Occupant Is Not Hurt When Tiny Craft Capsizes-Johnstone Gives Vivid Account of Trip in Sky Storm With Low "Gas."

NEW YORK, Oct M .- The crowd at Belinont Park today centered interest on the action of the Aero Club of America. which, after midnight, chose Hamilton, Drexel and Brookings early this morning to defend the Gordon Bennett International speed trophy.

Just before the passenger-carrying cross-country race was started this aft ernoen, a mote in the paling sky was seen far to the southeast. It was Johnetone, reappearing just where he had vanished in yesterday's gale. He circled the field and settled in front of the judges' stand, while the grandstand waved, cheered and stamped.

Johnstone Is Lucky.

"Tell you what, boys," Johnstone said when he landed. "It was just the mercy of Providence that saved my neck. When I thought I was within touching distance I thought I was within touching distance of the new world's record, I forgot about the wind and began to reach out for more height. Then I suddenly said to myself, 'Young man, you better see how much "gas" you have got.' It's the truth, I had just enough to turn over the two propellers. When I kept her nose up, it ran down into the engine and she coughed. The minute I pointed down I lest my fuel and she began to miss. "It was just like shooting the chutex. First I'd take a header with the power

Defenders Chosen by Election,

In the selection by the Aero Club of America of an American team to defend America of an American team to defend the Gordon Bennett International speed trophy, it had been intended to narrow the choice by elimination trials, but windy weather forbade. It was necessary to substitute an election. Hamilton, with his 110-horsepower Hamiltonian; Drezel, with a 50-horsepower Bleriot, and Brook-ings, in the new Wright racer, were

Curtiss, who brought the cup to this country, thus has no part in defending it and his new racer remains untried. There was some chagrin over this out-come, but on the whole, the American aviators acquiesced in the action of the aviators acquiesced in the action of the Aero Club and took its decision as a necessity. The American substitutes are Mars, of the Curtles team; Molesant, with a Bleriot, and Hoxsey, of the Wright

Audemars Has Fall.

Audemars, one of the two men in the world who dares to drive a tiny Demoi selle, took his butterfly out in too strong a wind and was capsized. In attempt-ing to land from a height of not more than 10 feet he struck the earth with his front wheels, bounced into the air and ended by turning a somermuit. For a it the machine stood on the tip of tis nose and then turned slightly on its back. The crowd jumped to its feet in horror, but Audemars leaped out unburt. He broke the propeller of his machine, smashed the ribs of one wing and threw his engine out of true, but the repairs t be expensive

The Liberty flight is still open tomorrow and flights for the Gordon Bennett begin at any time after 8:30

Hoxsey came down from the cold up-er air muffled in furs and red with the wind. He had been up two hours and if minutes, the longest sustained flight thus far of the meet.

Police Complain of Methods in Municipal Court.

GAMBLER GETS LIGHT FINE

Judge Tazwell, City Attorney Grant and District Attorney Cameron Found Fault With - Police Work Goes for Naught.

Municipal Judge Taxwell, City Attorney Grant and District Attorney Cameron are coming in for criticism in police circles because of the manner in which cases are being handled in the Municipal Court. Chief of Police Cox last night expressed regret at the methods vogue, especially because of the fine of but $50 assessed against "Bill" Grant, conducting a big fare game. An instance of this was recorded yesterday when Grant, a notorious gambler, and several of his kind were arraigned in by the Republicans. A band has been engaged and a large attendance is assured from the interest that has been aroused among the voters in the pendaroused among the voters in the penting contest.

Acting Governor Bowerman, the party's direct primary nominee for Governor, will be the principal speaker. The other speakers will be Dan J. Malarkey, nominee for Joint Senator from Multnomah and Clackamas, and Judge Stephen A. Lowell, of Pendleton. Judge Lowell last night concluded a three days' campaign tour of Marlon County, speaking at Silverton, Staycourt on the charge of conducting a fare game in a room at the Drexel Hotel. Despite the fact that the case was distinctive because of its principals and the presence of complete fare outil in court to substantiate the police detectives statements as to the gambling raid, the prisoners were allowed their liberty with the nominal fine of $50. The insignificant fine was levied principally because there was no prosecution, it is declared. The case was tried together with several speaking at Silverton, Staycase was tried together with several others at the morning session of court. The apathy among voters, which has been especially marked in that county, has been succeeded by a lively interest in the campaign and its result. Chairman Logan and Secretary Apperson, of the county organization, are planning to have as many of the county candidates in attendance at tonight's were not prosecuted. The decision was unlooked for. Speaking about the case in point last night, Chief of Police Cox said: "I regret such procedures. The exceedingly small fine imposed by the court upon Grant has a tendency to encourage gamblers and discourage the men of the department in their efforts to apprehend them. There should be rigid prosecution of similar offenders. We must have the legal backing in our prosecution of criminal cases by the city Attorney's office. This we did not have in the Grant case and that prob-ably accounts for Judge Tazwell's im-position of a fine which I daresay was mere 'jack-pot' in Grant's games.'

A Household Medicine

To be really valuable must show good results from each member of the family using it. Foley's Honey and Tar does just this. Whether it is the chronic cough of elderly people, or whether it is with children or grown persons, Foley's Honey and Tar is always safe, sure and effective. It cures coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, and all affections of the throat, chest and lungs. Earl Fair, Waukeeha, Wis, writes us recently: "For some years past I have been a great friend of your Foley's Honey and Tar cough remedy, and our family uses it for all coughs and colds. I had a most stubborn cough which gave me much distress and inconvenience and failed to respond to ordinary treatments. I finally resorted to the old reliable Foley's Honey and Tar, and less than two 50-cent bottles effected a complete cure. I consider it the greatest and best Cough Remedy ever made and recommend it to all." Sold by all druggists. air and the forests of Northern Canada, were not the least of those encountered by Alan R. Hawley, pilot, and Augustus Post, aide, of the victorious balloon America II, who arrived here today. Recounting some of their experiences Hawley said that just before they landed the balloon passed low over the clearing of a farmer, who appeared to be a quiet old gentleman. "In answer to our signals, however," continued Mr. Hawley, "he let fly two charges of shot at us which fortunately missed. At the edge of a small lake shortly before our adventure with the farmer, we saw an Indian trapper on the shore with a gun. As the shadow of the balloon crept across the water, he looked up and then threw himself upon his face. We shouted, but he was too scared to answer."

Läst night a sleet and snow storm swept over Central Quebec, and the aeronauts' final glimpse of the wooded hills gave them a blank and dreary picture, suggestive of a fate that might have overtaken them had they been less successful in managing the big gas bag.

WRESTLING BOUT WITH HINDU DECLARED DRAW.

Men Work for 58 Minutes With Advantage to Neiti Wants to Continue.

After wrestling 58 minutes at Mer-rill's Hall last night, Strangler Smith and Dodan Singh rolled out of the ring in each other's embrace and in falling to the floor from the raised platform Smith was so severely injured that Captain of Police Bailey refused to allow the match to progress further. Smith was rendered unconscious the fall, and when he was brought to by his seconds and assistants at the ringside he wanted to continue for fear that some of the skeptical might have doubted the honesty of the match, but the police and Smith's advisers refused to consider the idea, and assisted the injured athlete to his dressing-room.

It was a corking good match while it lasted. Singh displayed the same clever defensive style of wrestling he used in his bout with Eddie O'Connell, while Smith showed marked improve ment over any of his previous perform-ances in Portland. The longshoreman was more agile and active than hitherto, and did most of the initiative in the match. He frequently secured the upper hold on the Hindu, but the lat-ter's wrestling ability avoided all possible danger at the hands of the white grappler. There was little to choose between the two as far as advantage was con-cerned when they rolled off the plat-form. In this fall both grapplers had form. In this fall both grapplers had their arms interlocked in a roiling fall, which carried them beyond the ropes and into the crowd.
