plans of the Russell Sage Foundation, established by Mrz. Sage as a memo rial to her husband for the establishment of a model suburban city, providing healthful and beautiful homes for persons of moderate means, were annuanced today.

Briefly, the project is to utilize a tract of 412 acres in Forest Hills Gardens, Long Island, nine miles from New York City, in laying out a town for 1500 families.

The initial financial expenditures for the purpose, it is announced, now

The initial financial expenditures for the purpose, it is announced, now amount to $2,258,890. How much more will be needed to carry the plans to completion is not known, but the Foundation trustees say that Mrs. Sage is prepared to supply all the funds required to carry out her ideas.

Through today's announcement it is made plain that the enterprise is not a charity, but is to be made self-supporting and is to yield a fair return on the investment. Its purpose is to enable persons in moderate circumstances to ewn their own homes at a minimum cost, but amid ideal surroundings.

The minimum cost of paying for a home there, it is estimated, will be $25 a month, including principal and in-month, including principal and in For the present laboring men whose wages are small, will not benefit di-rectly from Mrs. Sage's enterprise. The cost of land in Forest Hill, it is ex-plained, precludes provision for the working class. Intimation that they will be cared for later, however, is given in the trustees' statement. Forest Hills Gardens is to be made "real spotless town," as nearly as soney and skill can make it. It has been laid out by a landscape gardener and its architectural development will be scrulinized by an expert. Appli-cants for homes will have to submit to examinations as to their character and antecedents. The present plans contemplate the opening of the model town early next

ROOSEVELT'S EYE ON 1912

(Continued From First Page.) by Gifford Pinchot and James R. Garfield, both of whom were anxious to have the ex-President get into the campaign in certain parts of the West to help their own insurgent friends, and to advance their pet theories, particularly conservation.

Friends Use Him Selfishly.

Whether it be true or not, it is said on what appears to be good authority that Colonel Roosevelt is now of the opinion that "Gifford" and "Jimmy" used him during the campaign to pull their chestnuts out of the fire; in other words, they "played him for a sucker," and he allowed himself to walk into their trap.

Another interesting rumor, that lacks confirmation, is that there is a decided coolness existing between Theodore Reosevelt and Gifford Pinchot, due to an impertment letter which Pinchot is said to have written the Colonel. This report relates that Pinchot wrote Colonel Roose veit upbraiding him for not inserting a strong conservation plank in the New York platform, and condemning him in no uncertain terms for accepting the tariff plank which was adopted at Sur-Pinchot, so It is sald, grew quite bitter in his criticism of his former friend, chiding him for falling to denounce the Payne-Aldrich law in plain terms, and for failing to break off absolutely all semblance of friendly relations with President Taft.

Pinchot Feels Blow.

Pinchot also, it is understood, disap-proved of Roosevelt's conservation speech delivered in the West, because in that speech the ex-President advocated con-servation "that means use" as distin-guished from conservation, that means a bottling up of the country's resources. In other words, when Colonel Rossevelt began to appreciate that there were two sides to the conservation question; when he realized that the present generation must be cared for and protected as well the Western idea of practical conservation, he saw the fallacies of many of Pinchot's theories, and his public dec-laration for practical conservation was a sad blow to the deposed forester. But whether it be true or not that a coolness has grown up between Roosevelt and Pinchot, it is true, as stated, that the Colonel has his eye fixed firmly on 1912; he is feeling out his friends, sounding public sentiment, and laying plans which will result in the tendering to him of the nomination two years hence. But never will he declare himself a candidate.

Own Declaration Is Obstacle.

There is but one big obstacle in his path, as he now views the future, and that is his own declaration on the night of his election in 1804 that he would neither suck nor accept another nomination to the presidency. He realizes that this gheat will rise to plague him, together with the third term bugaboo. But for all that, he believes he stands a splendid chance of being nominated as

MAYOR EXPLAINS LIQUOR ROW ON AT BELLINGHAM.

Town Was Wet Before Evangelist Arrived-It Went "Dry," Then Trouble Began.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 22 .- (Speinl.)-"They age tearing hades loose in Bellingham," is the way J. P. De Mattos, Mayor of that city, expressed it in San Stego teday, referring to the clamo:

Mayor De Mattos is enjoying a 20day vacation in San Diego. Since his arrival in the South a demand has been made that he vacate the Mayor's chair.

He refuses to do so.

The chief of police appointed by De Mattos has resigned, and Mayor De Mattos blames the political stir on Billy Sunday, the baseball evangelist.

Previous to Sunday's recent visit, Belllingham was a saloon town. Sun-day's revival caused the saloons to be wiped out. De Mattos was elected on a wet platform. The prohibitionists now demand his scalp. Postmaster Henderson, who also owns the leading paper of Hellingham, is charged by De Mattes with being hostile to him. Henderson, he declares, is responsible for the movement to oust him, offering to head a subscription with $19 to make up the balance of salary due De Mattos if he will resign. De Mattos says he stands pat.
"I will remain in San Diego until the term of my vacation expires, and then I will go home and stir up things my-self," said the Mayor of Bellingham.

BATTLE FOR TOGA TO EXCITE KANSAS

Fight for Senatorship Is Now on Among Stubbs, Murdock and Curtis.

WILL CONTINUE TWO YEARS

Wichita Man Now Favorite, but Governor May Strengthen Posltion and Contest Will Be Most Bitterly Fought in State.

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 24 .- (Special.) Kansas turns from the political campaign just closed to another with a National bearing that will intensify us the weeks pass. Ostensibly Governor Stubba has been warring against the standpat or reactionary element in the Republican party for the Governorship in two campaigns, but in reality the fight has been one for a seat in the United States Senate, and that fight is now on in all its bitterness and will continue for two years.

Notwithstanding that 20,000 Republicans in the late contest bolted Stubbs and voted for his Democratic opponent. they could not defeat him because 15,000 Democrats who believed in him and who were proud of him for the enemies he had made, went to his rescue and helped to give him a majority of 15,-999. The other candidates on the state Republican ticket will have an average of $5,000 majority.

Senatorship Is Big Question.

The question now being asked in does Stubbs' reduced vote discredit him as a candidate for the United States Senate? The Governor's friends say no, while the supporters of Senator Charles Curtis insist that the falling off of the Stubbs vote for Governor puts him out of the running. Stubbs is a candidate and already is selecting the candidates in the forty Senatorial and 125 Representative Districts who will name the Senator two years hence. However, there is another force with

However, there is another force with which Governor Stubbs and Senator Curtls will have to reckon. Before the beginning of the new year Congressman Victor Murdock, of Wichita, will have announced his candidacy for the United States Senate. Murdock will gather about him a large insurgent following, which does not want to support Stubbs and which will not go to Curtis.

The candidacy of Murdock will appeal to the young men of the Republican party. In the recent election he ran far ahead of his ticket, while Governor Stubbs has some 20,000 Republican votes. These results are being discussed and Murdock is picked as the only man who can save to the state the only man who can save to the state a Republican seat in the United States

Railroads May Be Factor.

With Murdock out of the race and the old stand-pat insurgent fight centhe old stand-pat Insurgent fight centered on Curtia and Stubbs, both, it is contended, would be beaten, for Stubbs would defeat Curtis in the primaries and then in the election the Curtis element would belt the party nominees in legislative districts, elect a Democratic Legislature that would choose a Democrat for United States Senator. With Murdock as the Republicans would not resort to this extreme measure. Nor would the railroads assail Murdock would the railroads assatl Murdock so bitterly as they would Stubbs, for Murdock has not singled out the railroads as Stubbs has, and fought them viciously for the last four years.

Governor Stubbs, however, has a chance to strengthen himself with the people the coming Winter. The lower branch of the Legislature is Republi-can and in sympathy with the issues upon which the Governor was re-elect-ed. If the public utilities bill, the in-itiative and referendum, the recall and other measures are enacted into law as promised by Stubbs in the recent campaign, he will have materially strengthened his position with the peo-ple, and in a three-cornered fight with Murdock dividing the insurgent forces and Curtis relying upon the stand-pat element, the Governor might hold his own and win out.

Do you know that stern old monk whose rebellion against the Church of Rome changed the religious history of the world? Do you know him as a man-a real, living, breathing, human man?

You will know him in his habit, as he lived, when you read Dr. McGiffert's Life, the first modern, authoritative and interesting life of Luther ever written. You will find that Luther is worth knowing for his own sake, aside from the great move-
