

CRUCIAL GAME ON TODAY IN CHICAGO

Cubs' Slump May Be Checked at Home, Believes Fielder Jones.

JONES DUBIOUS OF BENDER

Famous White Sox Ballplayer Does Not Believe Indian Can Pitch Another Game Like First. Cubs' Chances Good.

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—(Special.)—With Connie Mack's American League champions two games to the good and Frank Chance's National League top liners as many contests to the bad, the scene of the world's championship struggle shifts tomorrow from Philadelphia to Chicago. There is much significance to be attached to the fact that it may mean an evening-up of the accounts between the two clubs.

What name is to be emblazoned on the world's pennant at the end of the series will depend largely upon the outcome of tomorrow's game. The Cubs need the decision and need it badly if they expect to remain in the running for premier honors.

On the other hand, if the Athletics continue their triumphant march through the narrow lanes of Cubs' hopes and make it three straight, nothing but a miracle will be able to turn the flood tide in favor of the Chicago club.

It would mean the titanic task of winning four straight games from a baseball machine which, in the two contests already played, has shown marvelous form in nearly every position. Tomorrow's game should prove the crucial one in the series as far as the Cubs are concerned.

It practically will be "Custer's last stand" for Chance and his men. Back to back, figuratively speaking, and facing a victory-flashed team that has humbled two of their box stars, they must play the game as they have never played it before, if they would triumph over the invaders.

Switching the games from Globe Park to the Cubs' home diamond gives a distinct advantage to Chance's club. The Cubs know the lay of the land perfectly and are familiar with every inch of turf on the West Side lot. In Philadelphia they are "strangers in a strange land" so to speak.

There is no denying the fact that the Cubs are full of confidence in spite of their present handicap. On their own grounds and before their own crowd, they fully expect to overcome the pair of defeats administered during the short but disastrous invasion of the Quaker stronghold.

Slump May Be Checked. Certain it is that the Cubs did not play anywhere up to their usual form in the two games, and it may be that the slump will be checked tomorrow. They are famed for their ability to come "from behind." On their own grounds and before their own crowd, they fully expect to overcome the pair of defeats administered during the short but disastrous invasion of the Quaker stronghold.

It is curious to note the natural change that has come about in the attitude of the Cubs since they left for the opening in Philadelphia. At that time the Athletics seemed to be held cheaply and the opinion seemed to prevail that the American League champions would be treated much as Detroit was in 1904. A few days ago they were suddenly considered as "the boys" and the Cubs were expected to win.

Overall has not pitched up to his usual form during the present season and when he was beaten in the opener it caused no great surprise. Brown's defeat was another proposition. Cub fans and their idol gathered by a terrific bombardment of Athletic hits and driven to the bench and naturally much of the confidence that has characterized the West Side bats cooled out.

While the bitter dregs of unexpected defeat have been the portion of the Cubs so far, they had luck which has ended, at least for the time being, on things that may turn the scale in their favor is the fact that the Athletics are expected to back their bats on their home grounds than they are on the road.

A championship cannot be conceded to any club until the final deciding game has been played. Following baseball were given a striking example of this assertion in the 1903 world's series between the Boston Americans and Pittsburgh Nationals. Pittsburgh won the first game and Boston took the second after which Pittsburgh came back and won the third and fourth. It was a nine game series and with the tally 2 to 1 Boston appeared to stand but a slim chance for the ring. However, the Cubs team repeated its form, won four straight and took the pennant.

I do not believe that Bender can be relied upon to pitch another game in the series that will give him near equal his exceptionally brilliant performance in the first one. I look for Mack to open his Chicago invasion with Coombs in case Bender is not ready to "come back" and I do not believe he will be.

HARVARD TEAM HARD PRESSED

Varsity Plays "All-Stars," Securing Only Six Points.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 19.—The Harvard varsity football eleven played a game at the Stadium today, with a team made up of former Harvard, Yale and Princeton football players styling

Saturday in this city, instead of the game regularly scheduled for Philadelphia on that date. Rain tomorrow therefore may mean there will be three games in succession played on the local grounds—Friday, Saturday and Sunday. This is certain should Chicago win one or both of the games Friday and Saturday.

MISS CAMPBELL GOLF LOSER Harriet S. Curtis, of Brookline Club, Bests Champion.

BOSTON, Oct. 19.—Miss Harriet S. Curtis of Brookline Country Club, former National champion, won a well-earned victory on her home green today in the invitation tournament of the Women's Golf Association of Boston, over Miss Dorothy Campbell of Hamilton, Ont., who won the American title at Chicago last week for the second time. Miss Campbell succumbed on the 7th green, which Miss Curtis reached on her second shot, winning by two up and one to play.

The campaign to collect funds to give Walter McCredie and his Portland Beavers a testimonial benefit if they win the Pacific Coast League pennant was started off with a vengeance yesterday, for the committee worked an hour yesterday and sold enough tickets to guarantee the raising of the sum desired by the time the big game is to be played here.

Several influential Portland merchants, who appreciate the big benefit a championship team would be to this city, have enlisted their aid in this movement, and are subscribing liberally to the proposition. The Beavers are doing yeoman service in this season's pennant race, and if the plans of the committee in charge of the reception fund meets with success the players will think they have been participating in a world's championship series.

Those who subscribed to the fund yesterday are as follows: Julius L. Meier, of Meier & Frank Company, $50; W. P. Lipman, of Lipman, Wolfe & Company, $10; Ben Selling, $10; Samuel Rosenblatt, $5; Morris Politz, $5; Hilberia Savings Bank, $5 and Portland Trust Company, $5.

When McCredie's team won the pennant in 1906 the citizens of Portland contributed a sum sufficient to present each member of the club with a banner to run over the plate, for the "some watch job," but this year it is proposed to do even better than that by the boys, principally because of the decision by Judge Graham, which rubs Portland of three games legitimately won.

Either Preisker or Reulbach is expected to pitch for the Cubs tomorrow and Cole Friday. Coombs or Plank may twirl today for Athletics.

Reulbach is confident. Reulbach declared tonight he was ready for the game tomorrow. He said that, having seen the Philadelphia team in action, he is confident of breaking up their winning streak. Reulbach has not pitched for a number of days and now is said to be Chance's choice. Assertions that many seats for the games here had been disposed of to scalpers were made at the hotels tonight, seats bringing as high as $15 and $20.

The total paid attendance for yesterday's game at Philadelphia was 24,987, and the total receipts were $25,127. The total attendance for the two days was 51,488, and the total receipts $73,561.50. The share of the players for the two days is $19,182.21.

According to the rules laid down by the National Commission, if a game is postponed or drawn, the teams will remain in Chicago until two games have been played. The rules also declare that the Sunday game, if a fifth game is necessary, shall be played in Chicago, regardless of all else. Thus, if it is impossible on account of the weather to play the game, it must be played on

RANKIN'S WORK TARGET

PORTLAND MAN'S UMPIRING DECLARED BAD BY ANGELS.

Orendorff Says Los Angeles' Rebel- lion Such as to Cause "Ump's" Transference to Bases.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 19.—(Special.)—Reports of rank umpiring on the part of Rankin, Portland's contribution to the Coast League staff of indicators, were quoted back from the North by the squalling Angels, who returned late last night.

The players declare that his work on balls and strikes was so bad in Wednesday's game that Castleton started to leave the box in disgust and was induced to resume work only after much persuasion on the part of the Los Angeles players.

"It was impossible to strike one of the Portland players out unless he swung at the ball," said Orendorff. "Castleton could not get the heart out of the plate, but no strike would be called unless the batter swung at it. But when we were at bat it was different. With two and three on me, Steen sent one up higher than my head and six inches outside the plate, and Rankin calmly called me out on strikes."

"After the inning I remonstrated with him and he explained that 'the bunch up there in the grand stand wants 'em if they are within six inches of the plate.' Now, what do you think of that? Called it a strike because 'the bunch in the grandstand' wanted it. Finally, the club rebelled and refused to play if Rankin was allowed to judge balls and strikes, and he was transferred to the bases."

HARVARD TEAM HARD PRESSED Varsity Plays "All-Stars," Securing Only Six Points.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 19.—The Harvard varsity football eleven played a game at the Stadium today, with a team made up of former Harvard, Yale and Princeton football players styling themselves "all stars," and won by the narrow margin of 6 to 0.

The members of the all-star team are all Harvard law students and, aside from their fumbling, they put up so strong a game that the Crimson men were unable to get across the goal, the only points being made on two goals from the field by Lewis.

Falling Hair

You Run No Risk When You Use This Remedy.

While many people in their prime doubt the assertion that "the hairs of our head are numbered," yet there is today many a man and woman fast reaching the point where this statement is literally brought home to them. If you suffer from irritation of the scalp, and from dandruff, or if your hair is falling out, do not wait until you reach the point where you can actually count how many hairs are left on your head.

Most cases of baldness are caused because the roots lack proper nutrition, as such cases there is a microbe which bores through the scalp along the line of the hair into the root and when it lodges there it begins to destroy the fatty matter around the hair roots, tatty matter already done by using "Revallol" Hair Tonic. It is a scientific, cleansing, antiseptic, germicidal preparation, that destroys microbes, stimulates good circulation around the hair roots, promotes hair nourishment, removes dandruff and restores hair health. It is as pleasant to use as pure water, and it is delicately perfumed. It is a real toilet necessity.

We want you to try Revallol "98" Hair Tonic with our promise that it will cost you nothing unless you are perfectly satisfied with its use. It comes in two sizes, price 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain it only at The Owl Drug Co., Inc., corner 7th and Washington Streets.
