Of 1000 Entries, Chinas of Various Breeds Seem to Attract Most Visitors.

CORVALLIS MAN EXHIBITS

Oregon Poultry and Pet Stock Display to Continue During Week. Game Fowls Judged Excel Kansas City Fighters.

H. H. Collier, of Tacoma, and W. M. Coates, of Vancouver, Wash., were as busy yesterday as a Petaluma hen in scoring entries at the Second Annual Oregon Poultry and Pet Stock Show, in the Lilly Seed Company's building at Front and Salmon streets. The show will continue for the remainder of the week.

Of 1000 entries, the visitors seem to pay great attention to the small exhibit of Silver, Mongolian and Golden pheasants, shown by J. L. Simpson, of Corvallis. There is also a cross breed, new to pet stock devotees. It is a speckled variety Mr. Simpson has evolved in the study of breeding of this fancy Oregon variety. His aim is to secure a domesticated pheasant which will rival the chicken in qualities that have made the hen famous.

Show Pleases Officers. Officers of the association are: J. P. Limerick, president; I. E. Staples, vice-president; J. C. Murray, secretary-treasurer. They feel that they are exhibiting the largest display of fowls ever seen in the state. The judges declare it exceeds anything heretofore held in the Pacific Northwest.

Criticism is Resented. "We have the largest exhibit of Pit game birds ever brought together in the West," said Judge Murray. "Even the Kansas City pet stock show did not have as many as we have. They are superior birds of the class and the display is evidence of the fact that there is an occasional cock fight in the region which surrounds Portland."

Himovsky is Vindicated. Beautiful Leading Lady Figures in Justice Court Scrimmage.

Who should play opposite the leading lady? The question has disrupted South Portland society and its aftermath has been dragged into Justice Olson's court in the form of a suit brought by D. Izenstein against S. Himovsky, for damages alleged to have been sustained in an altercation growing out of jealousy among the stars.

Wife's Charge to Wait. Man Accused of Non-Support Also Wanted in Colfax.

George Brethauer, wanted in Colfax, Wash., on a charge of obtaining goods by false pretenses, was arrested at St. Johns yesterday by Chief of Police McKinney and Deputy Sheriff Constable. A non-support charge had been made against him in the County Court by his wife. When County Judge Cleston learned that he was also wanted in Colfax, he decided to allow him to answer the Colfax charge.

HASSING TAKEN IN AMBULANCE AT DOCTOR'S ORDER.

Explanation Made by Police in View of Woman's Club Complaint. Judge Denounces Action.

William Hassing was taken to the hospital in an ambulance while his wife, whom he had fatally wounded, was sent in the patrol wagon, simply because the man had a chance to live and the woman had not, says Patrolman Klingel, in a detailed report of the affair, called for by Chief of Police Cox in consequence of an attack made upon the action by the Woman's Club. Further, says the officer, this action was taken upon the specific direction of Dr. McDaniel, who has been given strict instructions to obey the doctors in cases of this kind.

Hassing shot and killed his wife Thanksgiving night, at Fourteenth and Third streets, and then shot himself. Dr. McDaniel was on the ground almost at once and took charge of the case. It was plain, the police say, that the woman had not five minutes to live, although appearing to be worse hurt than he really was, presented a much more promising case. For that reason he was supplied for the purpose of transportation. It was intended to send Mrs. Hassing in another ambulance later, but rather than wait until it arrived, it was decided to take her in the patrol wagon, which is equipped with a stretcher. Klingel says that the patrol wagon made the trip in not more than ten minutes.

criticized by the Woman's Club of the action of the Municipal Court in releasing Hassing when he was before the court yesterday. "They would not need to regret that Mrs. Hassing could not rise from the dead to refute the statement that it was upon her recommendation that Hassing was released. Many persons were in the courtroom who can bear out the statement that the murdered woman told me that she was no longer afraid of her husband and did not wish to see him imprisoned. It is quite plain that the critics made no effort to get at the facts in this relation, but rushed into print with their attacks on the court which is wholly unwarranted."

You Must Read This If You Want Benefit. J. W. Greer, Greenwood, La., suffered with a severe case of lumbago. "At times the pains were so intense I was forced to hypodermic injections. Attacks started with a slight pain in the small of my back which gradually became fairly paralyzing in effect. My attention was attracted to Foley's Kidney Remedy and in an hour after using this wonderful medicine I am no longer bothered in any way by my old enemy lumbago." Sold by all druggists.

HOOD RIVER RAILWAY DEPOT AT PARKDALE, OR.

HOOD RIVER, Or., Dec. 5.—(Special).—The newly-completed depot at Parkdale, Or., the southern terminus of the Mount Hood Railway, is probably the best railroad station in Hood River County and is as large, if not larger, than the O. R. & N. station at Hood River. Parkdale is a new town in the upper valley. The Mount Hood Railway has built the large depot to meet the increased business which will come when the country is fully settled.

mediate future, the Twohy Bros. Company, railroad contractors, will spend $150,000 in building and equipping a modern repair plant and supply depot on the 17-acre tract recently purchased on the north side of the O. R. & N. main line between Sixty-fifth and Sixty-eighth streets at Graham, according to an announcement made yesterday by J. F. Twohy, secretary of the company.

Plans for the improvement are already under way, and four warehouses are in course of erection. One of these will be 30 by 80 feet, covered with galvanized, corrugated sheet steel and will be used for the storage of construction material. The fourth will house the wood stock for rebuilding and repairing cars.

A barn has already been erected. A veterinary surgeon will be engaged. A harness shop will be contained in an annex to the barn. Steam for the operation of the machinery and for heating will be supplied from a power-house now in course of erection and which will be equipped with two 100-horsepower boilers. Power will be supplied by the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company. An alternating current of 2200 volts will be provided, but some of this will be converted to direct current for use in the entire shop. The heavier tools will have individual motor drive, while some of the smaller tools will be grouped and driven from shafting. The pneumatic tools will operate by a duplex compressor.

Complete Equipment Ordered.

A complete equipment of tools and machinery will be purchased, including three large standard lathes, an extra heavy planer, a radial drill, a hand-saw outfit complete, a hydraulic wheel press, a set of bending rolls, a single bolt cutter, a lead screw attachment, a heading and forging machine, a "bull-dozing" cold saw with high-speed blade, a single punching and shearing machine, a compressor, and a complete set of valves, a single frame steam hammer, with anvil and dies.

An order has been placed of a 25-ton locomotive crane for loading and unloading equipment in the yard. Three 20-ton, 12 60-ton and three 70-ton steamshovels, together with 230 cars, a new Jordan spreading machine, six portable compressors, steam drills, and electric lighting plants are contained in the present list of equipment.

The company also has 250 head of work horses which will be housed in the local stables when not actually engaged. A siding has been built from Graham to the property of the Twohy Bros. Company. From this spur a main lead has been placed, with nine tracks diverging and terminating in a complete repair shop. Five of these tracks are standard gauge and four are narrow gauge, placed alternately.

Shops Will Be Large.

The general shop will be 130 by 80 feet, the erecting floor extending the whole length of the building on the east side and for a width of 40 feet. It will be a frame structure, the sides of which will consist mostly of prism glass. Six of the entrance tracks will be provided with doors 12 feet wide by 17 feet high. The three others will be 30 feet in height to permit the entrance of steamshovels with booms elevated to glass. Six of the entrance tracks will be provided with doors 12 feet wide by 17 feet high. The company, in addition to operating its repair shops for its own extensive plant, intends to perform work of this kind for some of the railroads and will furnish equipment in accordance with this idea. Heretofore Twohy Bros. maintained

Laurelhurst home sites are not mere "lots." They are all large—varied in size and shape—and possess individuality and uncommon scenic advantages of which your architect will make good use. Yet Laurelhurst prices are much lower than property of like character located within the two-mile circle in the other cities of Portland's class. Even in Spokane the price of $100 per front foot rules for locations comparable to those of Laurelhurst. Prices in Laurelhurst range from $20 up to $40 a front foot. Easiest terms.

OFFICE READY AHEAD OF TIME

Milwaukee Will Move Into New Rooms Before First of Year.

Although January 1 is the date set for the opening of the new ticket office of the Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound Railway in the Railway Exchange building at Third and Stark streets, it is likely that the local officials and clerks will occupy the new quarters within the next two weeks.

A force of woodworkers and decorators is at work preparing the interior with the latest designs in office furniture that combine beauty and convenience. It is predicted by Milwaukee officials that the new office will be the finest of its kind on the Coast and probably the finest in the country. The Pennsylvania has obtained an option on the present rooms of the Milwaukee and may occupy them.

CAR SERVICE WILL BE TOPIC BEFORE COMMITTEE.

Most Frequent Complaints About Street Railway Company Are of Rush-Hour Accommodations.

Complaints concerning street car service will be heard by the special committee recently appointed for that purpose, at a meeting to be held at 10 o'clock next Tuesday morning. Citizens who have reports to make concerning their experiences with the street car company will be heard and will aid the committee in securing definite information on which to base their later action. From all parts of the city complaints have been received by the committee, and it was deemed advisable to take some action. City Attorney Grant, who was made a member of the committee, will present a plan to the committee at its meeting, but as Mr. Grant was out of the city yesterday the details could not be obtained.
