Eagle Gorge Representative, Having Support of 55 Solons, Is Sure of Election-Senate Situation Uncertain.

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 15.-(Special.)--Howard D. Taylor, of Eagle Gorge, King Howard D. Taylor, of Eagle Gorge, King County, will be the Speaker of the House in the Legislature for the session of 1911. This decision was reached today at a conference between Mr. Taylor, Dr. William Beach, of Mason: E. A. Sims, of Jefferson, and George Dixon, of Kitsap, candidates from west of the Cascades who met at the Olympus Hotel. This decision was not announced until after they had arrived in Olympia. James McNeeley, of Buckley, and Dr. P. H. Carlyon, of Olympia, were the only other legalators at the meeting yesterday.

The conference was held in Tacoma following a preliminary meeting in Seattle Sunday, and a series of conferences held by the members of the Pierce County delegation. The result indicates that Pierce and King are to work in harmony during the coming session of the Legislature.

Taylor's Strength Told.

Members of the conference while in Tacoma were reticent as to what transpired at the meeting, but it is known that when Mr. Taylor was able to show that he had the support of 15 to the 17 King County members and all of the Pierce County delegation, the other candidates agreed to withdraw in his favor. This gives Mr. Taylor 55 votes on the first ballot and insures his election, since 48 votes are all that are needed to elect.

tion, since is votes are all that are needed to elect.

"The other candidates for the Speakership have decided to withdraw in my favor and this gives me 55 votes, with only 48 needed to elect," said Representative Taylor. "Entire harmony prevailed at the conference and it was the united action of the Pierce County delegation in supporting me that, in a large measure, caused the other candidates to leave the race. No programme of legislation or appointments has been arranged. Everything is open and will be determined later."

Harmony Is Expected.

Mambers of Pierce County delegation said that in uniting on Representative Taylor, they had only done so after a series of conferences in which it was decided that his selection was the best course to persue. They said that Pierce and King counties will work harmonious-by in the coming session and that this could only be done without a fight over the Speakership.

Another subject which the selection of Representative Taylor affects is the Presidency of the Senate. It is said that King County will withdraw its candidate, Pliny Allen, and will support W. H. Panihamus, of Pierce County. No definite information could be obtained on the Speakership. this subject tonight and none of the dele-gation from Pierce County would dis-cuss it though a number of the legislaadmitted that such an agreement

The principal address was made by Mr. Stone, who told of what was being done by the Eastern Associations.

"Anything to counteract the immoral forces in the cities must have a religious busis," said Mr. Stone, "The Y. M. C. A. Belleves in selecting teachers because of their moral character, it believes in encouraging young men to move to the country, it believes in instructing all whom it can reach to become producers of wealth. "Portland has many problems of its own to meet and the Y. M. C. A. is willing to undertake the task of meeting them with the help of the public. First, we should ascertain just what is needed, and them we should map out a programme for at least five years and live up to it. There should be more associations in the city."

EX-LAND COMMISSIONER WASHINGTON PASSES.

Veteran of Civil War, Jurist, and Attorney Succumbs to Illness at Tacoma.

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 15 .- (Special.) Stephen A. Callvert, ex-State Land Commissioner, died at 4:30 P. M. today in the Fannie Paddock Hospital of Bright's disease. He had been in Ill health for several months, but his condition did not become serious until a few days ago. With his wife and mother he had been visiting at the home of his daughter in this city.

Mr. Callvert was born in Illinois in 1843 and served in the Civil War with the Second Iown Infantry, participating in the battle of Shiloh.

in the battle of Shiloh.

After the close of the conflict he attended college at Ann Arbor, Mich., graduating from the law department. He took up the practice of law at Marble Hill, Miss., but after a few years removed to Dallas County, Iowa. There he was elected Judge of the Circuit Court in 1877, serving for nine years or until the Circuit Court was abol-ished by statute.

He came to Washington in 1882 and opened a law office, in Bellingham, with Jeremiah Neterer, who afterward became judge of the Superior Court of Whatcom County. In 1996 Judge Calivert was elected Commissioner of Public Lands serving a term of four years. Thereafter he returned to Bellingham and resumed the practice of law, but failing health caused him to retire from active practice a few years ago. About one year ago he purchased a home in the vicinity of American Lake, near Tacoma, where he resided until his death. For several months he served as commandant of the Soldiers Home at Orting. He came to Washington in 1893 and Fire originating in the roof presum ably from crossed electric wires de-stroyed the plant of the Acme Mill Company, at Albina and Railroad avenues shortly after 10 o'clock last night. The loss will aggregate $45,000. The damage is covered by insurance.

The mill was in operation at the time flames were first seen near the huge electric sign on the roof. by the time the fire department apparatus was on the scene the flames had eaten through the roof and had caught the through the roof and had caught the wooden conveyors and elevators on the floor below. In less than 10 minutes four floors of the building were enveloped in flames. Thirty mill hands employed on the night shift experienced narrow escapes in running to

The fire tug George H. Williams responded to the second alarm, a general conflagration appearing to be immi-nent. With the arrival of the firetus and additional apparatus several streams were turned on the blaze. The flames had gutted the interior of the building and the firemen confined their efforts to saving surrounding property. A large warehouse but a few yards away from the main plant was saved with difficulty.

In the building cereals valued at $15, 000 were stored. Fifty horses owned by the Albina Fuel Company and the Acme Mill Company were saved from near-by barns which were scorched by the flames.

the flames.

The building was four storics high and of brick-veneer construction. It recently passed into the hands of James Knott, of Walla Walla, Wash. the present owner. The loss on the building is estimated at $10,000. The plant and machinery was owned by the Acme Mill Company, of which Walter A. Goss is president. Mr. Goss last night estimated the firm's loss in excess of $25,000. Of this amount for greatest $35,000. Of this amount the greatest damage was sustained by machinery
