A. H. Rawl, Government Expert, Sees Opportunity in Valley Lands.

BETTER COWS ARE NEEDED

Banqueters at Commercial Club As sured There Is Room Here for Vast Army of Milk and Butter Producers.

In the presence of transportation of-ficials, bankers, experts in soil culture, and tubercular tests, business and dairymen, A. H. Rawil, chief of the dairy division of the Bureau of Animal Industry Department, of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. last night told, in a speech of an hour, at a banquet given in his honor, the needs of Oregon in developing the dairy industry. The banquet was held in the Commercial Club and was given by the promotion

What Oregon needs," said the guest "What Gregon needs," said the guest of the evening, "is good cows. good men and good drainage of its soil. Those are the fundamental things which you need to build a great industry. I am told you have 12,000 cows in Oregon. You ought to have ten times as many. The plain facts are that you have just as good cows as any state, you have the beginning of a wonderful career in one of the greatest industries of the state. It is an industry in which there are over $1,000,000,000. which there are over $1,090,000,000 sted in the United States and one n which millions of people are gaining heir chief sustanance. It, therefore, is as industry which needs the attention of the Government more than any other d commands, semetimes, I think, the allest of the varied lines in which wernmental help is extended. Being it is but little that the Government a help you at present, but I want assure you here that when I go ck to Washington I am going to see farmers until he goes into the business. Personally, I want to see that $50,000 is given to the Northwest Coast.

Preach Cows, He Urges.

You have the greatest Valley in world. I have just Epent the day in it and to me it seems ideal for the creation of one of the most important dairy sections known to the world.

"I am in favor of installing local institutions for the propagation of dairy ideas, coupled with demonstrations to the favors. That will negative your the farmers. That will people your valley with families, bring you wealth in abundance and do more to bring support to your city than anything else. there is, primarily, only one thing to dairy, and that is cows. That is what would preach to the farmer. Talk ows, preach cows, dream cows! With me it would be cows all the time.

"And in that there is this idea, that here is just as much difference in cows at there is in human beings. One war as there is in human beings. One man not worth his salt, another is worth fortune. It is in the man, He is a roducer or he is not a producer. The ian who hangs around the saloon or wa tobacco and spits over a drychewa tobacce and spits over a drygoods hor is not a farmer.

So a cow that will not produce enough milk to pay for her feed is not worth the keeping.

Of the 25,600 cows you have in Oregon, I would say nearly half of them are not dairy cows, but their owners do not know it. He keeps on feeding the old cow and milking her just as he did the years before, thinking that abe is a producing animal. But she is not worth the keep and should be discarded.

"It is a shame and disgrace for any man to impoverish soil. I belong to the conservation class when it comes to paring back to the soil the nuiriment that you have taken out."

"Soil is the heritage which we give to four children. It has a reach bitself for the coor children. It is a rank injustice for our challen. It is a rank injustice for you to take from them a chance to make their own living and that is just what you do when you do not give back to the soil what you have from it.

"I would say that you have room for 15,500 come in this state and you must have rolling the life months amonth with 155,000 cows in this state and yes must stap raising the 15s-pound-a-month milk stop raising the 15s-pound-a-month milk cops: get the 20s-pound milk cow. That will put the mousy in your till. She is the world-winner in the point of comforts and the bread-winner for pour family. See that she is on your place.

"The old long-hiered, bushy-lailed, long-sared and lop-shied cow is not for Oregon, if you wish to stay in the milk hustness. Push her out over the cliffs and let her sail on to the unknown without giving her much of a thought. Go for a society grom—the Jersey or the Guernsty or some fine milk-producer, and if you wish some breed that will bring you milk as well as heef.

Government Can't Do It.

Government Can't Do It.

The Government cannot give you a dairy. That is your work, gentlemen. I heard one of your boosters talk of settlers for your ranches, as if Oregon were the only country that needed them. That the only country that needed them. That is all poppycock. Every state in the Union has the same cry. The same condition prevails everywhere.

"I honor the young man who leaves the farm for the city. That is what he is delig. I agree with you that we must get him beck to the farm, but you never can and never will until you make the living on the farm as attractive as it is the city.

What will do that? Dollars, gentlemen. the coin that will put him back on arm. You must make it attractive. That's the way. Now, I am going to bid you good night. Think over what I have said."

Dr. J. R. Wetherbee acted as teastmaster and speeches were made by R. R.
Miller, truffe manager of the Harriman system; E. L. Thompson, R. L. Sabin, Dr. E. A. Piegee and Dr. Calvin S. White,
secretary of the State Board of Health.

PERSONALITY IS DEFINED

Lincoln High School.

In a speech that few of his hearers will soon forget, C. C. Chapman, manager of the Pertland Commercial Club's prescotion committee, told an audience in the Lincoln High School last night what he mideratood by the word "Personality".

ers a message that was vital to their future success.

He defined personality as "the winning quality that springs from within"—not the appearance, the outward address of the man, but the soul shining through the clay. And it can be cultivated in two ways, first, by being true to the heat that is in one's self, second, by showing consideration for somebody else. Truth toward one's self, he said, inspired confidence; consideration for others brings influence. It is only by understanding the troubles and short-comings of others, by seeing things from others' viewpoints that one acquires power over his follow-men; and sympathy and consideration can be cultivated. "Personality is the winning quality that springs from within."

Squareness and sincerety insures permanence of power, sympathy and cheefiness brings with them the liking and consequent influence that one always associates with striking personality. Mr. Chapman showed that all of these attributes can be trained and developed into success, "The man who understands his workers is their leader."

The programme of the evening opers a message that was vital to their fut re success

The programme of the evening op-ened with violin and vocal solos that brought round after round of applause from the audience. Next Tuesday night W. F. Woodwa-d ext Tuesday night W. F. Woodward lecture on "Salesmanship."

HABEAS CORPUS DENIED

SUPREME COURT CAN SEE NO REASON FOR ACTION.

Justice King Files Dissenting Opinion, Saying Tribunal Takes Step Backward.

SALEM, Or., Dec. 20 .- (Special.)-Rebuking petitioners for presenting matters which do not belong in the hightribunal, the Supreme Court today demied the petition for habeas corpus pre-sented by William P. Lord, Jr., for Archie M. Jerman, who wishes to free two convicts. Roberto and Martinez, from the penitentiary, but Justice King dissented in an opinion phrased in scathing language, concluding, as fol-lows:

"I deem the result announced by my "I deem the result announced by my associates a long stride toward the suspension of the writ of habeas corpusit is a step backward in the progress of law, and I think, clearly inconsistent with the reason and the spirit of the habeas corpus provision of the judicial amendment to the Constitution. The writ should issue and final out-come be determined upon the showing made thereby."

The majority held that the recent amendment makes it discretionary with the Court whether or not it acts on a habeas corpus petition; that no action should be taken except when there is good reason why it should not be heard in lower courts; and Justices McBride and Eakin, in concurring, refer to the conjested condition of the Supreme

Roberto and Martinez, the petition stated, were sentenced for larceny from Marion County without limitation, the clerk also falling to state the crime in the record of judgment.

Justice King says:

Justice King says.
There is nothing in the record before us from which the offense to which defendants com which the offense a accertained." He from which the offense to which defendants plended gullry may be ascertained." He adds that Roberto and Martinez are sentenced to prison until the end of time without authority of law and the proceedings by which they are held are void. "Unless, therefore." Justice King says, "we are to turn a doaf car to the well established principles of law applicable to write of habeas corpus, we should, under the showing by the potition, allow the writ on the return to which the real status of the prisoners could be determined."

Justice King also says the argument

Justice King also says the argument about the suffering and overworked court should have no weight. "It is not for the courts to say," he adds, "what work should be thrust upon them by the law-making department; that is a legislative and not a judicial matter."

RUINS REVEAL MURDER

THREE CHARRED BODIES ARE FOUND IN BURNT HOUSE.

Negro Arrested and Rushed to Penitentiary, but Angry Mob Forms, Seeking Vengeance.

DURHAM, N. C., Dec. 20 .- The charred bodies of J. L. Sanders, his 23-year-old daughter, Mary, and his 4-year-old grandlaughter, Irene Norton, in the ruins of their home at Hester, near here, gave startling evidence today to one of the most atrocious crimes committed in this Nathan Montague, a young ne cused by a Coroner's jury of assault, murder and arson.

The negro is safe tonight in the state penitentiary at Raleigh, but angry mobe are reported gathering. Sheriff Wheeler evaded a crowd at Hester last night in rushing his prisoner to Durham. Sheriff Hardwood at Durham, not wishing to Raleigh in an automobile.

It is said the negro, who had worked at a hog killing in the afternoon, which Miss Sanders also attended, went to her home at night, killed Sanders and his granddaughter by means not yet deter-mined, attacked Miss Sanders and aftermined, attacked Miss Sanders and afterwards out her throat in a struggle in the yard. He is then believed to have put her body in the house, set fire to the dwelling and burned the bodies. The charred remains were found early today. The finding of Miss Sanders' skirt, covered with blood in the negro's possession, and a knife at the scene of the tragedy, identified as the one used by Montague at the hog killing, form the chief evidence against Montague.

Near the ruins of the Sanders house, a path of blood leading to a nearby well indicated that an attempt was made to cast the girl into the well. Strands of her hair were found on the well posts, and give evidence of the girl's valu struggle for life.
