sud express train reached Paris tonight minus its Lisbon section. Crowds awaited its arrival, hoping to get news of the outbreak. Members of the Portuguese legation were among those disappointed. Travelers from Spain say that Bilbao and Barcelona, Spain, are in a state of effervescence. Republicans and Carlists are following the trend of revolution with undisguised satisfaction. General Weyler, Captain-General of Catalonia, has taken stringent measures to preserve order. He is hurrying troops to Republican and Carlist strongholds, where an outbreak is feared on October 13, the anniversary of the execution of Ferrer.

MAN HELD BY COAT TAIL

Door Closes, Catching Clothing Until Two Policemen Free Him.

The services of two policemen were required last night to release James Donaldson, a salesman registered at the Hotel Rhenolphiz, when his coat tail became caught in the large oaken doors of the liquor store of Penney-Hickman Company, 287 First street at 12:20 o'clock this morning. As Donaldson passed through the front door, it slammed upon the coat, holding Donaldson fast. After tugging with his moored coat-tail, Donaldson called loudly to the employee inside who failed to hear his cries. Policeman Thatcher, however, found the prisoner tugging at his plumed garment. Upon investigation the policeman found it was not advisable to cut the coat tail. He telephoned Donaldson's prearranged headquarters, and Sergeant Kiehl was sent to the scene. Borrowing a tool from a street-cleaning gang, the police pried the door apart far enough to free Donaldson.

THE DYNAMITERS.

SEATTLE, Oct. 5.—Sheriff Frank Barnett, of Alameda County, Cal., telegraphed today asking that Lavern Nichols, alias Tommy Lee, alias Hand-and-a-Half Kelly, be held for attempted murder of Barnett last summer. Nichols died last night in the City Hospital from bullet wounds inflicted earlier in the day by an unknown person, supposed to be a woman with whom Nichols was infatuated, but whom Nichols refused to accuse, even when he knew he was lying. Besides the two bullet wounds that caused his death, Nichols carried scars of four pistol wounds inflicted by Sheriff Barnett, and one where a woman shot him sometime ago. Nichols was caught cracking a safe at Niles, Cal., by Sheriff Barnett, who shot him. After his release from prison he tried to murder Barnett and fled North.

BUSINESS MEN IN PEKIN

Representatives of Coast Chambers of Commerce Are Welcomed.

PEKIN, Oct. 5.—The Delegation of American business men, representatives of Chambers of Commerce on the Pacific Coast, arrived here today. They were cordially received at every stopping place from Shanghai to Pekin, and in each instance were tendered a banquet by the Viceroy and members of the Provincial Assembly. An elaborate programme of entertainment here has been planned. It includes an imperial audience, and the first dinner to be given by the members of the new Imperial Senate.

IMMIGRANT TIDE TO TURN TO COAST

President Hill's Party Passes Day Here.

COLONIZATION PLAN OUT

Minnesota Business Men Predict Great Future.

OREGON IN LINE FOR AID

Great Northern Road Head Brings Dozen Capitalists Here to Gain Knowledge of Business Conditions in Northwest.

Twelve prominent business men of St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth, headed by Louis W. Hill, president of the Great Northern Railway, arrived in Portland yesterday on a tour of the Northwest, inaugurated for the purpose of gaining a better knowledge of business conditions and the development under way in this section of the country. The visitors have come West with the warmest expressions of friendship for Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana, and with encouragement for any colonization plan that will turn immigrants from Canada to the sparsely settled portions of the Western United States. Good Feeling Created. On the way westward they have helped boost the good feeling between different sections. For example, in Helena, Mont., a large delegation was carried on their train to Kallispel. At Kallispel another big party was made up and taken through to Spokane. At each important stop the visitors have made journeys into the country and over the interurban lines, gaining as complete a knowledge as possible of the resources that are awaiting further development. "I have been trying for three years to induce a party of our prominent business men to come to the Pacific Northwest on a trip of this kind," said President Hill yesterday. "We have had several excursions of the kind into Montana, but this is the first that has come so far West. "All of the men in the party have business relations in this section and they are interested in seeing a greater advancement and the promotion of friendly relations with the business men of Oregon. "Our exploitation plans are promising great results for Oregon," replied Mr. Hill to a question. "Our first exhibit was opened at the state fair at Columbus, O. Last year the average number of visitors to the Great Northern exhibit there was about 500 each day. This year it was 5000. In Pittsburg, where we have opened exhibit rooms, we have been showing to 10,000 persons daily. Interest in the Western States is ten times as great as it was one year ago."

NO CONSTRUCTION PLANS OUT

Mr. Hill said that he had no construction plans to announce. "It is simply a question of money," he (Concluded on Page 4.)

$7,000,000 BONDS FIND NO TAKERS

NEW ORLEANS PAPER NOT IN DEMAND AS EXPECTED.

City's Financial Interests Stirred Up and Recriminations Fly Between Bank and City.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 5.—(Special.)—The failure of the city to receive a bid for its $7,000,000 sewerage and drainage bond issue yesterday has stirred up local financial quarters, and John J. Gannon, president of the Iberian Bank & Trust Company, will stoutly deny that he broke faith with Mayor Behrman or City Attorney Moore, as they charge. It is now claimed that city officials were warned that the bank would not take the bond issue and tie up so much money in that way. As a result there is general disappointment. In an editorial today the Times-Democrat declared that New Orleans cannot turn back at this stage of her great municipal improvement and that the great work of sewerage and draining the city must not stop because the bond issue, with which it was intended to complete the work, has failed to sell. The paper declares that short-term certificates could be issued, and advises that a special session of the Legislature be called at once to pass the necessary legislation legalizing such certificates. It is contended that $3,500,000 would do the immediate work.

CHILDREN BITTEN BY DOG

Canine Runs Amuck and Terrorizes Spokane Residents Until Shot.

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 5.—(Special.)—The entire neighborhood in the vicinity of the East End Pharmacy, Sprague avenue, was in terror for several hours this morning of an apparently mad dog. At least four persons were bitten by the canine, which is a large bull terrier. Dozens of people were forced to flee to safety before the dog was finally shot. Little Nellie Love, aged 5 years, was attacked by the dog and a finger on her right hand bitten through to the bone. At an early hour this morning the dog attacked a laborer and inflicted several severe bites on his hand. Later several school children were chased by the beast and several of these are said to have received minor bites. For three hours the dog ran amuck, terrorizing the entire neighborhood. Officers were called and, after a fight, during which several shots were fired into the dog by special officers of the Washington Water Power Company and Patrolman Berto, peace was restored. Physicians are endeavoring to determine if the dog was mad and if there is a possibility of hydrophobia developing in the cases of those bitten.

FOUR NEPHEWS DIE IN YEAR

Portland Man Goes to Seattle to Bury Drowned Relative.

Four nephews to die in a year is grief O. P. Graham, of Portland, is facing, and he is now at Seattle in connection with the funeral of the last unfortunate, who lost his life through the swamping of a launch. During the summer the dead man's brother was burned to death on a launch, while transferring gasoline from another craft, near Seattle. Less than a year ago another nephew, also named Graham, was drowned on the Lower Columbia, while trying to save a tank of gasoline that fell on a boom of logs from the launch "Wander." A nephew, named Rogers, who was employed as a diver when the steamer Geo. W. Elder was on the rocks, near Reuben, lost his life several months ago while working in a logging camp. A number of years ago a fifth nephew, then a child, was drowned at Kalama.

DEATH BEATS TELEGRAPH

Wire for Arrest of Man for Attempted Murder Is Too Late.

SEATTLE, Oct. 5.—Sheriff Frank Barnett, of Alameda County, Cal., telegraphed today asking that Lavern Nichols, alias Tommy Lee, alias Hand-and-a-Half Kelly, be held for attempted murder of Barnett last summer. Nichols died last night in the City Hospital from bullet wounds inflicted earlier in the day by an unknown person, supposed to be a woman with whom Nichols was infatuated, but whom Nichols refused to accuse, even when he knew he was lying. Besides the two bullet wounds that caused his death, Nichols carried scars of four pistol wounds inflicted by Sheriff Barnett, and one where a woman shot him sometime ago. Nichols was caught cracking a safe at Niles, Cal., by Sheriff Barnett, who shot him. After his release from prison he tried to murder Barnett and fled North.

BURNS AND POLICE WORK IN SECRET

Times Assassins' Capture Believed Sure.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 5.—In keeping with his declaration that the utmost secrecy would be maintained, detective William J. Burns, assisted by the Los Angeles police department, is making an Arsene Lupin mystery story of the man hunt for the conspirators, who destroyed the Times Building with dynamite or nitro-glycerine last Saturday morning. Burns came back to this city openly today and brought with him Detectives Ryan and Bonner of San Francisco's Detective Department. It is believed here that the men who carried out the plot to wreck the Times plant, and attempted to destroy the homes of General Harrison Gray Otis and of F. J. Zeehandelaar, were expert quartz miners from the gold districts of Northern California. This assumption is based on the fact that the men who purchased the dynamite from the Giant Powder Works used the names of J. L. Bryson, the Placer County miner, and that of his neighbor, Morris, and it is supposed that the detectives at work in the North are trying to trace them back to the mining districts. Burns is in charge of the hunt for the conspirators. He has been in charge since Sunday, when he was called into the case at a conference between Mayor Moore, Alexander, Chief of Police Galloway and a number of other city officials. Upon his arrival this morning, Burns displayed a degree of temper over the publicity that has been given the movement of the men engaged in the man-hunt. Burns said that the giving out of information would be stopped at once. All Burns would say was that "the criminals who blew up the Times and its men last Saturday left tracks that are both wide and deep, and we shall certainly get them." But by what was learned prior to the detectives' arrival, it is practically certain that the searchers are working on the supposition that the explosive was brought to Los Angeles in suit cases. The aggregate reward of $100,000, Mayor Alexander said today, was too large. His comment was elicited by the suggestion that still greater rewards should be offered. City Is Calm Again. The city has resumed its usual calm. The overwrought feeling evident directly after the disaster Saturday has subsided. But the precautionary measures taken have not been relaxed in the slightest degree. Instead, the Council, by means of another emergency ordinance passed today, added 50 policemen to the force by a resolution adopted Monday. Guard is still maintained about the homes of persons who have had part in recent labor disputes and about buildings where strikes have been in progress for some time. Another body was recovered from the Times ruins today. It was identified as Grant Moore, a lecturer operating on the body was uncovered near one of the exits of the wrecked building. It was in a kneeling position and the flesh of the dead man had hardly been scorched. He had been suffocated. The finding of Moore's body brings the total of bodies recovered up to 16, and the known dead, including Churchill Harvey Elder, to 17. Coroner Hartevel said today he was certain there were seven more bodies in the ruins. Crane Removes Debris. Moore's body was the 16th recovered from the ruins. A big steam crane is now at work lifting the iron and steel wreckage and more bodies probably will be taken out within a few hours. Five or six more are believed to be still in the ruins. Charles Lovelace, the Times' suburban editor, who was injured when he jumped out of a window to escape the fire, is rapidly recovering. Fred Campbell, the fireman injured, and William Latta, one of the injured Times employees, are also reported as progressing nicely. Burns declared that the Los Angeles police department, under the direction of Chief of Police Galloway, has been doing excellent work. "An investigation such as this demands horse sense, not false whiskers," he said, "and Mr. Galloway has plenty of horse sense. There is nothing to support the belief that a man has to be trained to police work to accomplish anything in the detective line. Hence we are getting valuable aid from the Los Angeles department. It has been doing great work."
