

CHIEF PUBLICISTS FOR DEMOCRATS

Republicans Slighted in Argument for Nonpartisan Judiciary.

TWO PICTURES PRESENTED

Illustrations Are Those of Slater and King, Both Democrats—Republicans File Arguments for Entire State Ticket.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—Another instance which convinces local politicians that the plan for a non-political judiciary is non-political only as far as the Democrats are concerned, developed today when cuts were brought in to accompany the non-political judiciary argument for Supreme Justice and the only cuts which were furnished for the pamphlet were those of Woodson T. Slater and Will R. King. Both of the men are Democrats. In the body of the argument, the names of Frank A. Moore and Edwin A. McBride are mentioned several times, but Slater and King are given all the preference, inasmuch as the argument contains sketches complimentary to those two candidates, while on the other hand but the barest mention is made personally of the Republican candidates.

The Republican Central Committee has filed arguments for the entire state ticket and against the so-called non-political judiciary plan. The arguments for the Central Committee will take up the full quota of 24 pages allowed by law. Cuts will be shown of A. W. Lafferty and Willis C. Hawley, candidates for Congress; Jay Bowerman, candidate for Governor; Frank W. Benson, candidate for Secretary of State; Henry J. Bean and George E. Burnett, candidates for the Supreme Bench; Willis S. Dunaway, candidate for State Printer; Ole P. Hoff, candidate for Labor Commissioner and R. F. Jones, candidate for Circuit Judge from the Second district.

The Democratic party will also have an argument and cuts will be shown for Oswald West, candidate for Governor; Turner Oliver, candidate for Secretary of State; Hugh McLain, candidate for Railroad Commissioner; R. G. Smith and John Manning, candidates for Congress; W. L. Bradshaw, candidate for Circuit Judge from the Seventh district.

The Socialist party will have a page in the pamphlet. This party will mix poetry with politics somewhat, as the men on the state ticket will be named in rhyme, presumably the product of R. R. Ryan, of Salem, candidate for the Supreme Bench.
