FAIR PLAY

Mr. Voter, we believe you are fair and will play fair. If you live remote from counties where a small proportion of the voters and taxpayers want to slice up the county, create new offices and build new courthouses, why should you net vote against it? To play fair is to let the voters settle their own local differences. From all parts come reports that voters will not try to di-vide the outside counties any more than they will vote for county officers in another county.
