Through the gilt-edged pitching of Vean Gregg, who twirled in both games against Sacramento yesterday, Portland increased its hold on first place in the Pacific Coast League race.

There was little to either game outside of the pitching of Gregg, who was always in evidence in the pinches, and was especially effective after he had caused himself trouble through his wildness.

Olson was the first mud-splattered Beaver to face "Fah Rah" Byram in the third canto, and Byram failed to get the proper range, so Olson walked.

The second engagement was commenced ten minutes after the first, and the umpire Finney announced that five innings would be played.

San Francisco and Visitors Break Even in Doubleheader.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.—After San Francisco had taken the empty end of a 4 to 0 score at Oakland in the morning, the team came back in the afternoon winning in an exhibition of baseball that was errorless, fast and snappy.

Los Angeles Has Been Easy.

So far this season Portland has played 30 games with Los Angeles and has won 14 of them. Some of the California scribes attempt to discredit Portland's winning propensities by asserting that the Beavers have had easy picking with Sacramento, but they neglect to point to the record against Los Angeles.

28 Games to Be Played.

Oakland has two sets of games yet to play with San Francisco. Beginning tomorrow Wolverton's Oaks meet the Seals in a series of eight games, and these clubs wind up the season with a series of seven games from November 1 to 5 inclusive.

10-Round Bout Is Exciting.

ASTORIA, Or., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—The 10-round boxing match at the Astoria Theater last evening between Jess Day, of Maryland, and Otto Berg, of Fort Stevens, will result in a draw, was one of the bestistic exhibitions ever witnessed locally.

Severe Test Comes Next Week.

This means that McCredie's Beavers will have to gain a goodly margin on the Oaks this week, if they may keep the lead by doing a little better than break even on the three week's trip to the southland.

Rival Leading Teams Have 28 Games Each to Play—Next Week's Series with Seals Will Be Critical for Beavers.

With one more week of baseball on the home lot, during which the Portland team will play seven games with Philadelphia's Los Angeles aggregation, providing the weather is favorable, the fans of Portland have hope of entertaining a championship team when the boys return next Spring.

MAK'S PITCHERS DO NOT AWE CUBS

Chance Does Not Like Comment That Athletics' Twirlers Are Better Than His.

PHILADELPHIA SPIES OUT

American League Manager Is Said to Have Pitchers Following Cubs to Learn Signals of National League Champions

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—(Special.)—Manager Frank Chance of the Cubs, champions of the National League, three times world's champions, is somewhat peeved by the constant comment of critics that the Athletics may win the world series because they have a superior pitching staff.

Many who have compared the two clubs have conceded the Cubs almost every essential point excepting the twirlers.

They don't deny Chance has a strong catching department, a fast outfield and an infield equally good, but they think the Athletics will win because Connie Mack has pitchers who will be able to hold their opponents down to a few hits and possibly no runs and thereby carry off the coveted honors.

Because Mordecai Brown did not pitch in 40 games this season and win 35, no one should say he has not been in his excellent condition. The same applies to Reulbach and Overall. The Cubs neither has shown as brightly as Coombs, Cole, Ford or Bender, but they have done enough to leave Manager Chance no worry about the world's series.

When he is not worrying about his pitching staff, it can be taken for granted, Chance says, that the Cubs will go into the contest in every department. Manager Chance admits his men have not done well lately.

Ed Reulbach was ill for more than half the season and Overall's arm was hurt. Pfeister's arm also was hurt. Brown was good, but not as good as many thought he should be. But Chance declares he and Krause and Morgan have done well, and he is confident they will give a good account of themselves in the series.

Cubs Are Prepared.

The Cubs have faced pitchers who have twirled just as good ball as Coombs or Bender, he says, and have beaten them; therefore they are not worrying about how powerful or effective Coombs will be with his curve or Bender with his speed. They hit both and are prepared for the hottest fire.

Mordecai Brown is the greatest pitcher who ever stepped into shoe leather. Talk about Mathewson, Brown is his superior in every department.

The above statements were made by George Huff, big scout for the Cubs, for Huff is admitted by all the magnates who know him to be the greatest judge of ball players in the country.

Scouting out ends to learn if possible the signs used by players about to meet in the world's series is no unusual thing. Captain Frank Chance, of the Cubs, does not believe in this kind of work and no one has ever accused the peerless leader of taking advantage of an opponent of the ball field.

Manager Mack, of the Athletics, is known as a past-master of this kind of work and has in Bender, Davis and Hartzel, three of the cleverest men in business in disguising the signals met by opposing teams, and it was no surprise when word went down the line that Bender was following the Cubs about his big scout for the Cubs for the New York Giants and weeks before met in 1906 McGraw had scouts looking over the work of the Athletics and Christy Mathewson was in a position to make himself of at least two of the Quakers' heavy hitters with an outburst about knee-high.

WRESTLERS READY FOR FRAY

Dodan Singh Expects to Defeat Eddie O'Connell.

Dodan Singh put on the finishing touches to his training yesterday afternoon before a large crowd of wrestling fans in Astoria, according to word sent from the city by the sea last night.

Speaking of the match the Hindu said: "I will not stay the hour without a fall, but I will beat O'Connell at his own game. He may be a good wrestler, but I am just as good, besides being bigger and stronger." Mr. Bolle was a good wrestler, but Gama, my country.

DETROIT, 2; CHICAGO, 1.
