Hawley Injures Leg in Tramp Through Woods—Men Joyous at Winning.

START FOR NEW YORK

After Leaving Wisconsin, Declares Post, Trip Was Made in High Levels—Lives at No Time in Danger, Says Hawley.

QUEBEC, Oct. 27.—Alan R. Hawley and Augustus Post, heroes of the greatest balloon flight on record, arrived tonight after an experience that was more trying than earlier reports indicated, but mightily pleased because the cup for which they contested remains in America.

The first day after leaving the America II at the end of their journey, on the banks of the Peribonka River, Mr. Hawley's leg was injured so severely that he was laid up for several hours and he has not yet fully recovered.

Gebhart Willrich, the American Consul and a business man of the city, met the party on the arrival of their train from Chlooutimi, this evening, and escorted them to the Hotel Frontenac, where an informal dinner was given in their honor. After resting until 11 o'clock, Messrs. Hawley and Post resumed the journey to New York.

Lives Not in Danger

"There never was a time," Mr. Hawley said tonight, "when I considered that our lives were actually in danger, but our supply of food was short and I consider that we were fortunate in reaching Jacques Maltais' cabin in the woods when we did. Taken all together, it was not a disagreeable experience by any means, and, best of all, the cup for which we made the flight remains at home."

In describing the earlier part of the journey up to the time they were last to sight over the State of Michigan, Mr. Post said:

"We followed a northeasterly course across the Mississippi and Missouri River country and thence along the Illinois River to Wisconsin.

Bag Drops Near Water.

"In the morning we were in a position just north of the city of Milwaukee, but over the lake. We descended close to the water, but the air was light and we rose again to get the eastern drift.

"We crossed Lake Huron during the night and were high over Georgian Bay and the country immediately north of it. We made our highest altitudes at this stage of the journey. The wind had a strong drift to the northeast, and we dropped a trifle lower after passing Lake Nipissing. The wind was taking us along at tremendous speed.

"We could see from the character of the country below us, that it would be almost impossible to move a foot, so we decided to go on. We again went into the higher levels and at one time our barograph registered 6000 metres, which is the limit.

Town Is Sighted.

"We then saw in the distance what we supposed was the town of Normandy, near Lake St. John. This was about 1:30 P. M. on Wednesday. The country looked favorable for a landing, and we decided to come down. The speed at which we were going, however, carried us beyond the place we had planned on. We were carried over a small hill. Considering the circumstances, we made a good landing on what we later learned was to the east of the Peribonka River."

"Mr. Hawley interrupted Mr. Post's narrative to explain how his leg was hurt.

"We were going through a dense tangle of brambles and fallen timbers and making poor progress. In working my way through, I leaped upon what looked like a solid log. It crumbled beneath me and my whole weight was suddenly thrown upon my right leg, which bent under me.

Cabin Found in Woods.

"Taking up the thread of his story, Mr. Post said:

"On account of Hawley's injured leg, we took it easy on Friday and went into camp early. On Saturday, on the shore of a small lake, we came upon the cabin of Jacques Maltais. He was absent at the time, but we enjoyed his hospitality for that night and the whole of the following day.

WETS AND DRIES ARE ARRAYED

"About 9 o'clock Monday morning, Mr. Hawley went to the bank of the lake and shouted 'hello!' several times. The call was answered and a short time later Joseph Feneau and the Commercial Club trappers paddled up in a canoe. After explaining our situation to them, they agreed to aid us in reaching the nearest habitation."

SIGNALS TO MAKE AIR SAFER

St. Louis Club Official Suggests Safeguards for Aeronauts.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 27.—A. R. Lambert, president of the Aero Club of St. Louis, and member of the Contest Committee which had charge of the international balloon race from here last week, has a plan which he thinks will safeguard balloonists in the future.

He announced today that at the meeting of the Aeronautical Federation, to be held in France in January, he will urge that a rule be made providing that competing aeronauts shall carry signal lights on the drag ropes of their balloons.

His idea is that these signals will, like those in use upon ocean-going vessels, red, white or green, arranged above each other according to a code to be adopted.

For instance, two red lights above a green light would indicate that the balloon was the America II, and similarly other signals would indicate each contestant.

CLEVER RUSE LANDS DUO

Disguised Messenger Boy Aids Officers in Arresting Man.

Plainclothes men, by a clever ruse, arrested Thomas Rogers and Nellie Rogers, who professes to be Rogers wife. The arrests were made on warrants sworn to by H. U. Young, a miner from Cripple Creek, Colo., all of whom he had been robbed of $75. He trailed the pair to their rooms at 408 Main street. Yesterday he caused Doe warrants to be issued against them. Plainclothesmen Montgomery, Scharfer and Martine were placed on the case. They took the woman into custody in her rooms, and held her there awaiting the coming of Rogers. Rogers apparently became apprised of the predicament of the woman and undertook to send her a message by a boy. Upon the arrival of the messenger the officers compelled the boy to disrobe and don Young's clothing to effect a disguise. Bedecked in the misfit clothing of the woman, he led the officers to an alley at West Park and Alder streets, where Rogers agreed to await the return of the boy with an answer from the woman. Through the agency of Young's clothing the messenger's disguise was complete and did not in the least betray the ruse adopted by the officers. They hid Rogers hidden in the shadows of the building and pounced upon him before he could make an effort to escape. Rogers fought desperately, but was necessary to manacle him securely before he could be dragged to the nearest patrol box.

PILLOWSLIP SAVES CASH

DRIVER'S PECULIAR PURSE FOELS HIGHWAYMEN.

Held Up on Base Line Road, Fred Thurston Escapes Without Loss Because of Cunning.

A rolled pillow-case en route to a wash is reported as $12.10 by Fred Thurston, driver for the Mount Scott Laundry, Thurston, whose route embraces the country side adjoining the Base Line road, spent the greater part of yesterday distributing laundry bundles and collecting $12.10. This he secreted in a rolled pillow-case to forestall a financial loss by unscrupulous persons whom he might meet along the country road as he drove cityward under the cover of darkness.

True to his fears Thurston was hailed and surrounded by two highwaymen who leaped from the underbrush at the roadside a half mile west of Russellville on the Base Line road shortly after 7 o'clock last evening.

The holdups, after grasping the bridge reins leaped over him and compelled him to alight. While one of the thugs searched the driver's clothing, the companion rummaged about the wagon in search of booty. Finding nothing of value on their victim or in the wagon, they turned their attention to the driver. Thurston to resume his journey toward the city.

Complying with the order of the highwaymen, Thurston drove rapidly away from the scene, never once looking back for fear of becoming the target they threatened to make of him if he attempted to leave their vicinity without an alarm. After reaching the city, he reached in the bundles of soiled linen in the rear of his wagon and discovered that the holdups overlooked the bag containing the money.

DIRECT LEGISLATION HOULY DEBATED IN CONVENTION.

Defeat of Initiative Sure, but Modified Referendum Will Pass. Democrats for Oregon Plan.

SANTA FE N. M., Oct. 27.—The constitutional convention today and tonight devoted its time to arguing over the initiative and referendum. From a five-hour limit the debate ran over until at midnight it was regarded as doubtful if a vote would be reached by 1 A. M.

The Democratic majority favored the Oregon plan. The Republican delegates will vote solidly against the initiative, which, therefore, will be defeated. They will, however, vote in favor of a modified referendum which grants the popular vote on certain acts of the Legislature upon a 19 per cent petition at the following general election, and suspends such act upon a 25 per cent petition if presented within 90 days of adjournment of the legislative assembly.

WETS AND DRIES ARE ARRAYED

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 27.—Prohibition will be the main issue before the constitutional convention for the remainder of the week and advocates of statewide prohibition are arraying their arguments and arguments for presentation at the public hearing of the committee tomorrow.

The prohibitionists have about given up hope of having the statewide prohibition issue submitted to the people at the election for ratifying the constitution and are now devoting their efforts to making the initiative and referendum applicable to counties as well as to the state.

Chamber of Commerce Proposes Active Campaign.

Fearing that the voters are not sufficiently informed on the arguments in favor of the $2,500,000 bond issue for public docks to be voted on November 8, a committee of the Chamber of Commerce has arranged to start a campaign of publicity that shall continue until the eve of election.

PRESIDENT RAFT LAUDS METHODISTS

Bishops Received at White House Where Work of Missions Is Topic.

PUBLIC CHANGES VIEWS

Attitude of People Toward Foreign Missions Is Almost Revolutionized, Says Nation's Executive in Address.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—The score of Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church attending their annual meeting in this city were received by President Taft at the White House today.

Bishop Warren, of Denver, made a brief address to the President in which he outlined the work that the church has in view. The President in responding said:

"The militant missionary character of the Methodist Church has shown itself not only in this country, but in countries far removed from civilization, and it has developed the influence of missions in a way that perhaps 20 or 30 years ago did not seem possible. I believe, and I think you will agree with me, that the attitude of the general public toward foreign missions today is almost revolutionized, and that you find as you go about and urge contributions for that purpose, a willingness to listen and an interest in the work that perhaps you have never found before.

"There was a time when the policy of this Government towards the Philippines and toward the dependent cities that have come to us from the Spanish War, was severely condemned because it was supposed that we were reaching out with a greed of territory and power, rather than with a desire to advance the cause of civilization and help our fellow men.

OWES HER LIFE TO LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Chicago, Ill.—"I was troubled with falling and indigestion, and the doctors said I would not get well unless I had an operation. I knew I could not stand the strain of one, so I wrote to you sometime ago about my health and you told me what to do. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier I am today a well woman."

Mrs. WILLIAM A. HRENS, 988 W. 21st St., Chicago, Ill. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases of any similar medicine in the country, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaint, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every such suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free and always helpful.

Pope is not held at Reno, Nev. The slayer declares he located two claims in the district some time ago.

"Frenchie" jumped them on the grounds Pope had not done the proper assessment work. When the two men met on the claims Pope asked for permission to measure the work he had done. Frenchie, then in possession, refused the request and threw a hammer at Pope. The next instant Pope had shot the claim-jumper twice, one bullet entering the left arm and the other near the heart, causing death.

Pope gave himself up to the authorities.
