> Purchase Stock - Eastern Papers Expose Deal.

What has become of J. Rufus Wallingsford? Or, to be more exact, the railroad promoters who operated along lines a-la-Wallingsford in the scheme of the Astoria, Seaside & Tillamook Railroad Company?

Residents of Asteria, Portland and other cities in Oregon would really like to know, yet they are not nearly as much interested in the peculations of the promoters as some 900 or 1000 bondholders and stockholders who have contributed in the aggregate the modest sum of $1,145,480 to the coffers of est sum of $1.145.480 to the coffers of the National Public Utilities Corporation, the parent corporation, of which the Astoria. Seaside & Tillamook Railroad Company is one of several promotions and of which John K. Tener. Republican candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania, is president.

Of the amount that has been generously subscribed to the stock of the corporation, only about $5000 is said to have been legitimately expended in surveys and preliminary work. What

The company was organized the lat-er part of last year by "Captain" T. R. Evans, who came to Oregon in the possession of credentials purporting to possession of credentials purporting to be ganuine and calculated to inspire confidence in the people. That the Captain had unlimited financial backing from Philadelphia capitalists there was no question. Consequently, the first move of the new company was to negotiate for the

Consequently, the first move of the new company was to negotiate for the taking over of the rights-of-way, property and assets of the Astoria & Coast Railway Company, a concern previously organized to construct an electric line between Astoria and Tillamook Fay. Tentative plans were made for the purchase of the Astoria & Coast Railway Company's property and the sum of $12,500 was to be the purchase price. A few hundred dollars, it is understood, was sil that was paid to the original company. One of the provisions of the day was that the property rhouse remains in the hands of the original company in the hands of the original company in the hands of the original company in the hands of the consideration was tuned over. Published statements also conveyed information that the company was engaged in actuni road construction, and drawings made to resemble photographs were likewise used, these purporting to plo ture a lar-n power-house, terminal buildings and modern concrete docks. While the Philadelphia promoters while the Philadelphia promoters were busy raking in the deliars from the sale of stock at $10 a share, a civil engineer appeared in Oregon last May for the ostensible purpose of making a thorough investigation of the proposed route of the new road. He proposed route of the new road. He reported, it is understood, unfavorably, but suggested that by changing the route so that the road could follow the Lewis and Clark River, further inland, a fertile country would be tapped and that the proposed road could be made a practical and profitable venture.

LIGHT PLANTS ARE PURCHASED

Independent Company to Supply Washington County Towns.

Negotiations for the purchase by the Negotiations for the purchase by the Independent Electric Company of the Haines Light & Power Company and the Hillsboro Water, Light & Power Company plants were completed yesterday. The deals were engineered by R. M. Boydkin, president of the Independent Electric Company, and Earnest Hardy, the company's attorney. The amounts involved in the purchase of the plants were not announced.

With the purchase of the two plants and the water power sites, the Independent Electric Company announces that it plans to supply light and power to a half dozen towns above Hills-bore. Transmission lines will be run to Cornelius. Dilley. Orenco and Beaverton. The company also plans to sup-ply light and power to the farmers in nearly $1,000,000 in the assessed valuation of Clackamas County property, according to figures made public this afternoon by J. E. Jack, County Assessor. The total valuation is $21,084,725, and this does not include the railroads, rolling stock, telegraph and telephone lines which are assessed by the State Tax Commissioner. The assessment on this class of property for 1909 was $2,022,820, and the total valuation last year was $22,057,132.

There are 3,156 more acres of tillable land in Clackamas County than last year and a corresponding increase in valuation of $247,670. The decrease in the number of acres of non-tillable land is 3,362. There is a decrease of $162,600 in the valuation on improvements on deeded or patented lands.
