Fans Will Greet Champions When They Alight From Train at Depot.

AUTOS WILL CARRY TEAM

Band Will Head Parade of Citizens and McCredie's Men Through Downtown Streets—Benefit Downtown Streets—Benefit Fund Still Growing.

AUTO OWNERS TO PARADE. The members of the Portland Automobile Club are requested to be at the Union Depot today at 2:15 P. M. with their cars to take part in the parade and reception in honor of the Portland baseball team.

BY W. J. PETRAIN. At 2:30 o'clock this afternoon the champion Portland Beavers will arrive at the Union Depot on the Shasta Limited, and they will be met at the station by an enthusiastic crowd of fans who will escort them through the streets of the city in automobiles.

Due to a misunderstanding, principally due to the negligence of Manager McCredie and one or two other members of the team to answer telegrams sent them inquiring the time of the team's arrival home, the reception committee was unable to learn the hour of arrival until informed by the management of the Continental Hotel, of San Francisco, that the boys had left on the limited train yesterday morning.

Autolists Will Respond. When informed yesterday afternoon that the team would arrive this afternoon, M. C. Dickinson, president of the Portland Automobile Club, issued a hurried call to the members of the club to have their machines at the Union Station to meet the champions, and the number of favorable responses received last night indicates a big turnout to meet the "champs."

The reception committee also decided to secure the services of a band, and this means that the team will be received in the most approved manner. Besides, every fan in Portland who can spare the time from business will be at the depot, and as this is election day many of them will have a few hours off in the afternoon, a big crowd is expected at the station to give the players a royal welcome.

Fielder Jones, the leader of the world's champion Chicago White Sox of 1906, is also expected to reach Portland today or tomorrow, and he will play one of the outfield positions for the All-Star team being formed to battle McCredie's champions in the big benefit game to be played Sunday, providing the weather permits.

The benefit fund is now well over the $100 mark and is growing rapidly. The subscriptions to date and the subscribers yesterday follow:

COLUMBIA TO PLAY Interscholastic Championship Fight on Tomorrow.

WASHINGTON HIGH READY University Team Will Give School-boys Hard Contest for Season's Honors at Recreation Park.

FOOTBALL GAME POSTPONED Willamette and Multnomah Not to Play Until November 16.

The football game between Willamette University and the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club, scheduled originally to be played this afternoon, has been postponed to Wednesday, a week from tomorrow.

The principal reason for the postponement is that several of the Multnomah players sustained injuries. The weather would be likely to reduce the attendance to a minimum.

Both clubs agreed to defer the date to next week. This will give each team a chance to get into better condition.

AMERICAN RECORD GOES AUTO RACER TRAVELS AT RATE OF 72 MILES AN HOUR.

Number 13 in Big Atlanta Speedway Race Proves Hoodoo to Self and Others.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 7.—Traveling at 72 miles an hour, Joe Horan, driving a Lutz car, won the 250-mile speedway grand prize here today and set a new American record for the distance.

His time was 3 hours 26 minutes and 15.19 seconds, beating the previous record of 4 hours 38 minutes 57 4-5 seconds, made by Burman in a Buick at the Indianapolis speedway, August 15, 1909, and comes within four minutes of equalling the world's record for 300 miles made at Brooklands, England.

The number 13, carried by R. J. Church's Simplex car, is held responsible for the drivers, not only because of its bad luck, but also for the many accidents that befall other cars.

As car No. 13 swept up with the leaders in the first 25 miles, many of the other cars immediately began to suffer from engine troubles and had to be stopped at the repair pits.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 7.—In a most spectacular automobile race, the Kinsler, won second place in 18 hours, 15 1/2 minutes. The Pope-Hartford, driven by W. D. Tremaine, finished second, but had third place in 17 hours, 17 minutes.

The Franklin car, driven by Ralph Hamlin, won second place in 18 hours, 15 1/2 minutes. The Pope-Hartford, driven by W. D. Tremaine, finished second, but had third place in 17 hours, 17 minutes.

Other cars which have not yet finished are: Apperson, known to have had tire trouble, and Abbott-Detroit and Ohio. This accounts for 12 cars, the other two entries, Maxwell and Knox, returning to Los Angeles.

VINCENT STILL PRESIDENT Elections Make No Changes in Official Board of Press Club.

Such commonplace affairs as the election of a Governor, a State Legislature or determining the attitude of a commonwealth on the liquor question were of secondary interest to a few score of Portland citizens composing the membership of the Portland Press Club when they made their annual selection of officers yesterday.

The election of officers was held at the club headquarters, 1200 Commercial street, yesterday afternoon. The officers elected were: President, Sydney B. Vincent, of the Associated Press; vice-presidents, John L. Travis, of the Journal; Lute Pease, of the Journal; and M. J. Levinson, of the Oregonian; secretary, Mark Woodruff, of the Oregonian; assistant secretary, Fred W. Vincent, of the United Press; treasurer, James S. Tyler, of the Journal; and O. C. Lefter, of the Oregonian; directors, John J. Harrison, of the Carman; F. E. Sullivan, of the Catholic Sentinel; W. G. MacRae, of the Sketch; Fred W. Bell, of the Journal; Jack Barrett, of the Oregonian; O. C. Merrick, of the Associated Press; and Charles N. Ryan, press representative of the Orpheum Theater.

ANNEXATION RESULT OF ANNEXATION. Annexation means building 700 miles of roads and bridges in Clackamas County. 90 per cent of the cost to be paid by Portland. Vote it down!

To Get New Men, Portland Baseball Manager Hurries to Chicago.

SEALS GET DUE CREDIT

That San Francisco's First Aided Beavers to Win Pennant Is Declaration of McCredie. New Lineup Next Season.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—(Special.)—Walter McCredie, manager of the championship Portland team, gives full credit to San Francisco for helping him win the pennant. The Portland baseball manager arrived in the morning from Los Angeles, with the Beavers. The balance of the team left on the Shasta Limited to participate in the big benefit game that will be played in Portland next week, but McCredie, who will attend the meeting of minor leagues in Chicago, decided to go directly East from San Francisco, leaving Wednesday morning.

Pasadena Should Have Team. "We ought to have a good year next season. Los Angeles will have a new grandstand, and that ought to help. Personally, I would like to see the Vernon club moved to Pasadena, for I think that would be a good thing financially. I rather guess that Portland will be fighting hard in 1911. Last year when we lost Harkness and Carson, they said it would put us out of the running. They said the same thing two years ago when Groom and Kinsella left, and now they are at the same old talk because the club loses Gregg and Krapp. I expect that we will miss Olson more than any other member. He is a hard worker, fast on the bases and a great runner."

McCredie has a new manager in mind for the Beavers. He says that Casey's legs are going back on him, and going weather would be likely to reduce the attendance to a minimum. Both clubs agreed to defer the date to next week. This will give each team a chance to get into better condition.

RANKINGS TO COME

Tennis Players Anxiously Await Announcements.

VOLLEY VIEW CHALLENGED

Another Tennis Player and Enthusiast Comes to Defense of Nat Emerson and Says Good Word for Tyler Also.

BY RALPH H. MITCHELL. Tennis enthusiasts of Portland are anxiously awaiting the announcement of the Pacific Northwest ranking for 1910, which probably will be made this week by the committee responsible, the members of which are representatives of the Vancouver, B. C., Everett, Wash., and Portland clubs in the International Association.

The ranking of the Portland tennis players will not be made until after the North Pacific rating has been announced, though it, too, may be given out this week.

Through a misapprehension, some tennis players of Portland thought that the review by "Volley" in the Sunday Oregonian was at least a semi-official rating. On the contrary, it was merely the opinion of an individual who follows the tennis game and has nothing to do with the official ranking of the Northwest players in any respect.

"Volley's" Ideas at Variance. "Volley's" ideas of tennis and the Portland and Northwest players' ability to wield the racquet are much at variance from those players who took part in play on the Northwest and Portland courts this year.

It is folly for one who has played against Nat Emerson, former Western champion and present Oregon titleholder, to say that the former Cincinnati player, now of Washington, is not a brilliant player, that his service is not good, that his overhead work is exceedingly poor. Those who saw Emerson on the local courts last summer, for his first time here, were greatly surprised at the exceedingly strong game put up by the former Western champion after being out of the game for over a year.

Emerson told the writer, on his visit here, that he had followed the plot more than he had followed the racquet on his Washington orchard, and didn't expect to make a strong showing in his play, but he hoped to be able to enter the Oregon state tournament each year now, and might in time be able to "come back." He came back, and it was his brilliant playing, his strong, straight and reverse serve and his overhead work which won for him. Then, too, Emerson's name has generally been seen, at least, in seventh place in the ranking of America's best tennis players. Could anything but brilliant playing, a good service and clever overhead work put him there?

It would be safe to venture the guess that if "Volley" whoever he may be, enters the state tournament next year, he will be able to do so.

WATER AMENDMENT.

Vote number 102—Yes—for the water amendment. It is not an experiment. Used now in 90 per cent of our large cities.

Capital to extend the system is obtained by bond issue at 4 per cent on 25 years' time. Sinking fund is re-invested and bonds are not increased.

Water Board may compete with contractors on laying mains. Repays assessments made under present law. Prevents abuse by speculators. Gives relief to districts needing water.

Advances progress of our city. Places the best-known water supply on the best-known basis. Vote for it.

CIVIC COUNCIL OF PORTLAND. (Paid Adv.)

Comment Awaits Findings.

It would be out of place to comment on the North Pacific or Portland players before the ranking committee makes its announcement, so we will withhold till that time.

Suffice to say that "Volley" has the situation sized up as to Wickesham's title to first place among the Portland players. Every one concedes him the title. But we fear "Volley" failed to grasp all of the inside history of Tyler's poor showing this year.

Like Emerson, Tyler played less tennis this year than ever before since he entered his championship form. He was busily engaged at tending to business, preparatory to becoming a Benedict, and failed to find the time necessary to give him the practice any one requires who is to meet Brandt Wickesham.

"Volley's" idea on the ranking plan would meet with the approval of the majority of tennis players. I have no doubt that every one will be satisfied when the findings are announced, but further comment may be made in the columns following the results of those findings, for the Northwest and for Portland.
