Prohibition of Grade Crossing Construction Recommended in Report.

OREGON RAILWAYS GROW

State Commission Shows Rapid In- crease in Mileage of Steam and Electric Roads and Gives Suggestions to Legislature.

SALEM, Or. Jan. 4.—(Special).—Prohibition of construction of grade crossings to the state, except in cases where such is impracticable and the advisability of providing control of the issuance of stocks and bonds and other securities of public service corporations are among the suggestions made to the Legislature by the State Railroad Commission in its report, which was given out today.

Interesting data are incorporated in the report relative to railroad business in Oregon. There are 203.35 miles of commercial steam roads owned and 219.28 miles of the same class of roads operated. There are 390.85 miles owned and 262.53 miles operated of commercial electric roads in the state.

Three and six-eight one-hundredth miles of terminals and switching roads are owned and 1.39 operated, while there are 44.56 miles owned and 44.59 miles operated of industrial roads of a total mileage of 232.38 miles owned and 240.19 operated.

New Lines Put in Operation.—Records in the office show that since June 20, 1910, the following new lines, not included in the foregoing, have been put in operation: O. S. L. (Northwestern), from Baker to Hamilton, 23.99 miles; O. S. L. (Malheur Valley), from Vale to Brogan, 22.90 miles; Mount Hood Railroad Company, from Deer to Parkdale, six miles; and the Huerfano Valley Railway Company, from Austin to Prairie City, 20.70 miles, or a total of 105.20 miles.

The total single-track mileage owned at the date of this report within the State of Oregon is 2421.60, with an operated mileage of 2586.20. This is a net increase of 26.13 miles in owned and 74.83 miles in operated mileage since December 15, 1909. Constructing lines, not in operation, are not included in the foregoing statement.

During the year informal and 61 formal complaints were docketed by the Commission. Of the informal complaints 37 were made by individuals and 19 by the Commission on the application of numerous matters were taken up on the application of carriers for permission to make rates effective on less than statutory notice or for authority to refund excessive charges.

Twenty-eight informal complaints related to rates, 69 were made respecting inadequacy of service, 12 pertaining to time, two violations of the railroad law were investigated, 123 complaints were adjusted informally, six were referred to the formal docket, 22 were not followed up, two were entirely beyond the jurisdiction of the Commission and 19 related to interstate commerce rates.

Score Complaints Pending.—There are now pending 25 informal complaints. Of the 63 formal complaints considered during the year 22 are excessive rates, 12 pertaining to service and 17 related to rates. The valuation investigations, 19 in number, are docketed as formal complaints. There are now pending 25 formal complaints, 35 were closed during the year and 48 hearings have been had.

The balance of the report includes data relative to the proceedings in court, annual reports of railroads and miscellaneous matters coming up in connection with the business of the Oregon Railroad Commission.

Following are the recommendations that will be made to the Legislature:

Recommendations Are Made.—It should be made clear that it is the intent of the commission act that the Railroad Commission may act upon schedules of rates as a whole.

Provision should be made that orders of the Commission, made after hearing, shall be binding upon the carriers, except where a carrier or other interested party is aggrieved and who thereafter acquires the property affected, and the aggrieved party is not allowed to file a complaint pending against another or lesser company.

By recent amendments to the railroad law the Interstate Commerce Commission has been given authority in special cases, after investigation, to authorize a lesser charge for a longer than for a shorter distance for the transportation of persons or property, and to extend the extent to which carriers affected may be relieved from the operation of the interstate commerce act. While there is no long and short haul provision in the Oregon railroad commission act, the prohibition against unjust discrimination under the decisions of the Supreme Court of this state is equivalent to such a clause.

Provision should be made for the acquisition of a suitable car to be used to test the various railway track scales in the state and for the employment of a suitable expert for the purpose. Such a car should be transported by the carriers without charge to the state.

It is recommended that the Commission, through its Railroad and Warehouse Commission, has employed the precise plan here recommended by the Interstate Commerce Commission and the National Association of Railway Commissioners has recommended the employment of the means suggested as best calculated to bring about uniformity in weights.

The increase in railroad mileage, as in the population of the state, the increase in the number and weight of trains passing over railway lines within Oregon and in the traffic upon highways calls to our attention a problem which for years has been acute in other states. It is apparent that within a few years Oregon will find it necessary to commence the elimination of crossings of railroads and highways at grade.

Millions of dollars are being spent in other states to eliminate them, and we believe that by preventing the construction of such crossings in Oregon, where it is practicable to avoid them, an immense saving in life and property will be effected.

It is recommended that a number of railway lines in Oregon, Washington and Idaho, into one system, and the issuance of new stocks and bonds, and the consolidation of other consolidations which may reasonably be expected to occur, should direct the attention of the Legislature to the question of the advisability of providing a control of the issuance of stocks and bonds and other securities of public service corporations in the interest of the public and the investor.

WOMAN'S MEMORY ALERT
"Did Mrs. Stocker make any remark about too much mother-in-law?" "She did not."

"Here McNab started a grilling that reduced the witness to tears."

Memory Is Refreshed.
"Why did you not remember this during the trial of your objection suit four years ago, or was it because you wanted the $75,000 too badly?" he shouted at her.

"My memory has been refreshed," she replied. "Besides, at the trial I was not asked questions which involved the contract marriage."

"Before the witness could reply further, Garrett McEnerney, another of the attorneys for the state, interposed the remark:

"She was the fountain of truth waiting to be tapped, but she wasn't tapped."

"It should have been told," the witness went on. "But the lawyers were running the case. I was a baby in their hands."

"You were 25 years old," retorted McNab. "Were you the same kind of baby that you were in the hands of Colonel Pope, of Boston?"

Examination Not Performed.
Mrs. Turnbull burst into tears, but, quickly drying them, she angrily replied:

"You insult me."
Her daughter's attorneys came to her rescue with objections to the methods of the defense, and in reply McEnerney declared that the witness was not entitled to a "perfumed cross-examination."

"She is not getting it," said the court, and the case was adjourned until tomorrow morning.

MEDFORD WAITER WINNER
Free Trip to China Won, but Dead Man Goes Along.

MEDFORD, Or. Jan. 4.—(Special).—Leon Fune Wee, a Chinaman, who resides in Medford for the past 15 years, died suddenly two days ago and his friends ordered the body sent to China for burial. John A. Perl, a local undertaker, discovered that two tickets on the railroad and steamship lines to Hongkong were necessary. Not caring to take the long journey himself and finding no willing travelers among Leon's friends, he decided to advertise in a local paper for someone who wanted to take a trip to China and 'pridentally take charge of the body of Fune.

The generous offer of a ticket to Hongkong was made by Mr. Perl to the friends, but none were willing to accept the offer. He was beset by seven men and one woman, each and all of whom were ready and willing to accept as to who was entitled to the transportation. W. H. Lyman, a waiter in a Medford cafe, was awarded the ticket by virtue of his having been first on the ground.

The objective point is the Philippine Islands, leaving tomorrow. He will deliver the body to the man's widow in Hongkong, and then proceed at his own expense to the Philippines.

INCOME TAX IS URGED
Governor Tells Montana Legislature Objections Are Not Well Founded.

HELENA, Mont. Jan. 4.—In transmitting today to both branches of the Legislature the proposed constitutional amendment relating to the income tax, Governor Norris said:

"Some objections have been made to the adoption of the amendment on the ground that the words, from whatever source derived, permitted the levying of a tax on incomes received from state, county and municipal indebtedness, and therefore make it possible indirectly to tax a state, county or municipality. There are others who insist that a tax on income should be a source of revenue to the states and that an income tax should be levied only by the states."

"In my judgment, these objections have no sufficient merit to warrant you in refusing to ratify the amendment. In the first place, I think the National Government can safely be trusted not to abuse its taxing power; and in the second place, the Government should in no wise be restricted in its ability to protect itself against the grave emergency which I recommend the ratification of the amendment."

DEAD MAN WAS WASHER
Dan Easton, Killed in Auto Accident, Employed in Garage.

The man who was killed early yesterday morning, when an automobile turned over and slid down a 60-foot embankment at the foot of East Gilean street, has been identified as Dan Easton, a washer in the garage of Sam Steward, 276 East First street, North, from the garage without permission.

Easton had a pint flask of whiskey which he had been drinking. He disappeared with the automobile when Steward, a polisher in the garage, was out for his midnight lunch. Easton went over the embankment in attempting to turn from East First street into East Gilean street.

The dead man was 39 years of age and married. His wife is a trained nurse. She is now employed in Vancouver, Wash.

CHANCE GIVEN BURGLARS
Judge McGinn Paroles Youths Who Broke Into Clothing Store.

Chance to reform was given Robert Wilson and Thomas Shea, two young men who recently broke into a clothing store and carried off several hundred dollars worth of drygoods, when they appeared before Circuit Judge McGinn, yesterday. They pleaded guilty to charges of larceny from a store and were sentenced to a year in the state prison.

Because of their youth and previous good record, however, the court paroled them. They must report to him once a week during the period of their sentence and in the event of misconduct during that period will have to serve their time.

George LaDaux, a third youth in the case, pleaded not guilty and his trial was postponed. He denies having taken any part in the robbery.

HORSEMEN WILL OBEY LAW
Oakland Betting Men Promise to Abolish Written Betting.

OAKLAND, Cal. Jan. 4.—There will be no more "overcoat betting" at the Oakland race track, nor any other violation of the anti-racetrack gambling law, which permits oral wagering on the horses, but prohibits the recording of any bet other than in the memory of the party with whom it is placed.

In behalf of the New California Jockey Club, this assurance was given to the Alameda county grand jury this forenoon by Secretary Treat and in behalf of the bookmakers by 16 of that body, who had been subpoenaed.

Weston's Water Rate Raised.
WESTON, Or. Jan. 4.—(Special).—Finding that receipts from the local waterworks system are insufficient to meet expenses, with a heavy interest charge on the bonds, the Council has raised the household minimum water rate from $1 to $1.50 per month. Other rates have been raised in proportion.

IDAHO'S GOVERNOR HALTED BY SENATE

Republican Upper House Declines to Put C. K. on Appointee List.

RATIFICATION IS LOST

Senate's Refusal to Approve List Is Initial Sign of Disruption Be- tween Hawley and Republican Legislature at Boise.

BOISE, Idaho, Jan. 4.—(Special).—The swan song of harmony which the Idaho Legislature has chanted for many a day was rudely interrupted today in the Senate when the first breach between Governor James H. Hawley and the Republican majority opened as a result of the action of the upper house in refusing to immediately ratify the list of appointees submitted by the Chief Executive in a special message.

This action on the part of the majority brought the Democratic members swarming into the open, with Senator Ravelin at their head, and they were directing the attack. He charged bad faith on the part of the Republican Senators.

The Senate's move is the first sign of disruption between Governor Hawley and the Legislature. It is taken to mean war between a Republican Legislature and a Democratic Governor, placing important legislative measures in jeopardy.

Immediately following the reading of the message Senator Clancy St. Clair moved to refer it to the committee on state affairs for its inspection when the President appoints the committee. MacBeth moved as a substitute to ratify the message.

PRISON FOR GALLAGHER
GAYNOR'S ASSAULT SENTENCED FOR 12-YEAR TERM.
Convicted of Shooting Edwards at Close of Ten Minutes' Deliberation to Return to College.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—James G. Gallagher, who shot Mayor Gaynor last August, was sentenced today to 12 years' imprisonment. He was convicted in Jersey City on an indictment charging him, not with shooting Mayor Gaynor, but with assaulting with intent to kill W. H. Edwards, commissioner of street cleaning of New York City. The jury was out for 10 minutes and then returned its verdict.

In addition to the 12 years, Gallagher will have to stay in prison until the cost of his prosecution has been paid by the state. He was sentenced to 12 years' imprisonment.

Commissioner Edwards was the chief witness for the state. He recounted the scene on the morning the Mayor planned to sail for Europe. He told how he had been fired upon, Edwards grasped the prisoner about the waist to show just how he had been wounded by a second shot from the assailant's revolver.

Gallagher's counsel declared that no evidence to show that his client had intentionally wounded the commissioner had been brought out. He said the shot was fired inadvertently in the struggle.

The jury fled back into the room for instructions after a few minutes' deliberation. The court was asked if the jury would be justified in finding a verdict of guilty if they did not believe that the shot which wounded Edwards was fired with intent to kill. They were told that if they believed it was fired intentionally, they would be justified in concluding that it was intended to kill.

Judge Swayne announced that ten days would be allowed the prisoner in which to file motions for appeal.

WESTON LINES IN MERGER
Ten "Independents" With 140 Phones Involved in Combine.

WESTON, Or. Jan. 4.—(Special).—For many years the subscribers to the rural telephone lines centering at Weston have resisted every attempt to absorb these lines into the long-distance system of the Pacific Telephone Company. They said that they preferred independence, and would listen to no proposition made by the big company. Now, however, they have changed their minds, and their representatives will meet at Weston Saturday with Charles P. Houite, commercial manager of the Pacific people at Walla Walla.

It is proposed that the farmer lines be connected with the "high line," that the company maintain the central office at Weston, and that each subscriber pay a fee of $3 per year. Poor service on the rural lines has had much to do with this decision of the farmers, who are beginning to realize that direct telephone connection with outside markets will be quite a convenience. Ten independent lines with about 140 phones are involved in the proposed merger.

GOVERNOR OF ALASKA WANTS MINING LAWS REVISED.
Clark's Report Says General Exercise of Power of Attorney in North Leads to Evils.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Jan. 4.—Revision of the mining laws of Alaska is needed to cope with existing conditions in that territory, according to the annual report of Governor Clark. Discussing this subject, he says:
"In the territories other than Alaska, and in the several states, the existence of local legislative bodies has made it possible to enact mining laws supplementary to the general laws of the United States and suited to local conditions and needs. It is not surprising that in a territory as remote as Alaska and in the several states, the mining laws, admirable as they are, are inapplicable or inadequate in several particulars. The power of attorney, for instance, is almost generally regarded as indispensable; but it is certain that its unrestricted use in Alaska under the general mining laws results in grave evils."

"According to the present practice, the exercise of powers of attorney frequently retards mineral development. This is especially true when claims are staked in association tracts, it frequently being the case that a single individual holding seven powers of attorney reserves 100 acres of placer territory and holds it from year to year merely by performing $100 worth of assessment work. The ground is often held for speculative purposes only, and in case the persons who gave the powers of attorney are non-residents who have never even visited Alaska, speculation is almost certain to be a crying evil, and the interest of every genuine prospector and bona fide resident in Alaska demands that the evil be mitigated."

REGENTS FORM PLANS

FURTHER EXTENSION AHEAD FOR CORVALLIS SCHOOL.
Board of Control of State Agricultural College Elects Four New Instructors and Hears Reports.

The Board of Regents of the Oregon Agricultural College held its annual meeting at the Imperial Hotel yesterday and made plans for extending the work of the institution throughout the state.

Mrs. Clara H. Waldo, one of the regents, was chosen to assist in the work of extension. Mrs. Waldo has been active in educational matters, particularly in the interests of the Oregon Agricultural College. She will assist in inaugurating the work along general lines, particularly for women.

V. R. Gardner, professor of horticulture at the University of Maine, was elected professor of pomology. He will also fill the vacancy of assistant professor in horticulture caused by the resignation of Professor C. A. Cole. Professor Gardner received his bachelor degree from the Michigan Agricultural College and master's degree from the Iowa Agricultural College.

C. E. Fisher, of Grinnell, Ia., was elected physical instructor to succeed Professor Angell, resigned. Professor Fisher graduated from Harvard with the degree of master of arts. He will have charge of the gymnasium and training of the men at the college.

John T. Henderson was elected assistant in military science. He is a sergeant in the Regular Army detailed by the War Department to assist Major McCalexander.

Paul J. Batkin was elected instructor in English to succeed Mr. Mathews, resigned.

The new instructors will begin their duties this semester.

The report of the treasurer showed that during the year $15,000 had been expended on the Eastern Oregon experimental station at Union, $12,000 on the irrigation experimental station at Hermiston, and $10,000 on the dry farming experimental station at Moro. Half the amount expended at Hermiston and at Moro was appropriated by the United States Government.

The report of the building committee showed that the $120,000 appropriated by the Legislature two years ago had been expended for an armory, the central agricultural building, a central heating plant and greenhouses. The armory, which is 130 by 350 feet, is of steel and concrete and the biggest in the Northwest.

John Dalrymple, the young man who has succeeded to the management of the great Oliver Dalrymple wheat farm in New Dakota, is college bred, and he spends his winters in Europe, but he is the prettiest manager of his 22,000-acre domain. His men say that he is a better farmer than his father was.
