

TURKEYS IN DEMAND

Thanksgiving Market Probably 26 Cents Wholesale.

SHIPPERS MAKE NO PRICE

As Usual They Withhold Information as to the Extent of Their Shipments—Seattle Buyers Play Waiting Game.

Only one fair-sized lot of dressed turkeys reached front street yesterday and they were cleaned up in short order at 25 1/2 cents.

The opinion prevails on the street that the Thanksgiving wholesale market will be about 25 cents. A few look for a 25-cent market, while some believe the price will be as high as 30 cents.

Shippers are still withholding information as to the extent of their shipments and will sell only on the basis of next week's market.

DEMAND FOR WHEAT IS BETTER.

Farmer Show More Disposition to Meet Demand for Wheat.

There was some inquiry yesterday for wheat prices from farmers who a few days before would not consider offers in general.

United Kingdom.—The condition of the new seedling in wheat are renewed complaints regarding threshing results.

France.—The outlook for the new-sown wheat is favorable. Arrivals at the ports are larger.

North Africa.—There are complaints of the weather in Algeria, Tunisia and Morocco.

Australia.—There have been further good rains and the outlook is much improved.

Canada.—The outlook for the new-sown wheat is improving.

Hungary.—The outlook for the new-sown wheat is improving.

STOCKS STILL WEAK

Steady Tone in Other Lines of Livestock.

GENERAL DEMAND GOOD

Scarcity of Prime Steers Turns the Buyers to Butcher Staff.

There was a moderate offering of livestock on the market yesterday and an active demand checked up the supply.

The hog market continues weak and fluctuating. A single sale was reported yesterday at 49.
