After Acrimonious Debate, Constitutional Convention Rejects Plan.

LOBBY GOES FOR NAUGHT

Suffragists Hope Yet to Get Issue Before Voters of New State by Means of Petition Under Initiative.

PHOENIX. Ariz. Nov. 11.—After three hours devoted to debate on the woman suffrage question, the constitutional convention defeated the "votes for women" movement by defeating the Connelly proposition by a vote of 23

The suffragists have maintained a lobby at the convention ever since the first day, and, although it was known a week ago that the elections committee would make an unfavorable report, they have waged a persistent campaign concentrating recent efforts to obtain the passage of the Connelly measure, which would have made it mandatory on the part of the first Legislature to call a special election at which men and women would have voted on the question. The suffragists have maintained a

The women's side of the debate to-day was led by Delegates Ingraham and Webb, while the opposition was represented by Delegates Connif, El-lenwood and Parsons. The debate at times grew scrimonious. The gallery was crowded with advo-cates of suffrage applauding everything said in its favor. Mr. Ellenwood con-fined his argument entirely to reading a speech by Senator Root, of New York, made at the New York constitutional a speech by Senator Root, of New York, made at the New York constitutional convention in 1894, in which woman suffrage was opposed. The committee of the whole recommended that the Connelly proposition he indefinitely postponed, 28 to 14, and when the convention took up the matter of the adoption of the recommendation of the committee it carried, 28 to 15.

The question of separate submission at the convention to raify the constitution still remains, but suffrage leaders have not lost interest, holding they can get submission at any time by the initiative.

An interesting debate is expected tomorrow on the judiciary system report. The juvenile court question, which was set for tomorrow, will also come up tomorrow in the committee of the

ROOSEVELT IN SECLUSION

He Shuts Himself in Library, Not Even Chopping Trees.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Nov. 11 .- Oyster Bay vainly wonders today what has become of Colonel Rossevelt, who is still in complete seclusion at Sagamore Hill. Not since his return from the Spanish-American War 12 years ago has the Colonel kept himself so secluded at his home and the village folk do not know what to make of it.

The Colonel has not even indulged in his favorite diversion of felling a tree with an ax, which so delighted his visiturs. It is said the Colonel spends most of his time in his library.

REGRETS SENT TO WASHINGTON

Minister Creel Sees No Outlook for

Diplomatic Rupture. MEXICO CITY, Nov. IL—In an inter-view tonight concerning the recent dis-turbances in this city. Enrique C. Creek Minister of Foreign Relations, said that the Mexican Government had communicated to Washington the pro-found regret felt for the acts of vio-lence committed and had given assur-

lence committed and had given assurances that those responsible would be dealt with by judicial authorities and in conformity with the law.

He did not believe, he said, that there existed any danger of a rupture of the friendly relations between the two countries, because both Governments were destrous of seeing justice.

"Never," he said, "have the relations between the countries been so cordial or so solidly cemented as at present, and truth and justice will open a way to produce calm and the conviction that affairs of this insture should be settled by diplomacy and the departments of justice and not by acts of violence."

Shipments Lag, on Portland Traders Ordering at Dayton, Wash.

DAYTON, Wash. Nov. 11.—Except for offers from Portland buyers, com-paratively no grain is being shipped from Dayton, Turners Huntsville, Alto, Starbuck and other shipping centers in starbuck and other employers. Similar quietude is recorded here in selling, scarcely no oferings being made at present prices of 64 cents for wheat and 56 cents for barley. These quotations show a drop of 15 cents on barley and 16 cents on wheat since har-

Feed barley is moving toward tide-water at the rate of 15,000 bushels a week and it is principally for local trade. Practically no export wheat is being demanded, warehouse receipts here showing that not over 20 per cent of this year's crop of wheat is shipped —a surprisingly small per cent for this season, compared with former years.

Clay was bedaubed with mud when he made his report and there were two bullet holes through his clothes, one through the right sleeve of his overcoat. He also had a distinct powder-burn across the palm of his right hand, as though a bullet had grazed the skin.

Clay describes his assailant as a stockliy built man, wearing a handker-chief as a mask and carrying a revolver. Clay stated he was in a carriage responding to a call from Dr. F. E. Smith of this city, who had reported his automobile had broken down. The highwayman, Clay says, ordered him to alight from the carriage. This Clay did and the highwayman started to

Sister-in-Law Says He May Soon

Wed Rich American. NEW YORK, Nov. 11 .- (Special.) -- Count Boni de Castellane, who married Miss

Anna Gould, is seeking another rich American bride, it was reported today. It is declared he has filed a petition with the Vatican for a Papal confirms tion of his civil divorce so that the way to another marriage will be opened to him. A friend of the Castellane family in this city said today: "It may see mincredible, but it is true that the Count is contemplating another matrimonial alliance with an American helress. He will soon visit America. What first started the report that Count ioni was anxious to wed another American helress was a statement by Bonl's sister-in-law, the Comtesse Jean de Castellane, at a reception at Versailles. When the Count was asked concerning the matter, he refused to make either denial or affirmation. Last February a report was printed that the Count was to wed Miss Mabel Gerry, of New York. The Gerry family denied the story promptly and vigorously.

After Committing Murder, Radeliffe Defies Garrison for Hours, Then Ends Own Life.

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. M.—Gunner Bowian, of the Point Macaulay Coast Defenses, was this morning shot and killed by George Radeliffe, and when surrounded committed suicide. There had been a long-standing feud between the two men, Bowlan being a non-commissioned officer. After the killing Radcliffe took up a position in the rocks, outside the fort, from which he defied the whole garrison. Armed with a service rifle and abundant ammunition and with the sea on one side and earthworks in front of him, he held the soldiers at bay for hours and fired on a detachment of men that went to pick up the corporal's body. Realizing that he would be starved out ultimately, Radeliffe turned his rifle on himself and blew off his head. Today's tragedy recalls that of August 1 last, when Gunner Thomas Ailen, of the Royal Artillery, shot and killed Captain Peter Elliston for a fancied grievance near the spot of to day's murder.
