

BOWERMAN SHOWS COST OF NORMALS

Nominee in Pendleton Insists Schools Be Divorced From Politics.

DEFINITE STAND TAKEN

If People Vote Increased Number, He as Governor Will Obey Commands—Loathing for Senator Bourne Expressed.

BOWERMAN NEVER RODE ON PASS, COLLECTING MILEAGE.

PENDLETON, Or., Oct. 13.—(Special.)—Jay Bowerman, nominee for Governor of Oregon on the Republican ticket, made the following signed statement today:

"The statement in the Portland Journal to effect that I rode on pass and collected mileage in 1907, 1908, and the special session is an unqualified falsehood. I do not remember what mileage I have collected and cannot give the amount without consulting the records at Salem, but do know I have never traveled on a pass and charged the state with travel pay, and have collected only the amount allowed by the state constitution."

"JAY BOWERMAN."

PENDLETON, Or., Oct. 13.—(Special.)—A thoroughly reunited Republican party, strengthened by a strong addition of Democrats, is the result of the visit today to Pendleton of Jay Bowerman, Republican nominee for Governor. Mr. Bowerman, spoke to an audience of 700 at the County Courthouse tonight. More than 200 were turned away, failing to find room.

Judge Stephen A. Lowell, who strongly opposed Mr. Bowerman's nomination in the primary campaign, was the chairman of the meeting and he paid tribute to the Condon man—a tribute to his manliness, his honesty, political and otherwise, and his courage.

This tribute was added to by Representative Ellis, who declared: "We can defy anyone to point to anything in his record that could stultify his manhood."

Schools Not Political.

Mr. Bowerman defined his attitude with regard to the normal schools. He said he had taken the attitude he had in order to take the schools out of politics. He said he did not appear as an apologist. He spoke of the four former normal schools and declared that not a single one of them had measured up to the standard of a normal school in any other state. "Not one," he asserted, "taught all the branches that should be taught in normal schools."

When Mr. Bowerman asserted that in the last year of the normals each graduate in one of them, in his senior year, cost the state $12,500 and that the total demanded by the normals for the year was $318,000, there was a long whistle of amazement. But from that moment the enthusiasm of the audience manifested towards him left no question as to its entire sympathy and accord with his views.

Logrolling is Practiced.

"However, this was not the worst feature of the schools," Mr. Bowerman went on. "The normal school representatives in the House and Senate banded themselves together to vote only for appropriations for counties whose representatives would support the normal schools. Thus the normals were continually digging deeper into the state's pockets, and if a man wanted to secure an appropriation for his district he was compelled to support the schools."

Bourne's Ends Defeated.

He paid his respects to Jonathan Bourne. He said he despised Bourne as a man and loathed him as a politician. "Mr. Bourne undertook to tell you when you shall do this or that. He now tells you these are my wishes, these my commands."

"His last command was to order you to vote for me. Since then I have advocated Mr. Bourne's retirement by the vote of Oregon. Bourne wants to make use of the office of Governor for his next campaign. He knows he can't do it if I am the Governor's chair."

Mr. Bowerman explained his attitude with regard to Statement No. 1 and the direct primary law. He said that he would veto any attempt to amend or amend them. He said that he was before the people, not as an assembly candidate nor as an anti-assembly candidate, but as the nominee of the Republican party.

Democratic Candidates Speak.

LA GRANDE, Or., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—Oswald West, of Salem; Hugh McLain and Turner Oliver, of La Grande, candidates for Governor, Supreme Judge, Railroad Commissioner and Secretary of State, respectively, on the Democratic ticket, returned tonight from a two days' trip through Walla Walla and Union counties. Each spoke ten times on the trip.

OREGON CITY TO HAVE RALLY

Bowerman Meeting Will Be Presided Over by Former Opponent.

OREGON CITY, Or., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—Jay Bowerman, Republican nominee for Governor, is scheduled to speak in Oregon City Monday evening, October 24, at the Shiloh Opera House, and nothing will be left undone by the Republicans of this county to give the candidate a cordial welcome.

CAMPAIGN SLANDER TRACED

Ferdinand Reed Circulates Cards Attacking Bowerman.

Anonymous campaign cards put out by the thousands and in direct violation of the corrupt practices law may result in one or more arrests. The subject is to be brought to the attention of the District Attorney's office at once.

Publicans of this county to give the candidate a cordial welcome.

The officers of the Republican State Central Committee have invited Judge G. B. Dimick to preside at the meeting, and he has consented to do so. Mr. Bowerman will be accompanied to this city by Dan J. Malachuk, Republican nominee for Joint Senator from Multnomah, Clackamas and Columbia counties, and it is probable that other leading Republicans will be in attendance at the meeting. This will be the only meeting for the Republican candidate for Governor in Clackamas County.

PASSING TRAINS TRAP PEDESTRIAN

John Harvey, of Vancouver, Is Killed by Shasta Limited Near Felida.

COMPANION JUST ESCAPES

Wealthy Man Dodges Train, Steps in Front of Another—J. A. Munday Endangered in Attempt at Rescue Which Just Fails.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Oct. 13.—(Special.)—John Harvey, a prominent and wealthy citizen of Vancouver, was struck and instantly killed by a Shasta Limited train while standing beside the Northern Pacific tracks a half mile north of Felida at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The tragedy took place only a few moments after he had made a remark about the danger of being on the tracks. With him at the time was J. A. Munday, a prominent Vancouver attorney. Mr. Munday escaped death by a narrow margin and made a vain effort to rescue his companion.

John Harvey, Wealthy Vancouver Business Man, Killed by Train Near Felida Yesterday.

Mr. Harvey's death took place through his stepping from one track to avoid an approaching train, directly in front of another train coming from the opposite direction. Mr. Munday took up just in time to see the danger and jumped into the clear and grasped his companion, pulling him away from the path of the engine, but not far enough into the clear to keep him from being struck by the first coach of the train. A steep incline prevented both men from getting easily into the clear.

Train Comes Unawares.

"He walked to the line and I followed him. He turned toward me as he said, 'There comes the train,' and I replied, 'Let us give the trains all the room they want' and we moved promptly over towards the hill across the east track, and were, as we supposed, out of danger of the train. While we stood talking, he facing north and I east, the train we saw coming from the north passed us. I had looked south on the track to see the other train was not coming and as the southbound train passed I turned towards Mr. Harvey and instantly saw the engine of the northbound train coming with immense rapidity. I seized Mr. Harvey by the arm and shouted, 'Look out, John,' pulling him away from the engine and, too, but the first car caught him on the shoulder and wrenched him away from my hold and buried him many feet up the track.

"On rushing to where he was lying I found him dreadfully crushed, but hoping there was still some life, started shouting to Mr. Dobbin's house, near by, for help. In the mean time the train passed us and put the body in the baggage car. They told me it was not possible to back the train to Felida, as there was no train that stopped there at any reasonable hour, so the body was taken to Ridgefield."

Woman Was Bought by Daniel Delaney, Dalles Murder Victim. Buried Treasure Her Secret.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—Mrs. Rachel Brooks, 90 years of age and believed to be the last of the negro slave women coming to Oregon, died here yesterday.

Mrs. Brooks came to Oregon in 1842, accompanying the Delaney family to The Dalles. Daniel Delaney was her master, and she was with him when Delaney was murdered by Beal and Baker, January 8, 1865. Beal and Baker were hanged in a large grove near the city, their being the first execution ever witnessed in Marion County, and thousands of people from all over the Willamette Valley thronged to see them pay the penalty for their crime.

After the Delaney family reached The Dalles, Mrs. Brooks, with the family, was floated down the Columbia River in a wagon box. Delaney purchased Rachel Brooks as a slave girl, paying $1000 for her. In the early '60s she claimed her freedom, and was married twice since.

She said she knew where a large amount of treasure was buried near the Delaney home near Turner, but never divulged her secret. Delaney was murdered on the supposition that he was one of the wealthiest men in Oregon. If this supposition was true, his wealth was never found, and there are many who believe that the negro's story of buried treasure is correct.

ATHENA POSTMASTER DIES

ATHENA, Or., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—Postmaster Githens, who has been ill for several weeks with Bright's disease, died at his home Tuesday morning. He leaves four daughters, one of whom is in the East, and funeral arrangements are postponed to await word from her.

Cottolene

The way to healthful cooking is to start right—with Cottolene.

Cottolene-cooked food agrees with one because Cottolene contains not an ounce of hog fat—it is a vegetable instead of an animal product. Its wholesomeness and purity are vouched for by Nature. Cottolene is "the fat from the flower."

All the country's best cooks—Mrs. Mary J. Lincoln, Mrs. Sarah Tyson Rorer, Mrs. Helen Armstrong, Marion Harland, Lida Ames Willis, and a dozen others of national reputation—recommended Cottolene in preference to lard or any other medium for frying and shortening.

Isn't the testimony of such experts worth something to you?

Order a pail of Cottolene from your grocer to-day and learn why it "shortens your food—lengthens your life."
