Republican Committee Shows "Hobo" Trip Made After Equipment Ordered.

GLORY NOT DUE CLAIMED

Democratic Candidate for Governor Said to Be Allied With Bourne and Chamberlain for Railroad Interests.

Friends of Oswald West, Railroad Commissioner and Democratic nominee for Governor, have industriously circulated the report among the West Side counties that he compelled the Southern Pacific Company virtually to rebuild its Portland-Corvailis line. Investigating this matter, the Republican state committee has ascertained that the railroad company had ordered the material for this improvement and part of the equipment had been delivered over a year before West made his much-advertised "hobo" trip over that part of the company's system.

That the public may be made ac-quainted with the facts in connection with the rebuilding of the West Side railroad, the state committee yesterday issued the following statement in the form of a bulletin for general distri-porations had an understanding with Governor Chamberlain when West was made Railroad Commissioner? If they did not, does any one suppose that the power of the corporations would be exerted in elevating the Governor to the Senstorship if he had made an appointment so adverse to them as West and his friends would have us believe?

"The Bournecratic machine is charg-"The Bournecratic machine is charging that Acting Governor Bowerman is the candidate of the corporations, and it is 'considered that this is 'good politics' to pour upon Bowerman all the odium that attaches to a corporation tool without the Republican candidate receiving any benefit. As a matter of fact the corporations are taking but little part in the campaign, as far as we are able to ascertain, but that little is in the interest of West's candidacy. At the same time West and his friends are falsely accusing Mr. Bowerman of being aided by corporations.

"Hobo Trip" Is Buncombe.

"West and his friends make much of his 'hobo trip from Corvailis to Portland for the purpose of personally inspecting the railroad." This was 'played up' in a spectacular manner with meiodramatic effect at every station along the route where West stopped and harangued the populace on the manner in which the railroads were imposing on them. West told them that he would force the railroad company to make travel safe even if he compelled them 'v rhually to rebuild the compelled to the compelled them 'v rhually to rebuild the c

"The State Commission under date of February 28, 1908, made an exhaustive report signed by all three commissioners. One paragraph of the report is: In 1908 traffic conditions appeared to justify heavier rails on this division. Accordingly 50 miles of 75-pound rails were ordered for delivery in the year 1907, which it was contemplated would be laid on this division between Beaverton and McCoy. The frogs, fastenings, tie plates and larger ties are now on the ground. The laying of this heavier steel will practically necessitate a reconstruction of the roadbed and involves ballasting the track and strengthening of bridges where necessary to support heavier equipment and traffic. We recommend that the relaying of this track with heavier steel be proceeded with steadily secording to the plans outlined by the general su-

In many instances, notably Cottage Grove and Gaston, has the actual order of building been forestalled while awaiting the return of the plans from the head offlice at New York, and some of head office at New York, and some of the people of those and other localities have been fooled into believing that T did tt. "Thus are the 'goods delivered, all the time having in view the gathering of material to use in the campaign in 'fooling' as large a part of the people as possible.

We have now 17,000 members, and the time is coming soon when we shall need a place where we can take care of old and helpless members, the same as the Oddfellows are doing here. I am not familiar enough with the project to explain just what the final plan will be, except that it will cover the entire state, and that a large tract of land will be secured for cultivation.

Open War Between County and State Committee Just Averted by Cooler Heads, Who Prevent Introduction of Scathing Resolution.

Cooler judgment, exercised at the last minute, alone prevented the introduction at the meeting of the Democratic Counat the meeting of the Democratic County Central Committee Saturday night of a resolution which would have materially widened the breach between the state and county organizations of that party. It was learned yesterday that one of the nominees on the Democratic ticket in this county went to the Saturday night meeting with such a resolution in his pocket, but concluded, just before the meeting convened, not to take the action which would surely aggravate an already inharmonious condition that has passed the reconciliation stage.

While it was impossible yesterday to obtain a copy of the proposed resolution, it is known to have been a most drastic one. It recited in plain and uncompromising language the fact that the members of the state computing in conmembers of the state committee, in con-ducting a one-man campaign in behalf of West for Governor, was guilty of party disloyalty in disregarding the other nominees on the ticket.

The unquestioned political partnership

Inability of the county and repudiation. Inability of the county and legislative candidates to obtain the same editorial support and indoraement West is receiving and the direct charge that this support for the head of the ticket was procured through the influence of the state committee without any consideration for the other candidates on the ticket, was the subject for further comment in the resolution that was withheld. The conclusion not to present the resolution, however, is not to be accepted as a sign that the dove of peace has returned to the Democratic camp in this county.
