pices she will appear tonight at the Heilig Theater.

James A Laidlaw, British Consul in Portland, will introduce her to the audience with a few words of appreciation. The Vancouver, B. C., Dally Province has this to say of her recent appearance in Vancouver;

"Backed by a reseds green curtain she seemed in her classic grey draperies as if carved from gray marble by some genius who had imbued the status with life. She imparted an atmosphere of rare charm, of absolute purity and withal of ideal womanliness to the stage. And all the while one thought predominated—Could Shakespeare have but known Ellen Terry what another wonderful portrait he would have drawn of a truly great woman. She plays with her audience. An inimitable grace and charm radiate from her and make her audience catch its breath as she sweeps on the stage. She is truly wonderful."

The Heilig orchestra will play the punch of the Mr. Rosebrook has prepared some special music. The curtain will rise at $120 o'clock. $130 o'clock.
