

REPUBLICANS BOW TO 'BOSS' MURPHY

Former Saloon Man Holds New York State.

NEW RULER IS AMBITIOUS

What Will Dix Do? Is Leading Question in East.

OLD GUARD REPUDIATED

With Roosevelt "Beaten to Frazzle," to Use His Own Expression, Problem Arises as to Who Will Be Future "Moses."

BY LLOYD F. LONERGAN.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—(Special.)—In one of the old musical comedies there was a scene where the King was discovered on his throne. An attendant enters and, after bowing deeply, says: "My liege, there is a poor man without."

"Without what?" asks the monarch.

"Without food or raiment or the means to procure either," is the reply.

Republican Party in Flux

And that is just the position of the Republican party in this state at present. It is without food or raiment or the means of getting it.

Now that the election smoke has cleared away, a careful analysis justifies the statement that the voters have not only repudiated Taft and Roosevelt, but everyone else that is of any standing in the party.

All over the state candidates who enjoyed the favor of any Republican leader seemed to be stung out for additional tortures. Apparently the voters on discovering the names of the party are of a Republican leader, and then they wanted him.

The old guard points with pride that although Roosevelt lives in a normally strong Republican district, he lost his election district, his Assemblyman, State Senator and Congressman, all of whom were elected the time before by overwhelming pluralities.

Newspaper Man Beats Fish

New York will have no insurgent Republicans in Congress next year. Fowler, fallen of nomination and Hamilton Fish, the other one, is beaten by the Foughesdale correspondent of the New York American. This, however, can hardly be claimed as a victory for Hearst.

Ex-State Chairman Woodruff lost his Assembly district for the first time and will have no spokesman in Albany.

Vice-President Sherman, whom he promoted, had his warm personal friend, Charles B. Millington, sent to Congress. This year Sherman was anxious to see Millington re-elected. He was also desirous of rejoicing over the defeat of State Senator Davaport, one of the most aggressive of the Roosevelt men. Both candidates were left at home.

Congressman J. Stuart Fawcett, who has been one of the big bosses of the Delaware Valley tier for years, was licked for re-election.

Senator Root's Man Beaten

Senator Root, during the campaign, expressed himself as very much interested in the re-election of State Senator George Agnew. Agnew was one of the really valuable men at Albany, and his district was heavily Republican. He could not stand against such an endorsement, however, and was beaten.

Herbert Parsons, the power behind Griscom, was defeated for re-election to Congress.

Ross Greiner, of Buffalo, lost two State Senators who have been in Albany steadily for 20 years apiece. He also lost a Supreme Court Justice in a district that has a Republican majority of 15,000.

All of which (and these are only a few of the striking examples), convinces the rank and file of the party that re-organization is badly needed, but they are unable to pick out the man who will take command of their forces.

The Old Guard has been repudiated. Roosevelt is "beaten to a frazzle," to use one of his own expressions. Seemingly neither one of these forces commands the respect of the party at large. No question of the hour is, "Who is going to be our Moses?"

Republicans in Minority

When the Legislature meets in January the Republicans will have a strong minority in both houses. Senator Harvey Hinman probably will lead in one branch and Assemblyman Edward L. Merritt in the other. But Hinman is a follower of Hughes, while Merritt sticks to the Old Guard. The chances are that they will get their signals crossed.

Speaker James W. Wadsworth will not be at Albany this Winter. He refused to run for re-election, which, in view of developments, was wise. For his county, Livingston, went Democratic for the first time in history.

The elevation of Governor Hughes to the United States Supreme Court is now realized as a party misfortune. Hughes is probably the only man in the state today who commands the support of the Independent Republicans. He has been

POSTOFFICE BLOWN UP; ONE INJURED

BLAST FOLLOWED BY FIRE AT SKAMOKAWA, WASH.

Dynamite Stored in Warehouse Near Store May Have Wrecked Building and Injured Postmaster.

KELSO, Wash., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—News reached here tonight that the postoffice and general store at Skamokawa, Wash., a few miles down the Columbia River from Cathlamet, had been blown up and that the postmaster was injured. Following the explosion, the store building caught fire and burned to the ground.

These meager details were the only ones to reach Kelso this evening, Skamokawa being a hard place to get into communication with.

Whether the explosion was an accident or the work of would-be robbers has not been learned. It is said, however, that the proprietor of the general store had a quantity of dynamite stored in a small warehouse nearby and this may have been accidentally exploded, wrecking the building and injuring the postmaster.

The store occupies a two-story frame building and is owned by C. Silverman. It is known that he carried a heavy stock and the loss on the building and contents will be from $2000 to $3000.

Skamokawa is a village of about 300 feet from the postoffice but escaped damage from the explosion and fire.

Skamokawa is a village of about 300 and is a fourth-class postoffice. The postmaster is Llewellyn Kennedy.

PEARLS LOST AT BANQUET

Society Girl Misses Gems Worth $5000 at Palace Hotel Feast.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—(Special.)—Mourning the loss of a valuable string of pearls which, up to Thursday night, was her proudest possession, Miss Sylvia Talbot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Talbot, is in her apartment at the Palace impatiently awaiting news of recovery of the jewels.

Miss Talbot wore the pearls Thursday night to dinner at the Palace, and later to the performance of the Kirmess, where Alfred Rosenstrin, a member of the Talbot party, noticed them about her neck as he assisted her in putting on her wraps. When she reached the Palace for the banquet, following the Kirmess, the gems were nowhere to be found.

The pearls, valued at $5000, were a gift from Mrs. Talbot to her daughter two years ago. Many years were spent by Mrs. Talbot in collecting gems that would match. The necklace is well known among experts in jewelry for its beauty and the size of the gems.

F. C. Talbot is a vice-president of the firm of Pope & Talbot.

Miss Talbot's mother thinks it probable that the jewels were stolen by a pickpocket.

ROOSEVELT GIVES OPINION

Silence Broken by Statement That Progressives Will Win.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The following statement by Theodore Roosevelt, his first comment on the recent elections, will appear in the forthcoming issue of the magazine of which he is an editor:

"On every hand, personally and by correspondence, I have been asked to make a statement regarding the election. So far as I am concerned, I have nothing whatever to add to or to take away from the declaration of the principles which I have made in the Osgawatomie speech the last three months.

"The fight for progressive, popular government has merely begun and will certainly go on to a triumphant conclusion in spite of initial checks and irrespective of the personal check or failure of individual leaders."

Colonel Roosevelt has received about 15,000 letters and several hundred telegrams since election day. Some of them are sarcastic in tone, while others were from men who commended his work.

WOMAN WASHES DIRTY BILL

Certificate Is So Clean That Bank Teller Thinks It Counterfeit.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—A mistake that may become common if the Government finally decides to launder dirty paper money, came to the attention of the treasury officials today.

A woman in New York received an extremely dirty silver certificate. She promptly washed and ironed the bill. It came out of the process bright and clean and she took it to the bank.

It looked so strange that the bank teller pronounced the note a counterfeit and sent it to Washington for inspection.

"The only thing the matter with that," smiled Chief Wikke, "is that it's clean."

VALUABLE RING RECOVERED

Portland Man Slips Gem Under Ferry Slip for Safe Keeping.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—Alleging that he had been held up Saturday night at the ferry slip at the foot of Washington street, a commercial traveler of Portland returned to the slip yesterday morning and recovered a $200 diamond ring, which he had slipped from his finger and pushed with his foot into a crack.

By tearing up the plank on the slip the ring was found glistening in the light. The salesman would not divulge his name nor make complaint to the police. He said the robbers secured $7.50 from him.

LYNCHING STIRS MOB ANEW

Drastic Action to Be Taken by Lone Star State Officials to Quell Uprising—Recent Riots in Mexican Cities Condemned.

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 14.—Governor Campbell tonight received a long distance call from the Sheriff of Edwards County saying he had received a telegram from Del Rio to the effect that a mob of Mexicans are marching to Rock Springs because of the recent lynching.

Governor Campbell ordered the Sheriffs and Deputies from surrounding counties to report to him at once.

The Governor also is getting into communication with the state rangers. If need be, he will order out the state militia.

At San Antonio a long-distance telephone message was received by the Associated Press from Rock Springs, saying:

"Much uneasiness prevails here tonight because of a message received from the Sheriff at Del Rio that a body of armed Mexicans is marching upon the town. The county is well picketed tonight and a request for aid has been sent to Governor Campbell. He has promised to send rangers."

The Mexican Consul from Eagle Pass was in Rock Springs today investigating the lynching of Antonio Rodriguez. He did not divulge his findings.

MEXICAN RIOTS CONDEMNED

Authorities Hold Score of Mob Members for Trial.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 14.—Circular letters condemning in strong terms the recent demonstrations of students against Americans here, were read in all the public schools and other educational institutions under government control in Mexico City today. The letters were signed by the Minister of Public Instruction.

Seven students who have been in prison since the recent troubles were released today after being examined. Twenty of their comrades were fortunate and after being given a preliminary hearing were sent back to confinement to await trial.

PARTY OF AMERICANS STONED

Another Mob of Mexicans Breaks Out in Riot.

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 14.—A party of Americans was stoned Sunday in a race demonstration at Chihuahua, Mex. The mob first assembled at Hidalgo Plaza, where incendiary speeches were made, and then marched up Calle Aldama, shouting, "Remember Antonio Rodriguez." For some time the mob

AGED HERMIT FOUND DEAD

Jones Flournoy Dies Friendless Near Roseburg; Was Rich.

ROSEBURG, Or., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—Jones Flournoy, aged 75 years, and for more than half a century a resident of Douglas County, was found dead Sunday in his cabin, situated in a secluded portion of the thickly timbered districts about 20 miles west of here. The body was discovered by neighbors who were attracted to the premises by Flournoy's failure to appear about the place as usual. The coroner was notified and upon examination concluded that he died of natural causes. Mr. Flournoy was a character whose disposition almost seceded him from the view and companionship of friends. In years past he seldom came to town save to purchase necessary supplies and to his acquaintances he was recognized as the hermit of Flournoy Valley. He leaves considerable money as well as several hundred acres of land. The body was buried at Melrose today. Prior to locating in Flournoy Valley he lived in Coos County.

TOLSTOISICKENS; FRIENDS ALARMED

Train Is Quitted for Station Room.

PHYSICIAN IS AT HIS SIDE

Temperature Goes to 104 After Ride in Peasant Car.

PARTY IS OFF TO CAUCASUS

Accompanied by Daughter, Count Starts for Shores of Black Sea, Where He Hopes to Die Among Tolstolian Colonies.

TULA, Russia, Nov. 14.—Broken down by the hardships of a Winter journey, mental strain, and a rupture with his family, Count Leo Tolstol lies tonight in the little railroad station at Astapova, 80 miles from his home, suffering with high fever.

Tolstol is attended by Dr. Makovetsky, his sole companion when he left his home a few days ago, and who carried along with him medications for such an emergency. Tolstol's daughter, Alexandra, is acting as his nurse.

Telegraphic reports of his condition are far from favorable. Indeed, they are considered extremely pessimistic. His temperature is 104, indicating probably a serious congestion and of itself an alarming symptom in one of Tolstol's years.

Mental Anguish Handicap.

The mental anguish of the patient handicaps the efforts of the physician to reduce his fever. Even if he recovers there can be no question of his continuing the journey to the Caucasus, where he hopes to end his life among the Tolstolian colony on the shores of the Black Sea.

Tolstol had hoped to escape notice after his departure from Yamaya Poilica, and spend a quiet week of farewell with his sister, Marie, a nun in the ancient cloister of Sharmardino, in the province of Kaluga, but he insisted upon leaving immediately; he found his retreat had been discovered.

He drove in a carriage last evening from Sharmardino to Kozelsh, accompanied by his daughter, Alexandra, and Dr. Makovetsky, in order to cover his movements, and announced he was going to Moscow, where he has a house.

Night Spent in Station.

Later, however, the party changed cars and boarded a local train proceeding in the direction of the Caucasus. Tolstol, with his two companions, made his way to an unventilated third-class compartment, crowded with peasants. The atmosphere was stifling, and he developed such a fever that Dr. Makovetsky thought it unwise to attempt to reach Dankov, the first town of any considerable size.

They left the train at Astapova, a little flag station. There is no hospital there and only a few peasant houses. The Count was taken into the station building, where he remained during the night.

Monk Entertains Count.

On the way to Sharmardino, Count Tolstol stayed over night at the monastery of the Holy Trinity.

Count Tolstol Stayed Over Night at the Monastery.

PRETENDER WEDS IN ROYAL CASTLE

YOUNG BONAPARTE MARRIES DAUGHTER OF LEOPOLD.

Magnificent Gifts Are Received From Most of Royal Houses of Europe—Pope Sends Message.

TURIN, ITALY, Nov. 14.—The marriage of Prince Victor Napoleon Bonaparte, cousin of King Victor Emmanuel, and pretender to the throne of France, and Princess Clementine, daughter of the late King Leopold, of Belgium, which has been looked forward to with so much interest, was celebrated today at Moncalieri, a village pleasantly situated a few miles from here.

The ceremony took place in the royal castle erected in the 15th century, to which the Princess Clotilde, sister of King Humbert and mother of Prince Victor Napoleon, retired after the overthrow of the French empire.

The members of the Savoy and Bonaparte families were present, including Prince Louis Napoleon, the younger brother of the pretender, who for some time had not been on good terms with the bridegroom, but who agreed to a reconciliation on this occasion, chiefly through the efforts of his mother. He acted as a witness for his brother, the other witness being the Duke of Aosta.

As Napoleon the Great was the first to introduce civil marriage in the legislation of Europe, following the tradition of the Bonaparte family, the Mayor of Moncalieri was the first to unite the two. This ceremony took place at the French Consulate, as Prince Victor Napoleon appeared as a French citizen domiciled in Paris, although for more than 30 years he has been exiled from his country.

Magnificent gifts were received from most of the royal houses of Europe. Princess Clementine received a letter from the Pope imparting the apostolic benediction to her and her husband. The latter received messages of loyalty from the Bonapartist committee in France and Corsica.

OLD OPERA IS REVIVED

New York Hears Stars Sing Gluck's 100-Year-Old "Armide."

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The New York social and musical seasons became realities tonight when the Metropolitan Opera Company rendered Christopher Gluck's opera, "Armide," written over a century ago, but never before produced in America. An all-star cast interpreted the melodies of the early operatic school of Gluck. The story is based on Tasso's poem of Armide, the sorceress, who, angered because the knight Renaud, or Renaud, is the only one of the Crusaders who is not encompassed by her charms, finally succeeds in enchanting him, takes him to her magic garden, but loses him in the end.

Mme. Olive Fremstad sang the part of Armide, Enrico Caruso was Renaud, Pasquale Amato played Hildraot, the King, and Mme. Louise Homer sang the contralto role of Haine.

SCHOONER MAY BE SUNK

Alaska Power Boat, Carrying 13, Feared Caught by Storm.

NOME, Alaska, Nov. 14.—Anxiety is felt for the power schooner Bender Brothers, which sailed for Seattle October 29 with 13 passengers. She must have encountered the terrific storm that swept Bering Sea a few days after her departure.

The power schooner Duxbury sailed from Nome, November 8 for Seattle with mail and passengers. The weather has been good since her departure. The Duxbury will be the last vessel to pass out of Bering Sea this year.

There is no wireless station at Dutch Harbor and the searchers cannot be reported. They will probably sail direct from Unalaska to Seattle unless forced by severe weather to put into some Alaska port.

FATHER WHIPPED IN COURT

Angry Son Files to Defense of Mother's Reputation.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—Because his father made reflections upon his mother from the witness stand in the Police Court here today, George Cameron attacked him and gave him a terrible beating before the court attaches succeeded in separating the pair.

The elder Cameron was on trial on a charge of battery, preferred by his wife, when he incensed his son by making disparaging remarks about the complaining witness. Young Cameron flew to the defense of his mother's reputation, and attacked his father.

Judge Shortall said that the beating was so well merited that he would not hold the young man for contempt, but he was ordered from the courtroom. The elder Cameron was convicted on the charge of battery.

BOY HUNTER KILLS SELF

Three Brothers After Rabbits, One Victim of Broken Gun.

LA GRANDE, Or., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—Premature explosion of a shotgun today killed Ralph Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Young, of Hilgard.

Ralph, with two older brothers, had been hunting rabbits west of Hilgard when the boy, who was only 15 years old, set the weapon against a stump in such a way that the lock was broken. The two older brothers were a short distance away at the time of the accident.

BASIS OF THEATER PACT IN DISPUTE

K. & E. Not to Build, Says Cort's Man

"SURE WE'LL BUILD"—KLAW

Portland to Have Syndicate House, He Declares.

SHUBERT BAN TAKEN OFF

Both Sides Unite in Saying It Is Agreed Klaw & Erlanger Will Send Their Shows to Cort's Theaters This Season.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—(Special.)—Both sides to the theatrical controversy declare that Klaw & Erlanger shows will play Cort's time this year, despite previous statements that the ban was on any house that accepted Shubert bookings, John Cort's representative here said tonight:

"An agreement has been reached whereby Klaw & Erlanger stop all building through the country in opposition to houses now erected and under the control of the National Theater Owners' Association. In consideration of this agreement the National Theater Owners' Association has eliminated the clause in its bylaws, prohibiting one manager or firm from booking the attractions of more than two producers. But all attractions must be booked through the representatives of the various circuits comprising the National Theater Owners' Association."

We Will Build, Says Klaw.

Marc Klaw said today:

"Charles Frohman and Klaw & Erlanger are going to have and operate their own theater in Portland. Their names are on a contract with the Sweeney Investment Company, and the public should know by this time that those names are good."

John Murray, the syndicate's general press representative, was asked if Marc Klaw's statement meant that syndicate shows would not play in the West.

"Not at all," he replied. "We will play Cort's houses now, but have no intention of abandoning the contracts made. For example, we expect our last August show to be ready for opening. We will appear at the other house. We will build the theaters we have planned. We have not agreed not to do so."

It is understood that Cort is, through his association and personally, in complete control in California of West of the theater-going traveling companies, with the exception of San Francisco, Los Angeles and Salt Lake, where the syndicate now has theaters under control for terms of years.

"BAN" BOSH, SAYS HELIG

Association Houses Will Book Shows of Any Firm or Syndicate.

"The 'ban' referred to in your New York special," said Calvin Helig, of the Helig Theater, last night, "does not exist. It is ridiculous to think of it. Klaw & Erlanger are admitted into the National Theater Owners' Association upon the same basis as any other producer. Were not that the case the association would be without the principle for which all theater owners are now contending. We are fighting for the open theater." Any firm willing to produce an attraction can make dates with the association and play our houses. It does not make any difference who he is or what is his former record as to fighting the syndicate, or the theater owner, or the producer.

"As to whether Klaw & Erlanger will carry out their project for building houses in Portland and other cities, that is simply a matter for Klaw & Erlanger to decide. It is up to them. They can build their house here and still the association theaters would be open to their productions, if the Theater Owners' Association houses have open dates for them. In other words, if Klaw & Erlanger build a theater in Portland they are welcome to play the Helig any time they want to."

"We propose to have the open theater in America at all times. There is no ban against the Shuberts and there will be none. The Shuberts, Klaw & Erlanger, Henry Savage and Leibler & Co. all look alike to the association where the 'open theater' principle is involved."
