Pemberton and Broderick Both Take Seats, but Action in Their Cases Expected-Burke Says Both as Guilty as Holtslaw.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 4.—(Special.)—Immediate steps were taken tocial.)—Immediate steps were taken today by the Senate to whee the blots from its escutcheon. As its first business, the upper branch prepared to drum Senator Daniel Webster Holtslaw, of Iuka, self-confessed bribetaker, out of its membership and to scrutinize carefully what rights to seats are possessed by Senators S. C. Pemberton and John Broderick, both indicted in Sangamon County on the charges in Holtslaw's story.
State's Attorney Burke was called before a special Senate committee this afternoon and was asked for transcripts of the testimony and evidence on which the grand jury voted indictments against Pemberton in connection with the statchouse desk frands,

A resolution by Senator Helm declaring vacant the seat of Senator Daniel W. Holtslaw, who confessed to taking a bribe to vote for Senator Lorimor, was presented. The adoption of this resolution is said to be certain.

Later the Senator was directed to read a telegram which Senator Holtslaw sent June 3, 1919, to Secretary of States James S. Rose. The statement follows:

"I hereby resign as Senator from the Forty-Second District.
(Signed.) "D. W. HOLTSLAW,"

What will be done with Pemberton and Broderick will not be decided unill the committee digrests the evidence next week, but Holtslaw, it is certain, will be expelled on his own confession. It will not avail him that the commit-tee on privileges and elections of the United States Senate in its majority re-

Chairman Heim got into communica-tion with Hoitslaw at Iuka, over the long distance telephone, and asked him if he desired to appear.

No Desires Expressed.

"I have no desires in the matter, said Holtslaw.

"The committee desires you to appear next Tuesday morning," said Senator Helm. There was a response that was unintelligible and the luka end of the broke connection before Senator n could learn whether Holtslaw

NOTINDORSERUSK

Fouts and Clyde Fail to Secure Unity of Action for Wallowa Member.

ALTERNATIVE IS REFUSED

Disposition Is Shown Not to Draw Assembly Lines in Contest for Speakership--Nine Members Present at Meeting.

Fallure of Seneca Fouts and Ralph C. Clyde to secure the indorsement by the Multnomah County delegation of Jerry Rusk, of Wallowa, for Speaker at a meeting last night is further proof of the divided sentiment of the Representatives from this county regarding the Speakership. Nine of the 13 Representatives-elect attended the conference, which was held in a room at the Imper lal Hotel. The meeting had been called during the day by Fouts. Fouts and Clyde urged the delegation Fouts and Clyde urged the delegation to act as a unit on the Speakership and proposed the indorsement of Rusk. To this a majority refused to consent. Amme, while not declaring for Rusk, did not oppose the Wallowa man's candidacy. In the general discussion of the Speakership situation, several of the other members expressed themselves as opposed to the programme of Fouts and Clyde.

Other Names Acceptable.

In support of their contention that the delegation should get together and bring about the election of a Speaker, these legislators said that while they did not wish to flock to Rusk, they would join in the support of any other one of several other candidates who were ac-ceptable to them.

ceptable to them.
Sponsors for Rusk at the meeting, however, were firm and intimated that they would not act with the delegation in support of any candidate other than the Eastern Oregon man. Of the other Speakership candidates favored by a majority of the delegation attending last night's meeting, Eaton and Reynolds were preferred. Of the two, Eaton was the stronger, some objection being urged against Reynolds because of the fact that he was recomment in the asfact that he was prominent in the as-sembly movement in Marion County in the recent general election. It was pointed out that the Marion County man was nominated for the Legislature and ran on the assembly ticket.

Assembly Not Issue.

However, there was a disposition among several of the delegation not to ganization of the House, preferring to select a presiding officer on his quali-fications rather than as to his activity for or against the assembly. The meeting was attended by the fol-lowing members of the Multnomah County delegation in the House; James County delegation in the House; James M. Ambrose, Edwin G. Amme, C. A. Bigelow, J. C. Bryant, W. J. Clemens, Raiph C. Clyde, W. I. Cottel, Seneca Fouts and W. H. Chatten. Those not atending the meeting were: James D. Abbott, James Cole, Stephen Collins and A. G. Rushlight.

MEMBERS GATHERING IN CITY

Legislators Here to Discuss Who

Not until the members-elect from the interior counties arrive in Portland will the atmosphere respecting the or-ganization of the Oregon Legislature be cleared. Many of the legislators be cleared. Many of the legislators outside of Multnomah County are un-pledged. Several will arrive today. pledged. Several with arrive today, while by tomorrow night it is expected that, with but few exceptions, all of the 90 members will be in the city.

This is particularly true as to the organization of the House. With the Senate, the situation, while by no means settled, is not so complicated. Friends of Acting Governor Bowerman positively assert that he has sufficient votes to give him the Presidency, Supvotes to give him the Presidency, Sup-porters of Ben Selling are equally firm their contention that the Multnomah County man will win. Mr. Selling, how-ever, has admitted to friends that he has not secured the votes of Senators Hawley and Hoskins, of Polk and Yam-hill, respectively, although he says the two West Side men are by no means to WEST UNION, O., Jan. 4.—First Both of these Senators have, at differis expected to return from Condon to-

With more than a half dozen active or receptive candidates for the Speakership, the situation as to the election of presiding officer of the House has not changed materially during the last few days. Entering into the settlement of this fight are the questions of whether or not a caucus shall be held and whether or not the House shall be organized along Statement No. 1 or anti-Statement No. 1 lines. These issues have served further to confuse the members in the election of Speaker. There is a disposition among the House members to effect organization House members to effect organization regardless of the course pursued by the Senate. For that reason the lower branch will proceed independently of the action of the upper body. Those opposing a caucus justify their position by contending that by carrying the contest to the floor of the House a process of elimination could be adopted by which numerous candidates would be disposed of, and at the same time a satisfactory officer setime a satisfactory officer se-

Plan Is Resisted.

This plan is being vigorously re-sisted by advocates of a caucus. These members object to any course, which makes possible bidding for the votes of Democratic members. the Republican members.

While friends of Eaton are claiming that he is the strongest man in the field, having not lost more than two or three of his maximum strength, opponents of the Lane County man are first as positive in declaring that he is far short of the necessary number to elect. These same rivals for the Speakership assert that Eaton or any other aspirant does not have to exceed 11 or 12 supporters on whom he can depend at this time. Severai of the candidates have not developed that strength and are in the contest in the hope of profitil supporters on whom he can depend at this time. Several of the candidates have not developed that strength and are in the contest in the hope of profiting from a deadlock or a compromise. Aside from Eaton, present indications appear to favor Rusk and Thompson vision
