

BURRS MAKE NO APPEAL FOR BAIL

Millionaire Brokers Arrested by Postal Officials Still in Tombs.

CLIENT GETS PROPOSAL

Bricklayer Who Invested $2000 in Worthless Mining Stock Is Urged by Promoter to Trade It for Oil Shares.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Sheldon C. Burr, Eugene H. Burr and Frank H. Tobey, officers of Burr Brothers, stock promoters, were still in the Tombs tonight. Their operations netted them millions, according to Postmaster-General Hitchcock, but no application for bail has been made since their arrest on a charge of using the mails to defraud.

Mr. Hitchcock, who personally engineered the raid on the concern yesterday, is still in New York arranging for the speedy prosecution of the case. He said he had received a flood of congratulatory messages on the action he had taken and a flood of complaints from persons who say they have been victimized.

John Emerson, a bricklayer, who says he invested $2000 in mining stock turned over to the Federal authorities, this afternoon received a letter signed "E. H. Burr," advising him to exchange mining stock for oil stock.

It says in part: "It has been a long time since we had any business dealings with you, and have been wondering what was the reason. To be frank with you, we are about as discouraged with the mining business as you are, and we decided to discontinue all mining operations and direct our energies toward financing and developing California oil properties."

"We have been sending to you regularly our magazine 'Securities' and, if you have noticed the splendid success we have met with in our business, you will be glad to see the success of the Coalinga-Alladin Oil Company, the New York-Coalinga Oil Company and the Consolidated are all companies that have been financed and developed by us, and they are all three conspicuous successes in the Coalinga field, and we can look forward to a time not far distant when all three of these companies will enter the list of dividend-paying California oil companies."

"Would you like to change upon a reasonable basis, the stock you hold in the British-American Copper Mines & Smelting Company for stock in one of our active oil companies? From your standpoint such an exchange would seem very advantageous, as your British-American stock, as it now stands, is of very little or no value, and the exchange proposition we speak of would perhaps be the only way of saving the money you have invested in British-American stock."

LESS VERDICT IS ILLEGAL

Court Holds Degree of Guilt Can't Be Lower Than Charge.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—Holding that under the new criminal code a man charged with assault in the second degree cannot be found guilty of a less crime, the Supreme Court today ordered Arthur Kruger, of King County, released from custody and dismissed.

Kruger was accused of attacking a woman, but the judge of the lower court in his instruction to the jury included third degree assault, of which the jury found him guilty.

The decision, which was written by Judge Chadwick, says that the testimony shows that the man accomplished his purpose, but that there is no evidence to support the charge of third degree assault as defined in the new criminal code, which is to base the verdict of the jury.

The effect of the decision is to lay down the rule that first and second degree assaults are entirely different from third degree assault.

BALLINGER WOULD LEASE

System Applied to Oil Land Would Cheapen Fuel, He Says.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Liberal policy in opening the public oil lands in California and other states will be recommended to Congress by Secretary Ballinger in his annual report. He declared today that he favored a general leasing system for oil and gas bearing lands.

"The Government," said the Secretary, "ought to support any movement that would reduce the cost of fuel and for oil-bearing lands, and to secure reasonable price to the consumer is favored by the Secretary."

Every number on the programme was encouraged and demanded more.

WHEAT TAKES BIG LEAP

HEAVY SELLING IN PULLMAN JUMPS PRICE 10 CENTS.

One Palouse Country Dealer Disposes of 9000 Bushels by Advertising for Sealed Bids.

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—Wheat took a jump in Pullman, in the heart of the Palouse, today, and there was heavy selling. The price is 10 cents higher than two weeks ago and club wheat has brought 70 cents a bushel. Buyers seem anxious to get wheat and the competition is strong between local buyers.

Today a sale, unique in the history of wheat dealing in the Palouse, was made by J. S. Klemgard, vice-president and manager of the Pullman State Bank. He sold 9000 bushels belonging to himself and his tenant, Charles Kincaid, by advertising for sealed bids and selling at the highest bidder. Seven firms bid on the wheat, which was of the Red Russian and College Red varieties and a little off-grade owing to smut.

A portion of the wheat was stored at the warehouse above Wawawai, where the warehouse charges are 3 cents a bushel. The remainder was stored in Pullman. The price paid by the Campbell-Sanford-Henley Company, the highest bidder on both lots, was 67 cents for that stored in Pullman and 45 cents for that at the warehouse. The same firm bought 4000 bushels each from Charles Kellogg and Frank Hingate and 3000 bushels from S. H. Breece for 70 cents on a club basis.

T. W. Amos, agent for M. H. Hauser, bought 150 tons of barley from Frank Hingate for 90 cents for 100 pounds, and Klemgard & Price bought 15 tons of oats from Edward Hogan, farmer near Wawawai, for $1.15 for 100 pounds. Alfalfa hay sold today for $14 and timothy for $15 a ton at Pullman.

CENSUS FIGURES WAIT

RESULT IN PORTLAND TO BE ANNOUNCED TONIGHT.

Seattle Count Ready for Publication Today and Tacoma's Re-count Is Due Soon.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Nov. 22.—The Census Bureau was unable to announce the population of Portland tonight as had been planned, owing to the fact that Secretary Nagie has not had time to go over and verify corrections that have been made.

He did go over and approve the Seattle figures, which will be given out tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, and some time tomorrow he will examine the Portland returns. In that event Portland's census will be announced tomorrow night.

The result of the re-enumeration of Tacoma probably will be announced by Chief Statistician Hunt, of the Census Bureau, before he leaves Tacoma. His work is near completion and Director Durand said today that he probably would authorize Hunt to give out the total of the new count as soon as the result is known.

BRITON WINS YANKEE GIRL

Son of Lord Fisher Marries Miss Jane Morgan, of Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 22.—A wedding of international interest took place here today.

Miss Jane Morgan, daughter of Randall Morgan, a wealthy Philadelphia banker, was married to the son of Lord Fisher, of Kilverstone, admiral of the fleet, and recently first lord of the Admiralty of England, when married in St. Paul's Episcopal Church on Chestnut Hill.

ARLINGTON CLUB OPENS

ITS DOORS TO FAIR SEX

Ball Given by Portland's Leading Social Organization Draws Most Brilliant Assemblage of Social Season.

ONE of the most brilliant assemblages in the annals of Portland's history gathered at the Arlington Club last evening, when the doors were thrown open to the ladies. Promptly at 8 o'clock carriages and taxicabs began to approach the handsome building, which has recently been erected by the members of the club, on the corner of Park and Alder streets. And from these conveyances stepped to the pavement beneath the awning leading to the entrance, daintily clad women and men in severe black and white, who mingled with the guests already assembled in the halls of the clubhouse.

The first impression gained as one entered the portals was that of extreme beauty and pleasure. The women in costly gowns and jewels, the inviting strains of music from the ballroom to the right, the soft ripple of laughter and conversation all combined to effect a perfect sense of metropolitan convention.

The women ascended to the third floor, where their evening wraps were received and taken care of by competent maids, the entire floor having been reserved for the ladies' cloak and dressing rooms. The second floor was utilized for reception purposes and cards, and also the main dining and breakfast rooms were open from eleven until two o'clock, and guests might re-

POLICE "GRAFT" IS INQUIRY SUBJECT

Grand Jury's Activity Places Members of Department on Anxious Seat.

BAD CONDITIONS KNOWN

Fourth-Street Saloonkeeper Said to Be Preparing to Leave City. Identity of "Silent Six" May Be Revealed.

The probe now being conducted by the grand jury into alleged immoral conditions in the north and south ends of the city and the alleged "protection" afforded by the police to the denizens of the underworld is the subject of considerable worry to several members of the police department and their alleged lieutenants.

Already it is said that Al Wohler, the Fourth-street saloonkeeper in whose establishment the supposed "graft" money is "out," is preparing to depart from the city. He has been a resident of Portland 15 years and was formerly a member of the police department. He is known to do a flourishing saloon business and has had no apparent reason for leaving the city until the present session of the grand jury.

"Pete" Bruno and "Big Henry" Gillet, his partner in the notorious resort conducted by them known as "The Harem" at 80 North Second street, may be summoned before the grand jury to give an account of their alleged open violation of the laws governing trafficking in liquor and women. Should they be summoned before the grand jury it is probable that many of the "arrangements" they are suspected of having made with the police will be elicited from them.

Police Intimacy Alleged. It is common knowledge that several officials of the police department are on intimate terms with the management of "The Harem."

The conditions which are well known to have existed in dozens of saloons for the past several months are of a deplorable nature. From 15 to 20 females, many of whom are girls of tender years, occupied "stalls" in the saloons, under an arrangement with Bruno and Gillet, they catered to the wants of the drunken foreigners who, with the assistance of "bouncers" employed about the premises, find their way from the barroom to the rooms of the women on the floors above.

The fact that gravely immoral conditions exist about the place is well known to the police, who refuse to turn a hand to suppress them.

Just how many members of the police department are receiving tributes from the denizens of the underworld may not be fully determined. It is probable, however, that after the grand jury concludes its investigation of several suspected "wise ones" the personnel of the "Silent Six" as the chief "grafter" has been jokingly referred to, will be known.

It is probable, also, that Claude Parker, a young civil engineer, recently employed as operator of a moving-picture machine in the Picture Palace Theater, will be summoned before the grand jury to testify as to the alleged "graft" collected by the police from fallen women.

Parker, in a recent complaint made to the authorities, declared that he saw the woman proprietor of a house of ill repute pay $50 in gold to a policeman for "protection" after the grand jury transaction was conducted on the afternoon of July 5 and in such a manner as did not reveal his presence to the police officer.

At the time he made his complaint he voluntarily declared that he would appear before the grand jury and reveal the identity of the policeman.

Detectives with the District Attorney's office are busily engaged in gathering evidence against the "grafter" who are accused of collecting money for "protection" from French dive keepers, hundreds of fallen women and scores of Chinese gambling dens in the lower quarters of the city.

SELLING THEIR CHOICE

MULTNOMAH SENATORS UNITED AS TO PRESIDENCY.

County's Members of House to Present No Candidate for Speaker. Election Thought Sure.

Ben Selling was the unanimous choice of the Multnomah Senators for president of the Senate at a conference last night. The Multnomah delegation in the House has announced that if the state will give this county the president of the Senate it will not put up candidates for speaker, and a meeting of the Multnomah delegation probably will be held in the near future to discuss the action of the Senators last night.

Multnomah County has not had the presidency of the Senate since Joseph Simon presided over the upper house. The Multnomah delegation in both branches of the Legislature has taken the position that the presidency of the Senate is due this county again, and it is said, like sentiment prevails throughout the state, providing Multnomah does not advance a candidate for Speaker of the House. Letters have been received by Multnomah Senators from other Senators to the effect that if the Multnomah delegation would make unanimous decision on its candidate it would be supported without opposition when the Legislature convenes.

At the meeting last night Dan J. Mitty made a speech in which he said he had been a receptive candidate for the presidency of the Senate only if the contingent of Multnomah Senators should offer him the honor, and that he was pleased to cast his vote for Mr. Selling and know that the Multnomah Senators are unanimous in their choice.

Senator Dimick, of Clackamas County, yesterday sent word to the Multnomah delegation that he would support its choice for president. He said the interests of Multnomah and Clackamas were so closely allied that he felt it his duty to vote with the Multnomah delegation for presiding officer.

The Multnomah representatives probably will hold a meeting within the next few days to take action on the result of the conference of Senators last night, and endeavor to unite on an acceptable candidate outside of Multnomah County for Speaker.

MAYOR GILL MAKES REPLY

Regards Request for Wappenstein's Removal as Insult.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 22.—Mayor Bill C. Gill, in an earnest speech, said concerning the report of the Council committee that is investigating the police administration:

"It is an insult to my intelligence and to the intelligence of every other Seattle man who has anything to think with."

The report recommended that the Mayor's action in his selection be confirmed, the findings to be true, remove the Chief of Police, Charles W. Wappenstein, forthwith.

The Public Welfare League is checking the names on its recall petition for the ousting of Mayor Gill and finds 10 per cent of the signatures defective. The report "If upon investigation he determines the findings to be true, remove the Chief of Police, Charles W. Wappenstein, forthwith."

Blasting Done by Mistake.

In reply to a communication from City Attorney Grant, informing him that the street committee of the Council wanted the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company to stop blasting on the east bank of the river in the vicinity of Tacht Street, President Josselyn, of that company, wrote Mr. Grant yesterday that it was through a misunderstanding

LASSIE WINS AS MAN

MISS PEPPERLE, HOWEVER, WILL DON HER GOWNS AGAIN.

When Profitable Employment as Woman Is Denied Her, Actress Puts on Sack Suit.

Imbued with the belief that the world holds more opportunities for a man than it does for a woman, of a life, pretty Adele Pfefferle, once an actress whose versatility as a comedienne and musician won her distinction on the vaudeville stage, has adopted masculine attire. Her feminine proclivities, however, are beginning to overcome her and now she is planning to abandon the profession she has cleverly carried out the past seven years, and to re-assume her feminine attire next week, if her dressmaker can adjust her new wardrobe satisfactorily.

The transformation of the clever little woman of 23 summers dates back to an accident that befel her in Salt Lake a year ago, when she was run down by a speeding automobile and received what were thought to be fatal injuries. After months in a hospital she was discharged. The ugly lacerations she received incapacitated her to such an extent that she was unable to find employment as an actress.

Thrown upon her own resources she battled for an existence in dozens of positions suitable for a woman. She came to Portland two months ago. Discouraged by her inability to secure employment as a woman, she retired to the home of her mother on Seventh street. Taking them into her confidence she proceeded to carry out her resolution and "become a man." With the assistance of one of her friends she procured a brown tweed suit and donned a ready made sack suit.

At once she found employment soliciting advertising and insurance. This has proved increasingly profitable but gradually her womanly fancies have begun to overtake her ambition to live like a man. She has determined to add the brown checked trousers and from being "Joseph Howard" become Miss Pfefferle again.

Miss Pfefferle was born in Oregon. At an early age she displayed musical ability and was sent East to study. Several years ago she entered vaudeville. After defeating Arthur Pryor in the manipulation of the slide trombone in a contest in Chicago three years ago, she obtained a long engagement on the Orpheum and "Big Time" vaudeville circuits in the West.

She is the daughter of Dr. J. H. Pfefferle of Spokane.

ORATOR ITALIAN'S WIFE

Suffrage Leader's Real Name Is Minnie Reynolds Scalabrino.

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—Minnie J. Reynolds, graduate writer, traveled under an alias in Washington during her recent campaign for "votes for women."

The true name of the woman who made over 100 speeches in this state is Mrs. Minnie Reynolds Scalabrino. Her husband is Salvatore Scalabrino, a native Italian, whom she married six years ago.

Scalabrino is a sailor and is in sympathy with his wife's work. Mrs. May Arkwright Hutton dates back ten years, when Mrs. Hutton wrote her book on the Couer d'Alene troubles and the famous "bullpen" at Kellogg.

When in Washington, D. C. this year Mrs. Hutton met the suffragist speaker and induced her to come to Washington in the interests of suffrage. At that time Mrs. Hutton did not know her friend was married.

"I do not favor Mrs. Scalabrino using her real name, because it might take from Spring until the close of the campaign to explain why she came by the name of 'Minnie Reynolds' and Mrs. Hutton. I met her ten years ago and at that time she was Miss Minnie Reynolds, working on a daily paper."

ELKS PLAN CAMPAIGN

RAISING CONVENTION FUNDS WILL BEGIN JANUARY 1.

Local Commercial Organizations Pledge Support to Portland Lodge in Entertaining Visitors.

Portland Elks' 1911 Convention Committee met in the clubrooms of the lodge last night and discussed plans for the campaign to be commenced immediately after January 1, to raise funds for entertaining the grand lodge of the organization here one year from next July.

The publicity committee is now engaged in framing a salutation to the 1300 lodges of Elks in the United States, each of which is to be specially invited to boost Portland for 1911, and to attend the grand lodge meeting here that year.

If Portland is successful, the Elks convention will be one of the few big ones to come West prior to the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco in 1915. By joining hands with San Francisco in the fight for the 1915 exposition the Portland Elks have pledged the support of the officers of the Portland lodge.

The committee will ask the managers of hotels in Portland, as well as the principal restaurant proprietors, not to raise prices during convention week.

The public meeting was issued and sent to the officers of the grand lodge, and these will be signed by Acting Governor Bowerman and Mayor Simon, as well as the officers of the Portland lodge.

The committee will ask the managers of hotels in Portland, as well as the principal restaurant proprietors, not to raise prices during convention week.
