

SALEM READY TO WELCOME LEAGUE

Development of Oregon to be Discussed in Convention at State Capitol.

SESSIONS TO BEGIN TODAY

Governor-Elect's Policy to be Outlined by Speaker Representing Him—Commercial Club's Methods to be Explained.

SALEM, Or., Nov. 27.—(Special)—Pinning touches were put on the arrangements for the first meeting of the Oregon Development League...

All delegates arriving Monday will meet at the trains and escorted to the State Capitol, where meetings will be held in the hall of the House of Representatives.

The Salem military band will meet the morning trains. Following the morning session an informal luncheon will be served at the Illinois Club.

Particular interest attaches to the addresses tomorrow, as much of the discussion of the following sessions will be centered upon them.

Oswald West, Governor-elect, who was to have spoken at the afternoon session, will be unable to be present, and Charles J. McNary will outline by authority Mr. West's policy toward the development of Oregon.

Theodore B. Wilcox, president of the league, will deliver his annual address. The afternoon will be given over to talks on the organization of commercial clubs, and the following will speak: Tom Richardson, founder of the Development League; C. C. Chapman, secretary of the Oregon Development League; J. E. Barnes, secretary of the Southwest Washington Development Association; C. A. Malouf, manager of the Oregon Commercial Club; J. S. Van Winkle, secretary of the Albany Commercial Club; A. S. Ashley, secretary of the Baker City Commercial Club; H. L. Andrews, secretary of the Grants Pass Commercial Club; and B. F. Crasshaw, secretary of the Astoria Chamber of Commerce.

ASTORIA EXTENDS INVITATION

Delegates Also to Ask Indorsement of Centenary Celebration.

Astoria and the centennial anniversary of the founding of the town will play an important part in the meeting of the Oregon Development League.

Each delegate bore a badge upon which was printed "Astoria's Centennial, Oregon, 1811." Advertisements on the reverse side was printed, "Help celebrate Astoria's centennial in 1911. You can't do it in 1911."

The delegates composing the party were: B. F. Crasshaw, Peter Kruse, John Fox, G. H. Johnson, John Gratke, George E. McLeod, Peter Grant, Dr. Clewley, W. C. Lewis, A. S. Skyles, H. R. Hooper, C. W. Waterman, J. S. DeHinger, J. Flanagan, C. V. Brown, S. M. Gallagher, Fred J. Johnson, E. C. Judd, C. R. Higgins, G. W. Williams, W. A. Sherman, J. T. Allen, A. W. Norblad, Isaac Bergman, Rev. Father Waters, H. Zapf and Albin Dunbar.

Delegates from all parts of the state began arriving in the city last night and will be taken to the Capital on the Commercial Club special, which leaves the foot of Jefferson street at 9:15 A. M. today.

Leon J. Chapman, of Ontario, reached the Imperial last night and will be the representative of the last city on a railroad in Oregon. Mr. Chapman will claim the grand prize for having come the farthest to attend the convention.

It is believed that when the meeting is called to order approximately 1000 delegates will be in attendance, all bent on a betterment of the plans for advertising Oregon and inducing immigration to come West.

It has not been definitely determined whether James Hill will be present. The last word received from Mr. Hill was to the effect that he was making every effort to arrange his schedule in favor of the league meeting and the apple shoot to occur in Portland December 1.

STATE'S HOP CROP IS 92,000 BALES

Dealers in Session at Salem Make Estimate of Total Product for 1910.

MOST OF YIELD IS SOLD

$1,700 Bales Have Already Been Disposed Of, 55,000 of Them Having Been Shipped Out of Oregon by Roads.

SALEM, Or., Nov. 27.—(Special)—Oregon's hop crop this year is estimated at 92,000 bales, according to a compilation made at a meeting of hop dealers here today, the dealers representing many of the leading hop-producing and marketing centers of the state.

A majority of the dealers estimate that 92,000 bales will be the crop, as there are bound to be some additions to this actual list, they say.

Some Figure 90,000. It is believed by a majority of those who assisted in making up the estimate, however, that it cannot be as much as 60,000 bales below the actual figure, as the lots to be heard from are principally small and the general consensus of opinion seems to be 90,000 for the crop of 1910.

The crop of 1909, on the original list, showed between 82,000 and 85,000 bales, when the final compilation was made and this was brought up to practically 85,000 bales, the dealers state. It is believed about the same ratio of increase will hold good this year.

Quality is Superior.

Quality of the 1910 crop has been far superior to the quality of the 1909 product, and the pickings are cleaner than it has been for many years. The prices have ranged from 10 cents to 15 cents, the average being between 11 1/2 and 12 cents.

Hop dealers who assisted in preparing the estimate on the crop today were: Charles M. Werner, Ross Woods, Julius Pincus, Henry Pincus, Joseph McNeer, Jack McNeer, George Benedict, Frank Smith and Alvie Zeller, of Portland; H. A. Whitman and Edward Herber, of Woodburn; Joseph Harris, Aurora; George Bishop, of McMinnville, and Arnold Crossman, Louis Lachmund, E. W. Durban, Clifford Brown, Henry Corroyer, Joseph Harris, Jesse Pettjohm, O. O. McClellan, James R. Linn, Russell Catlin, B. O. Schucking, T. A. Livesley and Charles Livesley, of Salem.

M'DOWELL PLAYS CARDS

ALLEGED WIFE-SLAYER NERVOUS IN JAIL.

Brother of Dead Woman Tells of Plan to Elope With Other After Getting Property.

COEUR D'ALENE, IDAHO, NOV. 27.—(Special)—J. M. McDowell, charged with the murder of his wife, Sarah, at Springfield, November 7, played whist most of the afternoon and when cards were dealt him this father of five children, scanned the columns of the Spokane morning paper telling in his own passionate love letters his affection for Mrs. Lula Traynor.

These letters were introduced in court by the prosecution, it being alleged that but a short time before his wife died in the home at the Idaho town McDowell wrote the other woman: "I love you, Lula," McDowell, showing signs of nervousness, refused to see newspaper today, referring all to his attorney, Robert E. McFarland. The jailer says he eats heartily, but has occasional nervous spells.

E. Lux, brother of the dead woman, whose investigation resulted in the swearing out of the warrant for McDowell, left yesterday for his home at Thompson Falls, Mont. He will return tomorrow. Mr. Lux says his sister was called to Spokane by her husband, McDowell, on September 25, to swear that she was not his wife, McDowell alleging the necessity that he might secure money on which someone was trying to beat him. Lux says Mrs. McDowell not only flatly refused to sign this affidavit, but made such that she was his wife, giving dates of their marriage. He further says that in the presence of Attorney W. J. Parks, of Spokane, the Idaho town, while on the Washington street bridge, threw her arms about her husband's neck and begged him to tell the truth.

Prosecutors of McDowell allege that it was his intention to show the affidavit he proposed to secure from his wife to Mrs. Lula Traynor, with whom the attorneys for the state alleged the woman was living. Attorney Parks said Mrs. Traynor has a 7-year-old daughter the couple intended to take with them.

NATHAN TO KNOW HIS FATE

Verdict in White Slave Case Will Be Announced Today.

Al Nathan, an Astoria bartender, accused of importing Jean Anderson for immoral purposes, will be told his fate in the United States Court at 10 o'clock this morning. The verdict has been sealed and in the hands of the foreman of the trial jury since Saturday afternoon.

Whether the verdict is an acquittal or a conviction of the defendant was yesterday a source of much speculation. Nathan being the last of four alleged white slavers to have a hearing before the court. George Kavallis, Jim Takos and David Westman were the first three tried by the court under the new white slave law, all three being convicted.

If discharged on the present count, Nathan will probably be rearrested for violation of other statutes.

FIGHT FOR SPEAKER ON MULTNOMAH PROMISES TO AID STRONGEST MAN.

McKinney and Brooke of Eastern Oregon Vie With Eaton and Bonebrake in Contest.

Since the Multnomah Senators decided to advance Ben Selling as their candidate for president of the Senate, and the selection appears to be acceptable to a majority of the members of the upper house, on the understanding that Multnomah will not put up a candidate for Speaker of the House, candidates for the Speakership have been bobbing up like mushrooms from all parts of the state.

While Eastern Oregon has a number of candidates for Speaker, an effort is now on foot to consolidate on one man, the two most-talked-of candidates from Eastern Oregon are W. H. McKinney, of Baker, and Henry C. Bonebrake, who started a basket of letters from aspirants, extolling their qualities and rights to the Speakership, claiming considerable support and asking the assistance of the Multnomah delegation.

Allen H. Eaton, of Lane, is keeping up the pace he set just after the election, and claims enough votes pledged to elect him speaker. F. O. Bonebrake, who started a little later than Eaton, is in the race now with all the energy displayed by his southern rival.

In the great scramble for the Speakership the Multnomah Representatives have remained silent. The delegation is waiting to be officially notified by the Senators that they have selected a candidate for President of the Senate. It is said this notification has been prepared and will be delivered to the representatives early this week. As soon as the notification is received, the Representatives will hold a meeting and decide on a policy to be carried out as a county delegation. No candidate will likely receive an indorsement at this meeting, as Representatives have made it known that they want to give each
