STEAMER TAX SUIT TRIED

Callender Navigation Company Objects to Paying Clatsop County.

ASTORIA, Or., Oct. 24.—(Special.)—The case of the Callender Navigation Company against Clatsop County was tried today before Judge Campbell, of the Circuit Court. This suit was brought to restrain the defendants from selling the plaintiff's fleet of steamers for the collection of taxes for the years 1906, 1907 and 1908. The contention of the plaintiff is that the home office of the company is at Knappton, Wash., and therefore the steamers are not subject to taxation in this state.

The main contention of the defense is that while the plaintiff's articles of incorporation give Knappton as the location of the company's main office, in reality the office is located in this city, the steamers owned by it are enrolled at the local Custom-House and, therefore, this is the proper place for them to be taxed. After hearing the evidence the court took the matter under advisement until the briefs are submitted by the respective parties. Blackmail may be punishable with a life sentence in England.

T. G. HAVEN HURT; MAY DIE

Section Foreman Leaps From Train, Landing on Top of Head.

ROSEBURG, Or., Oct. 24.—(Special.)—T. G. Haven, Southern Pacific section foreman at Greens, five miles south of Roseburg, was probably fatally injured when he attempted to jump from a fast-moving passenger train shortly after 3 o'clock this morning. Haven was a passenger on the train and as it neared Greens, he leaped off and struck the ground head foremost. He was picked up unconscious by the train crew and brought to Mercy Hospital. At a late hour tonight he had not regained his senses and the attending physicians entertain doubt of his recovery. Haven is well known in railroad circles and is married. There is little danger from a cold or from an attack of the grip except when followed by pneumonia, and this never happens when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. This remedy has won its great reputation and extensive sale by its remarkable cures of colds and grip and can be relied upon with implicit confidence. For sale by all dealers.
