The Vaughn-street baseball grounds will be the scene of the first game of the season played by the eleven repreletic Club when that aggregation meets the husky warriors of Washington State College this afternoon. Hecause of the recent fire which destroyed the stands at Multnomah Field, the club-men have leased the baseball park and will play their football games there

This year the Multnomah eleven is trifle late in starting the season. Manager Latourette explains this by as serting that it is his desire to put his team in first-class condition before playing a regular game. Therefore he arranged to test the strength of his team by pitting it against a hard club in the first game. Manager Latourette believes the Washington State College to be one of the best football machines in the Northwest, and is doubly anxious on that account for the Mulinoman contingent to win this afternoon.

Star Players Obtained.

Mulinomah has secured several foot hall lights to help out the team this season. Schmidt and Calilcrate, the Notre Dame University stellar players, will be of great assistance to the Multnomah back field this season. Schmidt and Callicrate earned National reputations as members of the famous Indiana finstitution's team, and they are among the most enthusiastic members of the new winged "M" squad.

While Callicrate and Schmidt will be

While Callicrate and Schmidt will be of great help to the team, the services of Dudley Clark, the great punter of the University of Oregon, will also be in the Multnomah line-up. His trusty right foot will be depended upon to bring honors to the Portland clubmen. Clark is in first-class shape to play and has shown in the practices thus far held that he has lost none of the brilliancy or dash that marked his career with the State University. Rhinehart and Evenden, two of the best players ever graduated from the Oregon Agricultural College, will also be listed in Multnomah's line-up, while Jones, a former University of Minneso-Jones, a former University of Minnesota star, will also enliven the clubmen

Manager Jones, of the W. S. C. team is not in the least abashed by th strong array of talent Multnomah in tends placing in the field. He assert his team will try all the harder to de reat its antagonists because of its reversal at the hands of the Oregor "Aggles" last Saturday. The Washington boys are not downhearted over the result of Saturday's game. They predict that they will win the Northwest are characteristic and intend to star

PEW HURT UNDER NEW RULES

Whether Football Regulations Will Last to Be Settled Soon.

BOSTON, Oct. 31.—The question of whether the new football rules have come to stay is within three weeks of being answered. Next Saturday's con-tests will be the last before the final struggles under the new rules. The Commission is already sizing up the situation to see whether the present game is a fixture or needs more tinker-ing, either back toward the old game or toward more epen play.

VARSITY COACHES DUBIOUS

Eugene Boys Must Work Hard to Defent Aggles, Says Moores.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene Oct. 31.—(Special.)—Flushed with vic-tory and in splendid physical condition, the 'varsity footbail team returned late last night with the report that there may possibly be a game with Washington in Portland, next Saturday. A Washington-Idaho game had been scheduled to take place in Seattle on that date but the Idaho men were not satisfied with the terms offered by the Washington management and contend that they will not play unless given that they will not play unless given better terms.

With this game in the balance, Manager Watson of Oregon yesterday telegraphed to Manager Zedneck of Washington asking for a date in Portland for next Saturday. It is believed, however, that Zedneck will grant the Idaho men a better proposition and take the game to Seattle. The Idaho manager expresses a confidence that the Washington-Idaho game will take place, and even the Oregon authorities do not expect a favorable answer from Zedneck.

per cent, leaders in the sport seemed agreed that the rules committee will make only minor modifications next year.

In the work of Eastern colleges up to date, Harvard and Princeton stand at the head, with their goal lines intact and a string of six and five victories, respectively. As Harvard has secored a touchdown in every game and Princeton failed to get to the goal line in the game with Lafayette, winning by a field goal, the Cambridge team is placed first on the Eastern list. The naval cadets are third.

Coast League Opens Final Series Today; Four Positions in Doubt.

BEAVERS SEEM WINNERS

Oakland Must Make Clean Sweep of Seals and Even Then They May Lose - Vernon Has Chance Left for Third Place.

This afternoon the crucial as well as final series of the Pacific Coast League pennant race will be inaugurated at Los Angeles, where Portland plays Veras well as at San Francisco, where the Seals meet the Oaks, and at Sacrabook up for the last time.

The Angels series with the Senators is of but little moment, for these clubs are hopelessly out of the running, and will finish in their respective positions of fifth and sixth no matter how the series ends. However, the other two series will decide not only first place, but also that of third and fourth. The Beavers have practically cinched the pennant, but the result is not settled beyond all question for the reason that there is still a possible chance for Portland to lose.

However, it is a mighty slim chance and the fans do not think there is much likelihood of the bunting going any other place but here. As explained in the tables published yesterday morning Portland has only to win four games to cinch the flag providing Oakland should win seven straight from the Seals. If Oakland loses one to San Francisco then it will be incumbent upon the Beavers to win but three games to be declared the champlona. By this reasoning it can be seen that if Oakland loses two games to San Francisco Portland will only have to win two games from Vernon to cinch win two games from Vernon to cinc matters.

In California it is generally conceded that Portland has the champion team, and the writers down there express pleasure over the Beaver victory because they realize that it leaves no opening for questioning a championship decided upon a technicality, such as would have been the case had Gakland been vicbeen the case had Gakland been vic-torious since being given three games through the decision of Judge Graham on the playing of Gus Hetling. It is quite true that a victory for Port-land will eliminate all claims to an II-legally won pennant, but it does not mitigate the handleap Portland is under and always will be, by playing in a one-sided circuit. The Pacific Coast League will hold a meeting on November 3 and sided circuit. The Facinc Coast League will hold a meeting on November 3, and Judge McCredie will probably attend this session, though he is somewhat doubtful as to his ability to get away. doubtful as to his ability to get away. This meeting will formally transact all business deferred at the meeting held several days ago; and will also adopt the schedule for next season.

The double umpire system will also be up for discussion and final adoption, or rejection, as the case may be. All the clubs in the league will be present and all quarrels and squabbles seem to have been abolished after the recent meeting, which leaves the scene clear for an amicable gathering on November 3.

The Northwestern League meets tonight, and at this meeting it is possible that Portland will be formally admitted to that circuit on the conditions imposed by the Pacific Coast League, and the sixth city to comprise the circuit is also likely to be named. Judge Lindsay, of Seattle, the new president of the league, has issued the call for the meeting, and Judge McCredie will represent ing, and Judge McCredie will represent
