

THREE OF ACCUSED MEN ARE NAMED

Earl Rogers Says Seven Persons Will Die for Los Angeles Explosion.

ABSOLUTE PROOF SECURED

Schmidt, Bryson and Caplan Will Be Tried First, Then Four Others Unnamed Will Come Up. Union Alliance Alleged.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 6.—(Special.)—"As sure as there is a God in heaven, we will get those dynamiters and convict them," said Earl Rogers...

"There is not a chance for them to get away," he continued. "We know the men, their connections with the labor unions of San Francisco and with the high officials of those labor unions. And there is a reward of $10,000 for the arrest of each of these men. We are so sure of convicting them on the evidence we have in hand that the rewards have been offered without the customary condition that they be convicted."

Three Named, Four Kept Secret.

"The names of four of the persons indicted yesterday by the grand jury will not be given until they are wanted for trial. The reason for this is that we want to try M. A. Schmidt, J. B. Bryson and David Caplan first. These are the three who were indicted yesterday by name. I don't mind saying that the reason for trying these first is because we have perfect cases against them, and the other names are kept secret because we don't want to be placed in a position where the unions will try to force us to go to trial with their cases first."

"Schmidt, Caplan and Bryson were close associates of the big bosses of the labor unions of San Francisco, and we have the absolute proof against them. They were in close conference with these leaders just before they bought the dynamite and came to Los Angeles and blew up the Times building, murdering 21 men."

Three Men Will Soon Be Found.

"These three men and their friends believe they are safe from now. I cannot, of course, disclose the information we have as to their whereabouts, but they will be found before long, brought to Los Angeles and placed on trial. There is not a chance for them to escape. I repeat, with all sincerity, that as sure as there is a God in heaven they will be convicted."

"Then will come the others, and at least seven persons will pay the penalty for that dynamite outrage."

Atchley, president, when he appointed George L. Black, C. C. Hall and George E. Van Waters a committee to examine the franchise. Two more members of the committee will be selected from the implement houses in the warehouse district.

A. F. Nemire, an unlicensed physician, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Detectives Mallett and Craddock on a charge of obtaining money by false pretenses. He was released in $500 bonds. WORLD PEACE IS SOUGHT

Portland Men Organize Society for Arbitration.

An association to promote international arbitration was organized at a meeting held last evening at the Commercial Club rooms. The effort to bring about this movement has been under way for some time. In fact at the head of the list is the name of the late George H. Williams, and the original intention was to have him as the first president of the society.

court Court for Multnomah County, and a number of business men. He then moved Judge John R. Cleland be elected president—the motion was at once seconded and unanimously carried.

Judge Cleland desired it to be understood that he believed in international arbitration, but not in disarmament, unless it could be done simultaneously by the principal world-powers. He thought as long as other powers continue to look after their own defenses that this was also the duty of the United States. It was, however, admitted that with the extension of the principle of international arbitration the need of enormous expenditures for national defenses would be removed.

It was also the opinion of all present that the society co-operate with the American Peace Society in promoting the particular principle which brought it into existence. Mr. Galvani was elected secretary of the society and the following will act with the president and secretary as an executive committee: W. P. Olds, John E. Carroll, John Gill, Thaddeus S. Townsend, J. F. Hanson and H. W. Stone.

An interesting feature of the meeting was the statement made by Mr. Galvani, relative to his call upon the late Judge Williams about three or four weeks before his death for the purpose of getting him to head the list. The judge said: "I am no longer able to attend to any public matters of this sort. In fact, my daughter does not permit me to go out to any meetings or gatherings of any kind. But I do not remember anything that I ever signed or willingly and so cheerfully as I now sign this paper. I have had some part in bringing about the Alabama settlement with Great Britain on basis of international arbitration, and I look upon that as one of the most useful efforts of my life."

HIGHWAY IS INDORSED

ROAD ENTHUSIASTS PLAN VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN.

State Association Will Be Aided in Efforts to Secure Thoroughfare North and South.

At a meeting of good roads enthusiasts at the Commercial Club last night a committee was appointed to confer with the Oregon Good Roads Association and to assist in arousing enthusiasm for the proposed state highway from the Columbia River to the California line.

At first it was proposed to form an Oregon branch of the Pacific Highways Association, which is carrying on work along these lines in the State of Washington, but after debate it was decided that the Oregon Good Roads Association was the one to handle this work in Oregon and a committee was appointed to confer with that organization. W. C. Bristol acted as chairman of the meeting and Marshall N. Dana was secretary.

On the passage of the motion Chairman Bristol named the following as the committee: Philip S. Bates, chairman; J. S. Beall, Dr. Andrew C. Smith, E. Henry Wempe, Howard M. Covey, Frank C. Riggs and Marshall N. Dana. This committee will confer with Judge Lionel R. Webster, head of the Oregon Good Roads Association, and is pledged to assist that organization in matters pertaining to the improvement of the roads in the state and to labor especially to secure a state highway north and south. The good roads bill to be submitted at the coming session of the Oregon Legislature were indorsed.

There was considerable discussion of methods of proposed road building and some interesting facts were told by E. Henry Wempe, Dr. Andrew C. Smith, Howard M. Covey, Judge Cleland and J. Perry of the Washington Good Roads Association, who came to Portland to address the meeting.

Brien, officer of the guard; F. Batten, W. G. Copley and W. H. Welds, trustees. Supplemental to the ceremonies a dance was held, the first of a series of entertainments to enliven the winter months. The Ladies' Auxiliary is now reorganized and expects to add greatly to its membership.

STARS SHOOT TO DEPOT AND JUST CATCH TRAIN

Breathless Crowds See Florence Roberts and Thurlow Bergen Race for Passenger—They Lunch Too Long With George L. Baker.

MAGINE Florence Roberts, Thurlow Bergen and George L. Baker taking a flying trip down Sixth street in a big auto truck with its other half filled with trunks and baggage. That's very nearly what happened yesterday and it nearly came about because of a little luncheon at the Hotel Portland, that resolved itself into such a congenial party that the moments fled unnoticed until Miss Roberts' maid rushed up and, with the breathless information that it was ten minutes to train time.

Miss Roberts opens in San Francisco Sunday. Recalling what it meant to catch that train and what it meant to miss it, she suddenly began to do some real acting. Manager Baker was also somewhat busy. He had clerks calling every taxi and auto company in the city, with the usual result that as the minutes sped by everyone was fairly dancing up and down another side of every kind of conveyance service that ever was invented. Only a huge auto truck showed up. "Shall we take it?" asked Mr. Baker. Without the slightest hesitation Miss Roberts seized her skirts in one hand and her big plumes in the other and got into the race with her leading man a close third. The two coming yesterday and it looked like a schoolgirl when a taxi shot around the corner. Into it she went instead and it broke all speed records down Sixth to the depot, and Miss Roberts and Mr. Bergen were helped aboard as their train was slowly moving out.

DEATH'S MYSTERY

How Twigg and Fiancee Were Poisoned Is Unknown.

GIRL'S SISTER ALSO ILL

Mother Tells of Meeting Between Lovers on Wedding Eve and Finding Them Dead—Boy Says Each Grasped a Glass.

CUMBERLAND, Md., Jan. 6.—"Came to their deaths by means unknown to the jury."

This was the conclusion reached by the 12 men who for nearly five hours tonight heard testimony regarding the deaths last Saturday of Grace Ellosser and Charles T. Twigg, whose bodies were found by the mother of the dead girl, seated on a sofa in the parlor of the Ellosser home.

The tragedy occurred less than 30 hours before the time set for the marriage of the victims. One of the points brought out was that May Ellosser, one of Grace's sisters, after helping their mother carry Grace's body from the parlor to a bed in a room in the rear, had herself been seized with illness which showed symptoms of poisoning by hydrocyanic acid. No connection between this and the deaths of the others was made apparent by the questioning of the witnesses.

Mrs. Ellosser, mother of the dead girl, who was taken from a sick bed to testify, said she saw Twigg arrive on Saturday, embrace Grace and give her the wedding ring before he sat down. When Mrs. Ellosser first saw the pair she thought they were asleep. She called Grace and tried to arouse her. Discovering Twigg to be in the same condition, she placed her hand on his shoulder and said: "Charlie, Charlie, what have you done?"

Asked if she saw any bottles or flasks in the room, she held up her hand and said, dramatically: "As God is my judge, I saw nothing." Harlan B. Norris, an 8-year-old boy, said he saw both Twigg and Grace Ellosser after they had been found dead, each grasping a glass, and that Dr. L. Broadrup had removed these glasses. This was in direct contradiction of Dr. Broadrup's testimony that he saw no glasses.

BURNSIDE IS DESERTED

Open-Air Meetings Move On to Other Streets.

For the first time in many months Burnside street, from Sixth east to the bridge, was free from speakers and crowds last night. Complaints from many East Side people, who found it difficult to walk in the street at night, caused Chief Cox and Captain Bailey to request that the speakers hold forth on other streets than Burnside.

It was not a mandate from the police department, but merely a favor asked by the Chief of Police for residents of the East Side. Notification of the crowds was given through the leaders. There was no remonstrance.

The Salvation Army, Volunteers of America, Industrial Workers of the World, Socialists and other religious and fraternal orders, which have made lower Burnside their rendezvous for months, were conspicuous last night by their absence.

$42.50 Suits or Overcoats now $27.50 $45.00 Suits or Overcoats now $30.00

Special Reductions on Full Dress and Tuxedo Suits

With one big shipment of woollens direct from Huddersfield, England, that went astray and was sent to Portland, Maine, now on hand, and a second shipment of Spring and Summer Cloths arriving unusually early, I am obliged to adopt some such plan of diminishing my line of Fall and Winter Woollens. Much of this cloth is in staple colors and of such weight that it will do finely for a Spring and Summer Suit. Grays and blues predominate. I anticipated a mild Winter, so I bought only such materials as could be worn the whole year round.

MR. MAXWELL Cutter and Manager Importer of Foreign Woollens

While I was in England last Summer purchasing my woollens, I was also able to secure several hundred very choice English Silk Raincoats. At the outset I was able to get them at a reduced figure, but when they found the shipment did not reach me until the 29th of December, still further price concessions were made me in order for me to accept the coats. Here is what I will do during this sale for one week—I will give absolutely free one of these English Silk Raincoats with every Suit or Overcoat made to order. You can select a coat for yourself, your wife, or any member of the family.

I do not have to brag of my reputation for making clothes. The years I have been in business in Portland, and the thousands of Suits that I have made, is enough to testify to my integrity in doing business. Bear in mind that my store is one of the largest Tailoring Establishments in Portland, and carries the largest stock of imported woollens in the city. All garments are cut by me personally, and every detail is carefully watched and all our goods are made on the premises under my personal supervision.

MAIL BAGS ARE ROBBED

POSTAL AUTHORITIES IN SAN FRANCISCO ARE BAFFLED.

Registered Sacks Disappear From Oakland Ferryboat on Short Trip Across Bay—Arrests Expected.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 6.—(Special.)—Aroused by bold thefts of sacks of registered mail valued at $50,000, from the Oakland ferryboat, Harry B. Hall, postal inspector in charge of the Western division, and his assistants are conducting a search that it is believed will lead to the speedy arrest of members of an organized gang of mail robbers with headquarters in San Francisco and Oakland. The theft occurred on the evening of December 29. Frank Hammond, railway mail clerk, had received the northern consignment of registered mail, receiving for it at the ferry post-office. The stolen bag was to be placed on the Shasta Limited for Ashland, Or. The shipment left this side at 8:40 o'clock. Although Hammond was beside the mail truck on the journey across the bay, one sack was missing when the shipment was received on the Oakland side. The sack disappeared under the very eyes of Hammond, and the postal authorities are facing one of the most complete and baffling cases in their experience in years.

"One sack of mail was unquestionably stolen from the ferryboat in transit," said Inspector Hall. "You can say that we have positive evidence that the theft of the sack was the work of people thoroughly familiar with the shipment of the mails. That is as much as can be given out at the present time." The first pouch, destined for Portland and intermediate points, was stolen on December 25. The second, bound for Reno, Nev., and intermediate points, was taken on the night of December 26. On the night of December 29 the third registered pouch was taken from a ferryboat, and last night the fourth and last registered bag was stolen.

Police Raid Cardplayers. After having it under surveillance more than a week, Policemen Martine and Sniffer last night raided a room at 107 1/2 Fourth street, and arrested George Hanlon, Harry Kurtzman, Adrian Fuller and Harry O. Weary on charges of gambling by playing poker.

Each gave $50 bail. Eugene Rose, San Wolf and Ben Ginsburg, visitors, were required to give $20 bail each. A quantity of paraphernalia was seized.
