GRAND JURY INSPECTS POOR-FARM QUIETLY ON "ITS

Stealing a march on investigators of conditions at the County Poor farm, the grand jury went to the place restorday morning and made an exhaustive impection of the premises. Its findings will not be made known until the jury reports to Presiding Judge Cleland.

Superintendent Jackson was not at the farm while the investigation was in progress, having been called before the County Court on an independent investigation made yesterday morning by that body.

Multnemah County is to have an inexpensive, clean and sanitary tuberculosis ward, where its indigent consump tives may be cared for. This was announced by County Judge Cleston and Commissioners Lightner and Goddard yesterday morning. They invited Dra Ralph and Ray Matson and Dr. E. P. Geary to visit the new Multnomah farm, near Troutdale, with them, to select a site for the new tuberculosis ward would be built on modern lines, although it is not expected that the building will be costly.

"All that we ask is that it be san-itary," said Dr. Matson, "and possess such facilities as will help in restoring the patients to health."

Salem Hospital Too Small.

Commissioner Lightner said it was thought for a time that the new tuber culchis hospital at Salem would house Multnomah County's tubercular poor, but as it is not large enough, the county will have to care for its own will make an effort to improve condi-tions at the old poor farm on the Canyon Road, although lack of any kind of sewerage makes this difficult. A bathtub is to be bought and equipped with a hot water tank. The privilege of bathing is now denied the tubercu-lar patients. The roof of the porch, which leaks so that patients' beds are soaked, is to be repaired, and a com-petent nurse will be employed. Facilities for properly caring for the pa-lients will also be provided as re-quested, according to the promise of the County Court yesterday. Quarters for a nurse are also to be built.

Bad State Admitted.

Conditions of the Poor Farm, as reported by Dr. Ralph Matson, have been admitted by Dr. E. P. Geary. County physician, and Superintendent Jackson, and Superintendent Jackson, and the Poor Farm. Mr. Jackson said pointment to the Front-street trade, but resisted were almost out of the placing of heavy timbers fore and after the Poor Farm. Discipline Is Poor. Dr. Matson complained that discipline ever the patients is lacking, that some of them did as they pleased about visiting saloons and getting drunk.

County Judge Cleeton criticised Dr.

Geary for failing to report to the County Court the state of affairs, which has been bad for eight months. Dr. Matson was also blamed for not informing the County Court. Dr. Matson said it was a point of professional ethics for him to report to Dr. Geary, his chief. He said he wrote four letters to Dr. Geary, the first one last March, calling his attention to the filthy con-ditions and asking for better facilities. He said he examined milk given pa-tients and found it to be largely adul-terated with starch and water. The food was warmed over and coarse, he said. The milk has since been im-proved, but other conditions remain

GOOD THINGS IN THE PORTLAND MARKETS

Plenty of turkeys to satisfy the demands of Thank-giving; good quality and prices lower than last year—this seems to be the holiday market situ-ation. Choice birds can be had at 25 ation. Choice birds can be had at 15 cents a pound. All other poultry seems to cost less than it did this time last year. Chickens sell at 15 to 20 cents as pound; geese cost 20 cents, including some of the best I have ever seen in Portland. Tame ducks cost 20 cents. The carpons being 30 cents and guines. fine capons bring 30 cents, and guinea flowis 20 to 25 cents a pound. Of game there is a larger supply than usual, wild geese sell at about 75 cents, but do not seem as plentiful as the ducks. Teal cost about 75 cents to $1 a pair; widgeon and maillard about $1.25. Cansas back ducks are searce but still was back ducks are scarce, but still obtainable at $1.25 to $1.50 each. Snipe cost 75 cents a pair. Jack rabbits sell at about $0 cents and Belgian hares at at about 50 cents and beigian naive at about 51 each. Meat prices remain about as usual, but a special display of fancy cuts—crown roasts, saddles of mutton, and so forth—attempts rivalry with the poultry market Little pigs-esteemed by some epicures even more highly than the turkey—may be ob-tained, in all their innocent infantile charm, for $4 to $6 each.

Frank L. Smith, Biggest Buyer of Gobblers, Sets Pace-Cost on Sound Much Higher.

The people of Portland will have reathe low price of turkeys.

Twenty-five cents will be the quotaconsumers have known in several years. It will also mean that Portland will be one of the cheapest markets in the West.

Many reasons are assigned by dealers for the slump, but the chief cause seems to be too many turkeys. Last year there were not enough and prices went up. This year conditions are reversed and the consumer gets the benefit.

It is estimated that the total receipts to data have been tern carloads. The to date have been ten carloads. The consumption is about seven tarloads, and consequently there is a surplus. In past years Sentile and other Northern cities have drawn heavily on Portland and taken care of the surplus, but this year the Washington cities have bought but little here, having secured their supply in Idaho and the East.

Frank Is Smith, who has received, more turkeys than any other Portland retailer, has set the pace for today's trade by announcing that he will cut the price in all of his markets to 25 cents.

"We looked for a 20-cent market this Thanksgiving," said Mr. Smith last night, "but the supply of furkeys has proved much greater than we expected, so we have decided to cut the price to 25 cents. Wednesday morning. I have never seen a finer crop of turkeys than was raised in Oregon this year and the consumers are certainly fortunate in being able to get them at such a price.

BRAVE BATTLE IS LOST

French Bark's Company So Bemuddled by Acident They Watch Comrade Sink to His Death in the Willamette.

In sight and hearing of about a dozen of his comrades, who stood as though incapable of action, while officers and men of nearby craft made heroic at rescue when it was apparent aid was not forthcoming from his friends, Joseph Le Faucheur, seaman on the French bark Babin Chevaye, was drowned in the harbor shortly after 7 o'clock yester-day morning, after swimming strongly for nearly two minutes. Hugh Brady day morning, after swimming strongs for nearly two minutes. Hugh Brady will today drag for the body at the expense of the master of the bark.

The drowning occurred as the steamer Rose City was shifting from Columbia deck No. I to Montgomery dock No. 2, while the Babla Chevaye was changing berths, shifting in tow of the steamer Cockiahama from Montgomery to Columeklahama from Montgomery to Colum-da. La Faucheur was in a small bost under the port bow. The Ocklahama was sacking on the bark, and as she passed the Rose City the cry of "man over-board" was heard by First Officer Ran-kin, of the latter vessel, who endeavored to lend assistance, but owing to the fact that an oil barge was between the Rose ity and the bark, a small boat could not Captain Pearson, of the Ocklahama, ordered a boat lowered and its crew started for the drowning man, who was being carried down stream by the current, while three men put off from the revenue cutter Manning which was berthed at the coal bunkers. Meanwhile, says Mr. Rankin, sallors of the Babin Chevaye stood huddled on the forecastle, watching the efforts of the doomed man to save himself, but being weighted by boots and heavy clothing, he was unable to win the battle, and sank from view.

Heneath the port bow of the bark was a second small boat, but apparently it did not occur to the crew to use it, or to drop into the punt, which remained under the bow for a time before it was flag was displayed at haifmast. Harbor-master Speler visited the scene and ar-ranged for dragging operations to begin today, as yesterday's storm interfered with the recovery of the body.

EN THE BEST DOCTOR AT A FAIR PRICE

ThoughMyExperience Is Vastly Better, My Fees Are Really Less Than the Average Doctor Charges

The value of experience depends not so much upon its volume as upon its quality. A thousand years of inaccurate practice would make no physician more proficient. Though my experience is considerable in quantity its value lies in the fact that it is experience of the highest order—experience acquired through careful and conscientious practice, proven scientific by an unapproached record of permanent cures. I have for twenty-five years been curing all aliments peculiar to men, and each one of these years has been crowded full of careful study and sound, good experience.

Others may offer inducements, such as cheap treatment or quick treatment, but my foremost claim is for thoroughness, which in the long run—IN EVERY CASE—means the cheapest and best.

CONTRACTED AILMENTS.

You can depend upon a quick and thorough cure by my treatment. A quick cure is desirable, because a slow cure is apt to be no cure at all, and a chronic development will come later. I cure you beyond the possibility of a relapse, and in half the usual time required.

REFLEX AILMENTS.

Often the condition appearing to be the chief aliment is only a reflex aliment resulting from some other aliment. Low vitality sometimes comes from varicose weins; skin and bone aliments result from blood aliments, and physical and mental troubles follow long-standing aliments. My long experience in treting men enables me to determine the exact conditions that exist and to treat accordingly, thus removing every damaging cause and its effects.
