Thousands in Boston Hear Colonel.

TARIFF BOARD IS INDORSED

Party One on Basic Principles of Protection, He Says.

FLING IS TAKEN AT FOSS

Speaker Insists It Would Be Calamity to Nation to Defeat Senator Lodge—Massachusetts Progressive State, He Insists.

BOSTON, Oct. 21.—Theodore Roosevelt spoke here tonight in behalf of the Republican party of Massachusetts. He said it would be a calamity to the Nation if Senator Lodge should fall of re-election. He said the Senator was a friend of progressive legislation.

That there was no difference of opinion among Republicans as to the basic principle of protection as the party stood solidly on the tariff commission plan, was another of his statements.

The Colonel made no reference to the Payne-Aldrich bill, confining his remarks to the indorsement of the tariff plank of the Massachusetts state platform, and of the tariff board scheme. He said he was advocating the same political principles in his speech of tonight that he had advocated in all of his speeches during the summer from the Rocky Mountains to the Eastern seaboard.

Thousands Eager to Hear Him.

The Colonel's reception in Boston was enthusiastic. When he arrived at the arena where the rally was held, he found a crowd which thronged the great building. Thousands, unable to gain admittance, blocked the street outside. As Colonel Roosevelt mounted the platform, he received one of the most enthusiastic greetings which has been given him on his travels during the last few months.

Ex-Governor John L. Bates, Governor Draper and Senator Lodge made speeches and then the Colonel was introduced.

The opponent of Governor Draper has said that the tariff is an issue in this campaign," he said. "All I ask is that the voters compare the attitude of the two parties in regard to the tariff. On the Republican side there is no difference as to the principle to be observed. In every state the Republicans are a unit in adherence to the principle expressed in the Republican platform that there shall be an equalization of the cost of production here and abroad. The difference has been merely as to the way of achieving the common purpose, and more and more we are coming into complete harmony as to the method to be adopted. Our opponents have no such harmony."

Tariff Plank Commended.

The Colonel read a commended the tariff plank in the Massachusetts Republican platform, which includes the plan for a tariff board. He said President Taft, by working for the tariff board and for satisfactory tariff relations with foreign countries, had pointed out the way which the party was to follow.

"Experience has shown th the present system of tariff-making is unsatisfactory," the Colonel continued. "Our principles were right in the past. We propose to adopt methods which shall guarantee the principles being carried out with justice and equity."

Taking up the Massachusetts situation, Colonel Roosevelt assailed Eugene N. Foss, Democratic candidate for Governor.

"It would be bad thing for the people of this state," he said, "to elect a man who, having tried to dominate one party and having failed, now seeks to dominate another party."

Lodge Progressive, He Says.

Massachusetts, said the Colonel, is really a progressive state in spite of the fact that other states were apt to ascribe to her conservatism which she did not have. He said he was radical because he espoused some things which Massachusetts already had, such as the physical valuation of railroads. The whole Republican party, he continued, was progressive.

Colonel Roosevelt closed with a tribute to Senator Lodge and an appeal to the people of Massachusetts to send him back to the Senate. He said he had watched the work of the Senator in Washington for a quarter of a century. "I feel it would be a calamity not only to Massachusetts, but to the Nation," he continued, "if Senator Lodge were not returned to the Senate. Senator Lodge has stood for progressive legislation. I ask that Massachusetts be true to its great traditions of the past and send back to the United States Senate for the honor of the country that statesman who has himself been true to her traditions."

MOUSE ENTERS CAR, WOMEN IN PANIC

"WEE SLIKIT COWRIN, TIMOROUS BEASTIE" KILLED.

Creature Flees for Safety to Pocket of Woman's Coat, While Occupants of Car Scream.

A mouse in a streetcar filled with women caused a panic at East Sixteenth and East Morrison streets yesterday, and brought the gang working with picks and shovels in the street to the rescue. The mouse had first been chased up a tree by a cat, or dog, or the workmen in the street, and had gradually worked its way out on the end of a branch overhanging the streetcar track. As the car came along the trolley flew off, struck the limb on which the mouse was clinging, and shook it loose. The mouse dropped to the roof of the car, darted into a ventilator and dropped onto a woman's lap. It then took a short cut for the pocket in her coat.

Two or three women screamed as they saw the mouse drop through the ventilator and cried "mouse." That was all that was necessary. Women grabbed their skirts, pulled them close about their ankles and were soon tiptoeing on the seats and crawling their necks to discover the horrid intruder.

It was then the lone man in the car cast aside his newspaper, and walking up to the woman who had the mouse in her pocket, said: "I shall be pleased to extract that venturesome little mouse without the formality of an introduction, if you will allow."

As he did so the women clasped their hands and unanimously exclaimed: "Isn't he just the dearest man!"

BABE FALLS INTO STREAM

Drawn Through Culvert, Unconscious Child Is Revived.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—Swept down one of the many little creeks that flow through this city, the 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Caldwell was whirled through a 60-foot culvert and, when she emerged at the other end, was nearly drowned. Prompt action in calling a physician saved her life, and tonight she is little the worse for her adventure.

The child was playing on the bank of the creek, on Thorne avenue near her home, when she fell into the water. The stream runs quite swiftly and before anyone could seize her she had disappeared into the culvert, where the street crosses the creek.

After a few moments of anxious waiting on the other side, the unconscious form of the child appeared and she was quickly revived.

ATHLETIC FAN IS SUICIDE

Boy Quits Job to See Game and When Parents Scold, Hangs Self.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 21.—Excitement over the world's series between the Chicago Nationals, and the Philadelphia Americans, it was said, was the cause of the suicide tonight of Frank Ayers, 15 years old.

Ayers was a delivery boy in a department store, and when he was refused permission to absent himself to see the game here last Monday, the boy gave up his position. When his parents learned that the lad had quit work, the boy was sent to bed without his supper. Later he was found hanging to a balustrade, having used a sheet for a noose.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—Captain Charles Booker, of Dayton, the Philippine veteran whose falling mind was restored by a trepanning operation last week, has undergone a relapse, suffering a paralytic stroke while walking down the street.

Upon examination it was found that a gathering had formed beneath the plate that was inlaid in the skull, and this had caused the trouble. The wound was cleansed and Captain Booker seems about on the road to full recovery. He was injured in the Philippines by the explosion of a shell.

GRAVE FEARS FELT FOR BALLOONISTS

Relief Expeditions to Take Up Search.

THREE RAGERS UTTERLY LOST

Starvation in Canadian Wilds May Be Men's Portion.

DROP IN LAKES DANGER

Canadian and American Governments Join in Hunt With Aero Club for Missing Aerostats.

Germania Sets New Record.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 21.—Relief expeditions to search for the pilots and aides of the three missing balloons, Azura, Dusseldorf II and America II, which started in the international race here Monday, will be started from Toronto, Sunday, if no news is received from the aerostats before that time. This announcement was made tonight by officials of the Aero Club of St. Louis.

The situation in reference to the unreported balloons assumed a most serious aspect tonight. It is believed here that the men have landed somewhere in the wilds of Canada, where they may be the victims of starvation before succor can reach them.

New Record May Be Set.

The German balloon Germania, Captain Hugo von Abercorn, pilot, and August Blanckertz, aide, landed at Cococash, Quebec, 173 miles north of Quebec, Wednesday morning. This is approximately 115 miles and may mean that all world's records have been broken.

The Aero Club tonight called upon General James Allen, chief of the United States Signal Corps at Washington, D. C., to have the revenue cutters patrolling the Great Lakes look for wreckage in Lake Huron. Steamship companies which have vessels plying Lake Huron and Georgian Bay have been requested to join in the search.

Search Is General.

The Ontario government, through its Lieutenant-Governor, J. M. Gibson, tonight notified the club that it would assist in the search for the missing men. The Hudson Bay Company also has replied favorably to a request for assistance sent from here today.

It was announced tonight that a representative of the Aero Club would be sent to Toronto to organize the relief expeditions.

Balloons Away 100 Hours.

All the balloons should have been down and reported by Wednesday night, according to the Aero Club officials, and the fact that more than 100 hours have elapsed since the start of the race, and neither pilots Messenger, Gerlock, Hawley or the Aerostats of their aides have reported, has given rise to grave apprehension for their safety.

It was pointed out that the greatest danger is anticipated in the case of a balloon having descended in Georgian Bay. This strip of water contains more than 30,000 islands of all sizes, where the aerostats might perish before relief could arrive.

DETECTIVES SAY CASE IS COMPLETE

Woman Aids Unravel Dynamite Plot.

SPECIAL GRAND JURY CALLED

Indictments and Arrests Will Follow, It Is Believed.

MEN KNOWN, ROGERS SAYS

Proprietress of San Francisco Lodging House Becomes Cheerful and Is Said to Have Given Valuable Information.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21.—It is practically certain that indictments against a number of persons will follow the deliberations of the special grand jury called today to investigate the Times disaster, according to the statements of Attorney Earl Rogers and the detectives who worked with him in San Francisco gathering evidence.

"We have a case that the cleverest criminal lawyer in the world could not break down," said Rogers. "The evidence of the Times dynamiting is complete. We know who did it, and can prove it beyond a doubt. All that remains is to arrest those who were responsible for the destruction of the newspaper plant and its men, and that is almost as sure as death."

Mrs. Lavin Talkative.

Rogers' statement, although almost a verbatim reiteration of previous remarks regarding the case, was made directly after he had questioned Mrs. Belle Lavin, the San Francisco lodging house-keeper who is in the county jail charged with murder in connection with the case.

Today the sullen mood of Mrs. Lavin left her and she talked at length with Attorney Rogers in charge of the detectives, and apologized for her demeanor heretofore toward the officers. Since childhood it has made her obstinate to be spoken to sharply, she said, and when the detectives demanded answers to all their questions her temper got the better of her judgment.

Her revelations today are of great importance, but Rogers declined to say what they are. He admitted she told all she knew. They will have an immediate hearing, however, on the San Francisco hunt for the murderers and their accomplices. The woman seems more inclined to trust herself to the officers who are accusing her of murder than to the lawyers who are instant in their demands to see her.

Letter From Lawyer Crumpled.

This evening Attorney Seymour, who has been watching outside the jail almost from the hour of her incarceration, vainly seeking admittance, wrote her a lengthy registered letter which the Sheriff delivered. Seymour informed her that he had been retained as her counsel by an emissary from her friends in San Francisco. Mrs. Lavin crumpled the letter in her hand and laughed.

Another development today was the bringing to Los Angeles from Hanford of Morris Fitzgerald, who fell or was thrown from a northbound Los Angeles train there on October 2, the day of the disaster. Fitzgerald has been (Concluded on Page 4.)

THEATER RUSHED, STUDENTS JAILED

RIOT CALL GIVEN TO QUELL VARSITY PARADERS.

Police Arrest 21 of 500 Rushers. Comrades Threaten to Batter Down Jail Doors.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—Five hundred students of the University of Washington, as a fitting climax to a "shirt tail" parade advertising the Washington foot ball game on the Varsity campus tomorrow, made a rush on the Majestic Vaudeville theater while the second performance was on at 9:30 this evening, breaking down doors and smashing windows which caused the management to send the riot call to the police station, resulting in the arrest of 21 students. The remainder of the "rushers" ran to the City Hall, following the arrest of their comrades, and threatened to rush the police department, but met by a determined squad of policemen and superior officers, finally dispersed and went to their homes.

The recently installed red flash signals on the patrol boxes were immediately thrown into use when the riot call came to headquarters and every policeman from Yesler Way to Pike street, a distance of 12 blocks on First, Second, Third and Fourth avenues, was sent to the theater in addition to the squad which rushed to the scene in the emergency automobiles from the Police Station.

Through the intervention of Attorney John C. Higgins, a member of the Board of Regents of the University, were the students spared spending a night in the city jail. Higgins communicated with Mayor Gill, who instructed Chief of Police Wappenstein to release the students upon the promise of Higgins to present them in court tomorrow.

AIRSHIP SCARES FISHERS

Schooner Off Nantucket Nearly Struck by Wellman Balloon.

NOANK, Conn., Oct. 21.—When the auxiliary fishing schooner Ada Bell put in here tonight, the crew told of a narrow escape they had, of being hit by the balloon of the Wellman airship on Sunday.

Captain Harry Christophsen said that they were fishing on Nantucket shoals during a fog Sunday morning, when a large dark object appeared, which they took to be a heavy bank of fog. As the object approached, however, they saw something bumping along on top of the water, and the motor was started just in time to get the boat out of the way, the airship passing not more than 30 feet from them.

The captain could easily make out the members of the airship crew, but neither his crew nor Wellman's, he said, made any effort to speak or the balloon passed by and was soon lost in the fog.

The crew in the Ada Bell did not know that Wellman had started across the ocean until they put into port tonight.

CHICKEN THIEF REPENTS

Salem Man Receives 60 Cents Through Mail for Stolen Fowls.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—M. E. Grimes, of this city, was astounded today at the action of a chicken thief who entered his poultry-house and helped himself to two chickens recently. Today Grimes received a contribution of 60 cents through the mails, inclosed in an anonymous letter. The letter was marked "Poultry," and evidently was a contribution toward a conscience fund on the part of the thief.

As the chickens taken were of exceptional quality, Grimes suffers a loss. Nevertheless, he considers himself the first man in history that has ever been reimbursed to any extent by a chicken thief.

POE GAINS NICHES IN HALL OF FAME

Author of 'The Raven' Revered in West.

EQUAL VOTE GIVEN HOLMES

Harriet Beecher Stowe Leads All in Balloting.

ELEVEN NAMES ARE ADDED

Number of Writers Is Doubled and Now Exceeds Statesmen—Motley Is Chosen, but Parkman Loses Two Votes.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Edgar Allan Poe is at last in the Hall of Fame. Years of effort on the part of staunch supporters to have his name added to the list were rewarded today by the announcement of Dr. John H. McCracken, chairman of the Senate of New York University, that this honor had been accorded to the author of "The Raven" with 10 others. The 11 names added follow: Harriet Beecher Stowe, 74 votes; Oliver Wendell Holmes and Edgar Allan Poe, 69 votes each; Roger Williams, 64; James Fenimore Cooper, 62; Phillips Brooks, 60; William Cullen Bryant, 59; Francis E. Willard, 56; Andrew Jackson, and George Bancroft, 53 each, and John Lathrop Motley, 51.

Poe Gains 27 Votes.

The total number of ballots cast was 97, and the number required for choice was 51. Poe's vote jumped from 42 in 1905 to 69, an increase of 27 votes. An analysis of the vote shows that of the 69 votes, 21 were cast by college presidents, 17 by professors of history and scientists, 18 by publicists, editors and authors and 13 by jurists.

Contrary to the general impression, the memory of the poet is as famous in the West as in the South, according to the vote. Since the last election his fame increased more among the college presidents than among any of the other groups.

As a result of today's election, the author's corner doubles its population and goes far ahead of the other men in number. Eleven bronze tablets for the names of those chosen will be designed, with an appropriate quotation from the works of each, and the formal unveiling will take place in October, 1911.

The vote of 74 for Harriet Beecher Stowe is noteworthy, as the only one who received such a majority in the election in 1905 was Louis Agassiz, and in the first election the number was surpassed by only 14 names, including Washington, Lincoln, Grant and Emerson. One of the most interesting results is that whereas the historian Motley gained four votes over the election of five years ago, Parkman, the historian, lost two votes. Phillips Brooks gained 11 votes. Oliver Wendell Holmes increased 20 votes, his competitors, Lowell and Whittier, having been removed by election.

Women's Names Are New.

In the vote for women the names chosen are those of women who were not eligible at the last election, not having been dead 10 years at that time. Of these who were voted for in the last election, but still lack the necessary votes, Charlotte Cushman shows a gain from 39 to 45 votes; Martha Washington from 22 to 43, and Lucretia Mott from 33 to 41.

Those falling of election by 10 votes or less were Francis Parkman, Charlotte Cushman, Mark Hopkins, 45 each; Patrick Henry, 44; Martha Washington, 43; Daniel Boone, 42; Samuel Adams and Lucretia Mott, 41 each.

WEEKLY CLEARINGS LEAD

Portland's Bank Showing Is Gain of 22.9 Per Cent Over 1909.

For the week ending October 20, Portland was the only city in the Pacific Northwest whose bank clearings show an increase over the business for the corresponding week a year ago. The clearings of the Portland banks for the week aggregated $12,424,999, or an increase of 22.9 per cent over the same period in 1909.

Seattle clearings, however, for the week show a decrease of 16 per cent. Other Pacific Northwest cities show the following percentages of decrease in bank clearings for the week: Tacoma, 8.5; Spokane, 17.7.

SOLDIER PREFERS PRISON

Rather Than Go to Alaska He Chooses Hard Labor and Gets It.

VANCOUVER BARRACKS, Washington, Oct. 21.—(Special.)—When John L. Coy, of the Hospital Corps, was ordered to go to Alaska, for duty, he informed his commanding officer that he would go to Alcatraz Island first, and take his punishment. He was at Fort Lawton at the time.

For the remark and insubordination he was court-martialed and ordered to be sent to Alcatraz Island, the military prison, for two years at hard labor, and to be discharged without honor from the service of the Army.
