by the strike of gold in a well II feet deep, on the Nash farm near Sifton, about seven miles east of Vancouver, when is location notices were filed in the office of the County Auditor. The weather was pleasant today and hundreds went to Sifton, drawn by the discovery of gold, to locate land, and to feel the excitement of the gold fever.

Land office officials say that mining claims cannot be taken on patented land. If a rich strike is made on such land, the owner will be the one benefited by it. Government land can be taken where there is mineral, and land attorneys and other attorneys today have been busy answering the questions of their clients.

Nugget Found in Chicken.

That gold was in the ground in that wichnity was first learned when a nugget worth several dollars was found in the craw of a chicken. George Nash was diaging a well on his farm and had a number of assays made, ranging from 31 cents a ton to $11.00, or about $32 a nuhic yard. The assays increase in value as depth is reached.

Arthur G. Nash and John Jarvis, of Portland, have found rich bedrock, hardpan in placer dirt, they say. Among these filing on claims are W. W. Sparks, Henry Piert, Jr. A. A. Sparks, J. D. Hull, Leren Davis, one of the first discoverers; John Wheatley, E. E. Goff, H. D. Wood, Mary E. Nash, Ella Davis, Arthur C. Nash, John Jarvis, Rosa Nash, George I. Nash, Buford Martin and M. W. Themston.

"Flour Gold" Found.

"Plour Gold" Found.

The gold so far found is flour gold, and can best he treated by the cyanide process, by which all of the gold is saved, no matter how light. The land where the gold is found is level, and is and has been used as farming land for years. It has been said by Loren Davis that he is sure the land for a mile is length and half a mile in width is undertaid with gold-bearing formation. It may be much greater than this, he says.

Some persons are skeptical about gold being discovered in Clark County, and my it is all fake, but the fact remains that the assay office to Portlanti sent out away slips stating that the samples of dirt received by them carried ELA in gold. Samples have also been sent to assay offices in the East, but returns have not yet been received.

The Lewis will head, the December fleet, which has prospects of about nine carriers, if all are started working when available, while the list does not include tonnage to arrive that may be dispatched. December of last year ended with nearly as heavy shipments as October of that period, and though this month may fall short in comparison, it will be due to the fact the grain season bears every indication of being carried over actively until well into the New Year, which was not true of 1909-10.

CLUBS CAN STAY "WET"

DOOR OPENED TO EVASION OF LOCAL OPTION LAW.

District Attorney at Dayton, Washington, Holds Commercial Club Is Like Private House.

DATTON, Wash., Nov. 36 .- (Special.) -Local option in this state may become a farce if an opinion given by District Attorney Sturdevant and City Attorney Clark should be sustained Attorney Clark should be sustained by the courts.

The issue was raised by the Dayton Commercial Club. Threatened with arrest if beer was served in connection with a smoker in the club rooms Saturday night, members of the club heeded not the warning, holding that, since club apartments are private premises, beer could be served despite the law. Officer George B. Dorr was invited to the smoker that he might obtain conclusive evidence that beer was served.

tain conclusive evidence that beer was served.
District Attorney Robert M. Sturdevant and City Attorney E. W. Clark gave an opinion that a club can dispense beer or other intoxicating liquors without interference of the law. Such being the case, there is nothing to prevent any "dry" town in this state from becoming as "wet" as ever it was when salcons sxisted. Marshal Door sald today that he had information that the Poor Man's Club is now being formed and that others will likely be organized shortly.

formed and that others will likely be organized shortly.
Leading members of the Commercial Club gave their side of the contention about as follows:
"We hold that, if we see fit, we may serve refreshments with our lunches without infringing upon the law. We consider our club a private resort. It is far from the intention of the Dayton Club to violate the law of this state, but we are confident we are not doing so in passing a friendly cup now and then."

Many here hold that the case should be brought to trial and settled by a Judge, once for all, but the District At-torney holds that no action can be brought against members of the club.

AFFIRMS UMATILLA COUNTY CONVICTIONS.

Ten Men Liable to Jail Sentences Because of Second Indictments Found Against Them.

PENDLETON, Or., Nov. $0.-(Special.) Twenty-nine dispensers of near-beer n Pendleton and other Umatilla County towns are found guilty of seiling intox-icating liquor in violation of the local option law by yesterday's Supreme Court decision in the case of the state against Thomas Murrell. This was the famous Thomas Murrell. This was the famous near-beer test care, and upon its decision reated the fate of all the 29 defendants who stipulated the facts and carried their case to the courts on alleged ground that the local option law was void so far as it applied to this county. Nearly every near-beer dealer in the county is included in the list.

Each of the 29 men will be fined at least once, and ten of them may be sent to jail for the reason that they were indicted in April and again in September.

The unfortunate ten are: Martin Anderson, H. F. Peters, Paul Hommeligarn, Harvey Taylor, William Hoch and Antone Noite, all of this city; George Brisbois and Pete Murray, of Athena; James Huggins and William Harden.

The other men who are decided to be guilty by yesterday's decision are: A. Schneiter, Fred A. Gordon, William Bogart, Antone Kraft, John Estes, Henry Latourelle, Mei Norman, M. H. Gillett, Lou Bradburn, John Bradburn, A. G. Longnecker, Pete Tillson, V. O. Kelley, Al Zigman, Harvey Taylor, James Doty, Frank Cline, Herman Peters, J. G. Klein and Thomas Murrell.

LAWSON'S CLERK SUICIDE

Man Prominent in "Gas War" Jumps in Front of Train.

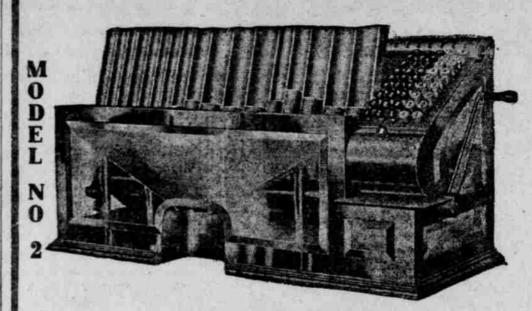

BOSTON, Nov. 30 .- John F. Donahoe. Lynn, for 12 years a confidential cierk in the employ of Thomas W. Lawson, the inancier, committed suicide today by jumping in front of an electric train in the Washington-street tunnel. The cause of the act is unknown.

Donahoe became prominent in 1888 by suing Mr. Lawson for $250,000 for aervices which he asserted included the arrange-ment of deals between his fermer em-ployer and ex-Senator Clark, of Montana: ployer and ex-Senator Clark, of Montana; J. Edward Addicks, of Delaware; F. Augustus Heinze and the late H. H. Rogers, of New York, Donahoe asserted also that he had delivered to Lawson the books of the Bay State Gas Company, of Delaware, and the books and stock of the Bay State Gas Company, of New Jersey at the time of the receivership. Thus, he alleged, he enabled Lawson to force the terms of the settlement with Mr. Rogers in the Boston gas war.

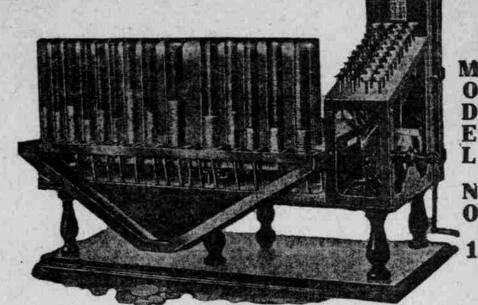

The case, it is understood, was settled out of court. Donahoe was about 80 out of court. but the latter was insignificent in confrast to such months as June, when 12.121.800 feet went to California, and in July and August the business was in excess of 10,000,000 feet, but November is the hanner period. The average number of carriers to the California market has been about 16 but "You can verify it by calling up Mr. Mason, nowever, declared that he had never suggested the name of Mr. Dierke for the position, but had asked that Mr. Dieck be put on the committee. "How do you suppose Mr. Lombard made the mistaker." Mr. Mason was asked.

to Poor Handwriting.

Charles Dierke, a Portland musician, has been appointed, according to the records of the health and police com-mittee of the Council, to aid the building and plumbing inspectors in the preparation of a new plumbing law, although Mr. Dierke knows no more although Mr. Dierke knows no more about plumbing than an ordinary plumber is supposed to know about the technic of music. How a skilled musician came to be placed in the official position of an expert plumber and sanitary engineer has been a mystery since his appointment was announced. The explanation is that when George C. Mason wrote a note to Councilman Lombard, suggesting that Robert G. Dieck be appointed a member of the committee, his handwriting was so illegible that it was believed by Mr. Lombard that Mr. Dierke was intended. So Mr. Mason said yesterday.

At the meeting of the health and police committee of the Council a few days ago it was decided that the plumbing laws should be brought up to date.
