

MAJOR GILL AND 1000 TO BE JAILED

Seattle Man Wants City Executive, Police Chief and Others Arrested.

MISDEMEANOR IS CHARGED

Total of 1000 Abandoned Women, Members of Criminal Class and Hangers-On of Restricted District May Be Taken In.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 24.—(Special.)—More than 1000 warrants for arrests on the charge of misdemeanor, including one for Mayor Hiram C. Gill and one for Chief of Police Wappenstein and all the abandoned women and criminal classes and hangers-on of the restricted district, are asked at the hands of Judge J. T. Ronald, of the Superior Court, by William T. McKenney, who filed his complaint today, with the sworn statement that he had made similar complaint to Prosecuting Attorney George F. Vandever, who had failed and refused to procure their issuance.

Notice was served at the same time, directed to the Prosecuting Attorney, Mayor and Chief of Police and Hammond & Hammond, attorneys for many of the defendants, that the request would be presented orally to Judge Ronald tomorrow at the opening of court.

Five hundred Jane Doe and 500 Richard Roe warrants are asked for in addition to one each for Wappenstein and Gill. The petition and affidavit of Mr. McKenney recited the Murphy injunction proceedings and charges that the defendants refused to obey the terms of the court order. The law relating to substance is quoted, providing that gambling, fighting, prostitution, offenses against decency and omissions of duty are misdemeanors under the law and that the defendants are plainly guilty of misdemeanors. The names of witnesses who can attest to this statement of fact are given in the petition.

Judge Ronald was asked for the warrants last Saturday evening and refused at that time because of defects in the papers. These have now been corrected in accordance with his objections, and the petitioner anticipates no difficulty in procuring an order for the arrest of the parties.

These proceedings are separate and distinct from the contempt of court proceedings instituted against practically the same defendants, and which an order to show cause has been issued, returnable on Friday.

BALLOON TO JOIN HUNT

Route Maps and Reports of Balloons Seen to Be Used.

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 24.—An organized effort to locate Alan H. Hawley and Augustus Post, crew of the balloon America II, was inaugurated here tonight when Edmund G. Stratton, of New York, a member of the Aero Club of America, opened a bureau to conduct inquiries throughout Eastern Canada, in some part of which the balloon is believed to have descended.

"I intend to make as thorough a search as can be made," said Mr. Stratton, "and as soon as the drift of the America II is ascertained, I will send out a well-equipped search and relief party from the nearest available point. The expeditions for more extensive exploration will be dispatched from other points."

"What I propose to do in Ottawa now is to compile a route map, and, if possible, establish the definite drift of the missing balloon. I am sending out notification to the papers of Canada, asking everyone who has seen any balloon to write at once the date, the day, the hour, the direction and the color of the balloon and the place at which it was seen. I will also get reports which may be sent in to the Aero Club of America at New York, or to the club at St. Louis. I will have from the crews of the reported balloons a statement of their exact route."

Route May Be Determined. "With the aid of one of the Canadian government geographers I will plot the routes of the day, which have reported and indicate on the same map all the places at which balloons have been seen in the air by individuals. Many of these should be on the routes which reported balloons have followed. When there are reports from points off one of these known routes we will be reasonably certain that it is the America II which has been seen. These reports should give us the direction the missing balloon has taken and it is in this direction we will send searching parties if Hawley and Post do not turn up."

"It may take one or two days to collect information to warrant the sending out of parties at the end of a week since the big balloon started. Four days ago, at the latest, it is estimated, the gas which buoyed the balloon in prevailing northeast winds must have lost its potency."

The possibility that the missing aeronauts may have fallen into one of the great lakes or even passed beyond the province of Quebec to the Atlantic and been lost is realized. But the strong probability tonight was held to be that they had landed in one of two immense tracts of Canadian wilderness. One of these lies between Lake Huron and Hudson Bay. The other comprises a triangle in eastern Ontario, thousands of square miles in extent, formed by the Quebec & Lake St. John Railway, the Saguenay River and the St. Lawrence.

Experts Express Hope. Experts conferring here expressed the opinion that the missing aeronauts would eventually turn up safely if they have fair skill in using what opportunity for self-help the wilderness presents and are unhampered by the arms carried firearms and four day provisions.

The part of Canada to the south and east of Hudson Bay, where it is thought the America II may have landed, is a thorough wilderness and progress through it would be most difficult. But it is a good guess country. The streams and lakes are full of fish on which the aeronauts would be able to live until they reached an Indian camp or met a fur-trapping party. If either or both of them were seriously injured in descending their chances of getting out would be greatly reduced. Many trapping parties, however, are going in. There are many lumber cruisers in these woods. There are mining explorers and a fair scattering of Indians throughout the region.

There is a spirit of friendship among the travelers in northern Canada, both Indians and whites, which would assure Hawley and Post a hearty welcome by any party they might meet.

Many of the balloons have been reported within striking distance of construction camps along the National Transcontinental Railway, which is being driven across Northern Ontario and Quebec. If the America II succeeded in passing this line and landed 200 or 300 miles to the north, they might be safe and comfortable and still not be heard from for a month or possibly not until next Spring. It is thought it would be futile to send searching parties out there because of the extensiveness of the region.

It is the size of a half dozen states as large as Texas and is without railway, towns or villages. To find the lost men there would be like looking for a needle in a haystack.

But it would be far easier for the men to locate an Indian camp or unsuspecting party. The National Transcontinental Railway Company has no word from the men, but it would be promptly reported if obtained anywhere in the North. For this reason little credence was given at official headquarters this afternoon to a report from Quebec that the missing men had been located and were on their way to that city.

Essential details were lacking and it was pointed out that if the men were proceeding to Quebec from the wilds of that province, they would necessarily travel via the National Transcontinental Railway.

PATRIOT IS WELCOMED

T. P. O'CONNOR AT SPOKANE NEAR END OF TOUR.

Statesman Says Oregon and Washington Have Contributed $40,000 to Ireland's Cause.

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 24.—(Special.)—"When Ireland is finally granted the right to govern herself, to America and Canada will be due a great share of the credit," said Thomas Power O'Connor, Member of Parliament and leader of the "Home Rule" movement in Ireland, on his arrival in Spokane this morning.

"The support given to the movement by the Irish in this country has been even greater than we hoped, and my visit here has been one of continual surprise," he continued.

Mr. O'Connor is on the last leg of his tour through the Northwest. He will remain in the city until Tuesday afternoon, when he will leave for Winnipeg. He was the central speaker at a big open meeting in the Elks Temple tonight and will address the students of Gonzaga College Tuesday morning. He was met by a party of friends when he arrived over the O. R. & N. from Portland. At the depot were P. J. Dorsey, Patrick Clark, M. O'Shea, J. D. Buchanan, James Monaghan and newspaper men.

"The first evidence of American spirit I received when I landed in Buffalo and attended the meeting of the Irish National League," he said. "That convention pledged $150,000 to the cause and within two years I had the privilege of addressing meetings in Eastern Canada where the highest officials presided. I went into Western Canada, which had never been visited by an Irish leader before. In Seattle more than $4500 was pledged and in Portland the contribution was $10,000. A fund which will approximate $5000 is now being raised by the Irish in Spokane and this will be turned over to Mr. O'Connor on his departure. Mr. O'Connor estimates that the States of Washington and Oregon together have pledged close to $40,000 to the cause."

JOHNSON IS ARRESTED

FIREMAN TAKEN TO PASCO TO ANSWER TO KILLING.

Vancouver Man Admits Shoving Drunken Man to Pavement, but Says He Was Justified.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Oct. 24.—(Special.)—Alfred Johnson, who is wanted in Pasco, Wash., for the killing of an unidentifiable man, was arrested here this morning by Officer Ira Cresap, on instructions from the Sheriff, at Pasco. Johnson is a seaman in the employ of the North Bank Railroad.

Concerning the trouble Johnson said he was in Pasco Saturday afternoon and was standing on a street corner with several railroad employes when he was pushed by a drunken man, who asked him for some money. Johnson says he refused, but the man persisted until Johnson was forced to give him away. The man fell to the cement sidewalk and the men around him picked him up and carried him into the Owl Saloon and put him in a chair.

Later in the day he passed through the saloon and saw the man still sitting in the chair and was told that he was merely sleeping off the effects of a recent drunk. He thought no more of the matter until he was arrested this morning. Johnson came into Vancouver on his regular run yesterday and went to the rooming house at noon. He was ordered to go back to Pasco at 8:30 o'clock tonight, but just before the train pulled out, secured a day's layoff. He went to a saloon last night and was in his room when found this morning by Officer Cresap.

He expressed regret that the old man had died, but thinks he will be cleared without any trouble whatever. He is now in the City Jail and will be taken to Pasco by the Sheriff, when he arrives.

ALASKA TRADE IS SOUGHT

Portland Lodge of Arctic Brotherhood to Hold Meeting.

For the purpose of organizing a strong delegation to represent Portland at the grand camp of the Arctic Brotherhood, which will meet at Vancouver, B. C., November 8, a meeting of the Portland-Alaska Club will be held next Tuesday night.

"Although we have been organized but a few months, the club has received a membership of nearly 100," said President Swanton last night, "and we are going to make every effort to secure the next camp for Portland."

One of the main objects of the organization here is to promote business relations between Portland and Alaska. There is no doubt that the trade which is done annually between Seattle and Alaska if the local club and business interests make a consistent fight for it.

AUSTRALIANS HERE SEEKING SETTLERS

Government Policy Aid to Development, Differing Far From Pinchot Plan.

HELP OFFERED FARMERS

Visiting Delegation Studies Irrigation and Tells What Its Country Will Do to Obtain Settlers to Take Up Land.

In striking contrast to the conservation policy of the Pinchot system in the United States is that adopted by the Government of Victoria, Australia, which is not only reclaiming the arid land, but has sent a delegation of officials around the world to study irrigation and offer attractive inducements to settlers to go to the southernmost continent and win their fortunes from the soil.

The first of this delegation to reach Portland was Hugh Mackenzie, Minister of Lands of Victoria, and Colonel W. T. Reay, managing editor of the Evening Herald, of Melbourne and also of the Weekly Times, an agricultural paper.

Dr. Elwood Mead, until three years ago member of the United States Corps of Army Engineers, but now chairman of the State Rivers Commission of Victoria, is in San Francisco, and Mr. Gullet, managing editor of the Daily Argus, of Melbourne, has gone to Canada. The newspaper men are accompanying the officials on the trip in the interest of their papers. Minister Mackenzie and Colonel Reay are staying at the Portland Hotel.

Easy Land Payments Allowed.

"Our mission is an important one," said Minister Mackenzie last night. "The Government has expended $15,000 on an irrigation project which contemplates 1,500,000 acres, but it is only the beginning. Of this amount 250,000 acres are already under way and cultivation. The tract has been cut up into blocks of 10 to 200 acres and the Government is offering these tracts to settlers for $40 to $75 an acre, and giving them a long time to pay, a period of 3 1/2 years. If it is necessary the Government will build a house, giving the settler 15 years to repay the amount advanced. The Government is also advancing four-fifths of the passage fare, as it costs a great deal to go to Australia, and allows the settlers five years to repay the amount."

"In addition to the easy payments the Government allows its agricultural experts to assist the settlers free of charge. We have no water rights. The Government retains title to all the water and sells it to settlers at 5 shillings an acre-foot, which is equivalent to 12 inches of rain. Everything has been figured down so that the settler only repays actual cost to the Government. Payments equal 6 per cent a year of the cost of the land and the first payment is 3 per cent down."

Large Owners Deprived.

"The land in this project has been settled 40 or 50 years and has been used for grazing and growing grain. It was in the hands of large landholders, so the other day, when I resumed it, we call it in Victoria, to put it to more profitable use. The Government sent us on this trip five or six months ago, and we are going to take up the tracts and study irrigation. We have been in Europe and England and spent considerable time in the United States. Our primary object was to induce settlers from England and many have already started on their way to Australia. We also want a few American settlers, families, experienced in agriculture by irrigation, and will leave this matter in the hands of an agent in Denver, who has already had an agent in other in San Francisco or Los Angeles."

"Our climate is much like that of California and is adapted to fruit-growing. Our seasons are now those of the Northern hemisphere, so we will not be in competition with Northern markets. We have a very low rate of taxation, and are now exporting beef and butter to London as cheaply as those in the interior of England send it to London."

Visitors Are Entertained.

Mr. Mackenzie was entertained at luncheon at the Arlington Club yesterday. Those present were Colonel Reay, Robert Livingstone, W. R. Mackenzie, Donald Mackay, Peter Kerr, W. J. Burns, Dr. K. A. J. Mackenzie, James Laidlaw, H. C. Cameron, A. H. Zuercher, William MacMaster, E. A. Wyld, N. A. MacRae and William Mackenzie.

Mrs. W. R. Mackenzie and her sister, Mrs. J. G. Perrine, gave a dinner to the Australian party at the Mackenzie residence, 521 King street, last night. Mr. Mackenzie is a cousin to the Minister of Lands of Victoria, H. Zuercher. Minister Mackenzie will visit Hood River today and the party will assemble in Vancouver, B. C., in time to sail for Australia November 4.

EXPLODING TANK FATAL

SHOWMAN LOSES LIFE WHEN PICTURE MACHINE BURSTS.

Town Jarr'd by Concussion of Accident Which Kills Bert Mace and Injures Others.

CHEHALIS, Wash., Oct. 24.—(Special.)—By the explosion of a gas tank at Napavine this evening Bert Mace lost his life and Lather Lindsey sustained injuries which it is believed will result fatally. The Marshall Hall was wrecked, one side of the building being torn out and all the windows shattered. The concussion jarred the whole town of Napavine. Three other men were slightly hurt.

Mace was a showman and had opened up his outfit and was preparing for a performance tonight. While charging his gas tank for a picture machine, the explosion occurred. Lindsey, who is a bartender, happened to be in the hall with Mace at the time, as were the others injured.

Mace and Lindsey were brought to Chehalis on the 6 o'clock train and taken to the St. Helen's Hospital, where Mace died 15 minutes later. Both of Mace's legs were shattered and he was otherwise injured, presumably by flying debris. Lindsey's right arm was shattered and his right side torn open so that his internal organs were visible. His recovery is doubtful.

Mace is reported to be from Tenino, but no one at Napavine knows anything as to his home. Lindsey is married and has a wife, child and an aged father living at Napavine.

FENCE NOT AN INCLOSURE

Government Case Against Livestock Company Dropped; Costs Due.

When is a fence not a fence? A fence is not a fence when there is a gap in it, contended the Pacific Livestock Company. A fence is a fence, with or without a gap, contended the United States Government. These contentions were argued in the Federal Court until the litigation that started with the Government's proceeding against the Pacific Livestock Company on a charge of fencing Government land in Eastern Oregon slumbered down in an argument yesterday as to who should pay the costs of procedure.

When the suit was filed the Government contended that the livestock company fenced about 13,000 acres of land, contrary to the statutes. The livestock company denied the allegation on the principle that there was a gap in the fence, therefore cattle were at liberty to roam where they pleased and found good grazing. The company also contended it did not build the fence, in the first place, that somebody else did it before it came into possession of a tract adjoining the land in issue dwindles to the payment of costs, and the question is in the hands of Judge Bean to decide who shall pay.

WILD WEST SHOW SEIZED

Leader, Freed From Jail to Perform, Accused of Horsestealing.

THE DALLES, Or., Oct. 24.—(Special.)—Deloss Webb and his aggregation of Wild West broncho busters gave an exhibition of horsemanship yesterday at the Dalles racing park, about a mile out of the city. An enthusiastic crowd of 400 people witnessed the feats of the horsemen.

It is said to have been the best thing of the kind ever given in the city. Added interest was due to Webb's arrest Saturday evening on a charge of horsestealing preferred by the authorities at Walla Walla. He was released from custody yesterday long enough to give his show as scheduled.

The Deputy Sheriff arrived from the Washington city today to take him back for trial. The troubles of the show people were further augmented when their horses and accoutrements were attached to satisfy debts which they had contracted here.

MAY SHAVE MORE CLOSELY

Many Men Would Not Do Without Poslam, Which Softens and Heals.

While the application of poslam, the new skin remedy, after shaving is one of its minor uses, such as for pimples, the complexion, etc., shavers have found it a revelation, as it does for abrasions, roughness and severe scrapings what it does in all manner of skin difficulties—beals and cures in a few hours. Poslam's great antiseptic and curative value enables it to tone up the skin as no toilet preparation possibly could. Any infection, such as barbers' itch is quickly cured, for poslam's primary work is the rapid healing of such serious ailments as eczema, scabies, tetter, salt rheum, etc. "Poslam is the best and quickest cure that I have seen in my 25 years' experience in the barber business," says Frank J. Kammerer, barber.

A sample of poslam (mailed free) will tell the whole story. Write for it to the Poslam Co., 32 West 25th Street, New York City. Poslam is sold in two sizes (trial, 50 cents; regular, $2) by all druggists, particularly the Owl Drug Co.

They Grow Hair

Certain Ingredients if Properly Combined, Stimulate Human Hair Growth

Resorcin is one of the most effective germ destroyers ever discovered. Betanaphthol is a most powerful, yet ably and justly safe germicide and antiseptic, which prevents development of germ matter, and creates a clean, healthy condition.

Pilocarpine, although not a coloring matter or dye, is an ingredient well established for its power to restore natural color to human hair. Borax, because of its well-defined softening and cleansing properties, is most useful in the treatment of scalp and hair diseases. Glycerine acts as a stimulant to the hair bulbs, and has a soothing, healing and nourishing influence. Alcohol is indispensable in medicine because of its antiseptic, stimulating and preservative qualities.

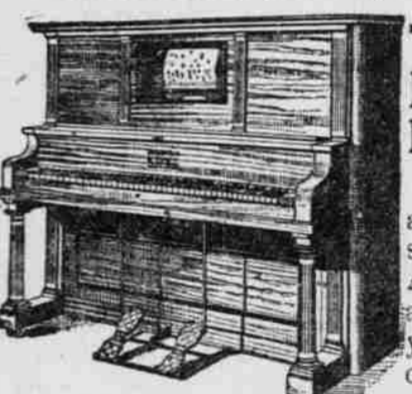

Resall "33" Hair Tonic is chiefly composed of these ingredients, which are compounded in a peculiar form, and we believe it is the most effective remedy known to medical science for scalp and hair troubles generally. We personally guarantee it to eradicate dandruff and scalp irritations and to grow hair, even though the scalp in spots is bare of hair, providing of course there is life and vitality remaining in the hair roots.

We want every one troubled with scalp disease, dandruff or loss of hair to try Resall "33" Hair Tonic. If it does not remove dandruff and promote growth of hair to the satisfaction of the user, we will, without question or quibble return every cent paid us for it. This guarantee is printed on every package. It has effected most satisfactory results in 93 out of 100 cases where put to a practical test.

Resall "33" Hair Tonic is entirely unlike and in every particular different from anything else we know of for the purpose for which it is recommended. We urge you to try it at our entire risk. Certainly we could offer no better guarantee. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1. Sold in Portland only at the Owl Drug Co., Cor. Seventh and Washington Sts.
