JEANETTE FALLS BEFORE LANGFORD

New York Negro Given Severe Beating in Bout Lasting Twelve Rounds.

GOTHAM MAN DROPS FIRST

This Is After Sam's Ire Has Been Aroused in First Round—Later Gong Saves Him From Knockout in Second.

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Sam Langford defeated Joe Jeanette in a bout of 12 rounds before the Armory Athletic Association tonight. Langford had a decided advantage in every round but one, and in the first round dropped Jeanette for the count of eight.

Throughout the fight, except in the third round, Langford outpointed his opponent. He used right and left swings to Jeanette's face and straight jabs to the body almost exclusively, but he was unable to land a knockout.

In the opening round, Jeanette drew first blood, and angered by the blow, Langford landed a left hook to the neck which dropped Jeanette for a count of eight.

In the second round, the New York negro was unable to ward off Langford's uppercuts to the head and the gong alone apparently saved him from being knocked out.

FISHER DECLINES POSITION

Athletic Expert Unable to Leave Grinnell to Teach "Aggies."

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Jan. 10.—(Special.)—C. E. Fisher, of Grinnell College, Iowa, who was recently elected by the Board of Regents to act as athletic trainer and coach of the basketball and track teams at this institution, has sent word declining the position. The reason offered for this action is that it is impossible for him to secure his release from Grinnell (Iowa) at this time of the year.

Mr. Fisher was in Corvallis for a period of about two months, having charge of the training of the football men. He was here while on a leave of absence from his regular duties at Grinnell. While here he became very popular with the students and established a reputation as a competent trainer and coach. He also has an exceptional record in the Middle West, where he has turned out winning teams for several successful seasons.

While the decision of Mr. Fisher not to accept the position at this time may be considered as final, it is still hoped about the campus that he may be secured at the beginning of the next college year. No official statement has been made to the effect that any other offers will be made to Mr. Fisher, but there seems to be a general impression among those on the inside of the athletic situation that this will be done, and that Mr. Fisher will ultimately come to Corvallis.

INDOOR MEET AT EUGENE SOON

State University Athletic Authorities Promise Fine Events.

The sprinting events will range from 300 to 1000 yards.

The date for the annual interclass cross country run has been set for February 22. Two handsome silver cups will be awarded, one for the winning team and the other for the winning runner. In addition to McGuire, McClure, Reynolds, Walls and other old runners there are several freshmen expected to make good.

RAILROADS ARE DEMORALIZED

Wind and Snow Tie Up Lines in Vicinity of Salt Lake City.

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 10.—Railway traffic and telegraph communication is badly demoralized throughout the intermountain region as the result of the heavy wind of last night and snow storm of today. All transcontinental trains are delayed.

Traffic has been altogether suspended over the Lucin cut-off on the Southern Pacific for a few hours, until the embankment can be repaired in a few places where it was washed out by the beating of the waves of Great Salt Lake last night. While the damage is small, it was deemed best by the railroad officials to take no chances.

At 8 o'clock last night the recorded velocity of the wind over the lake was 54 miles an hour.

Brokerage business was entirely suspended in this city in consequence of lack of wire service.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Plans for the international billiard championship and the National Class A and B tournaments have been completed. All of the championships will be decided at 18.2 balk line billiards on the regulation 5-10 table.

The newly-elected officers of the National Association of American Billiard Players for 1911 are as follows: William H. Kienckе, president; Dr. Walter C. Douglas, secretary; George Rudolph, treasurer.

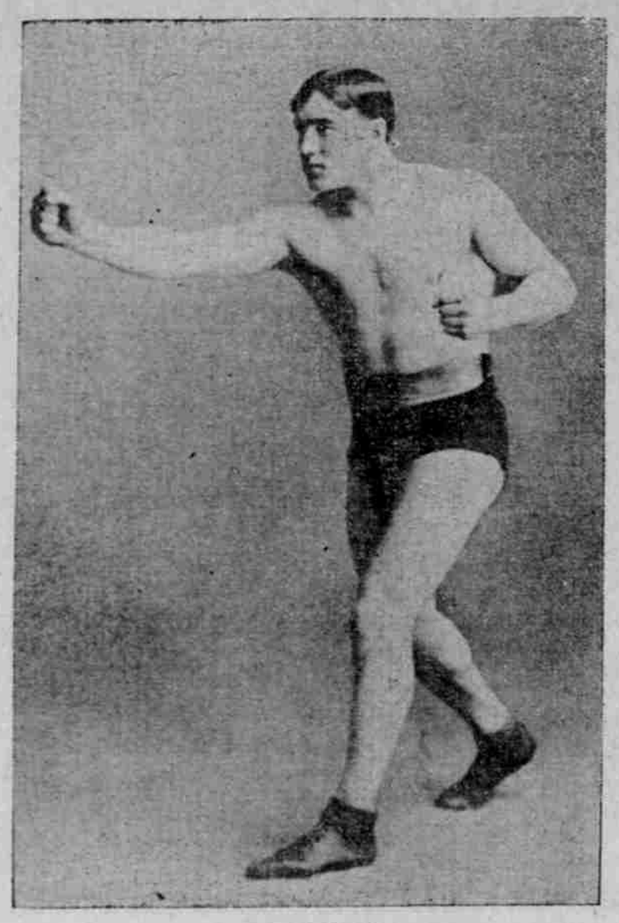
EX-CHAMPION HEAVYWEIGHT PUGILIST TO FIGHT LANGE FOR $12,500 PURSE.



TOMMY BURNS.

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 10.—Tommy Burns, the ex-champion heavyweight today cabled acceptance to Hugh McIntosh of the latter's offer of a purse of $12,500 for a fight with Bill Lange in London.

Burns is guaranteed $12,500 regardless of the result of the fight. He is recovering from injuries received in a lacrosse game in Vancouver and a train wreck near Tacoma, and promises to report in London within 60 days. Burns will take Jack Lester to England with him.

FAIR A BIG SUCCESS

Importance of Portland Livestock Show Presented.

PORTER ISSUES APPEAL

Report of Newly Elected Association President Asks for Suggestions for Making Success Pronounced.

Emphasizing strongly the importance of the livestock industry to Portland, and calling attention to the value of the horse and mule in economic development, J. P. Porter, newly-elected president of the Portland Fair and Livestock Association, in an address yesterday asked for suggestions for making the coming fair in Portland a greater success than ever. More than $300,000,000, he pointed out, is invested in livestock in Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana, and he said that this amount should be increased to a billion dollars within 20 years.

"From almost all this territory," he said, "it is down hill to Portland. Now, is a big fair here an asset or a plaything?"

Transportation Is Assured.

Before giving out the programme and premium list for circulation, said Mr. Porter, the directors would be assured of ample transportation to and from the grounds. "The short cut now in operation out the Sandy Road," he said, "places the fair within from 22 to 25 minutes of the business heart of the city for ordinary transportation, and only a little more double track is needed to handle the crowds, no matter how large, without delay."

There was only one live, vital question, he said, and that was: Should this splendid site be given over for city lots? He went on: "The association owns 90 acres of ground and within 60 days acreage within 700 yards of this site has sold for $4250 per acre, and another sale is pending at about the same price at the same distance. W. B. Ayer holds his nearby acreage at about $5000 per acre. Five years from today, the fair grounds, track, buildings and improvements should be worth $1,000,000, and be the center of a residential population of 30,000 within walking distance of the grounds."

All-Day Fair Desirable.

Mr. Porter asked for suggestions as to an all-day programme for the fair. He propounded these questions:

"Is there any reason why there should not be an all-day programme, an endless showing of agricultural products, and a display of agricultural implements that would interest the farmers of the entire Pacific Northwest? Could we not secure prominent speakers for the morning hours? Would there be any great difficulty in arranging an athletic programme that would make the grounds lively in the morning hours? Would not the cooperation of the women mean a big advance for the fair?"

The horse, said Mr. Porter, is and for years will be, "the greatest of our necessities." He went on:

"The auto gives Portland a metropolitan appearance and the down-town streets are a free garage, but there are 25 vehicles on our streets drawn by horse power to one that responds to the motor. The breeders of horses, cattle, sheep and hogs are helped by the fair. Those in the business increase and improve and others engage therein. We have an area in Oregon, practically uninhabited, as large as Ohio, and livestock will always be its greatest industry, just as livestock is the chief industry in Illinois and Iowa. Do you know that the greatest crowd Chicago has annually is that which comes to attend the International Livestock Show?

"A great fair here helps the State Fair at Salem. The big trotting events given at Portland last Fall helped every other fair in the Northwest."

Those present at yesterday's meeting were Julius L. Meier, E. L. Thompson, Tom Richardson, Dr. Woods Hutchinson, H. C. Campbell, D. O. Lively, C. C. Colt, J. P. Porter and George A. Westgate.

SPORTSMEN MEET TOMORROW

Oregon Fish and Game Association to Discuss Reforms.

The Oregon Fish and Game Association will hold a meeting tomorrow night at the Chamber of Commerce Building when all of the sportsmen of Portland are invited to be present to discuss needed reforms in the game laws of the state.

At this meeting a bill which has been prepared by a committee from the Oregon Fish and Game Association will be submitted section by section for adoption and presentation before the Legislature. Objectionable sections of the law now framed will be discussed and changes made according to the ideas of the majority present.

Delegations from the Portland Flycasting Club and the Audubon Society, each of which organizations has a bill of its own, will be present at the meeting for the purpose of making suggestions and telling of the vital points contained in their own bills.

Two Cities Join to Back Team.

HOQUIAM, Wash., Jan. 10. — (Special.)—There is a movement on foot for a joint baseball team to be financed by Hoquiam and Aberdeen in the Washington State League. Hoquiam fans are taking kindly to the proposition of a joint team, and with material of both cities there is the nucleus of a good team. Hoquiam dropped out of the league last season owing to non-support, the team being organized too late in the season to get in the pennant fight.

TINKER NOW OWNS FARM

EIGHTEEN ACRES AT NEWBERG BOUGHT NEAR SULLIVAN.

Fielder Jones Will Watch Chicago Baseball Man's Interests While He Is in East.

Before leaving Portland yesterday Joe Tinker completed two purchases of real estate in Oregon which now makes him eligible as a taxpayer in this community, and paves the way for his eventual residence here.

The result of his several visits to Newberg was the securing of 18 acres of fine farming land on which he is planning to install the entire Tinker family next Fall. This acreage is partly fruit land, and the star infielder of the National League figures that it will bring him in a nice revenue when he decides to retire from the diamond. The farm possesses ample accommodations in the shape of a fine seven-room house, spacious barns and modern poultry houses, and Tinker is highly pleased with the purchase.

Immediately after buying the farm Tinker consulted with his wife, and she expressed a desire to own some property in or near Portland, and yesterday the final papers were drawn up and the transfer of two acres just east of Montavilla was made by Keasey, Humason & Jeffery to Joseph B. and Ruby Tinker. This land is located in what is known as Ascot Acres, and the Tinkers took options on two adjoining acres with a view of purchasing immediately after they reach Chicago.

Joe Tinker's farm near Newberg is within a short distance of the ranch now owned by Billy Sullivan, of the Chicago White Sox, and of the site upon which Clark Griffith, of the Cincinnati Nationals, holds an option. Fielder Jones is looking after Tinker's interests for the time being.

RECIPROCITY IS OPPOSED

Canadians Also Ask That Fruit Tariff Be Raised.

VICTORIA, B. C., Jan. 10.—The Central Farmers' Institute, attended by Delegates from all sections of British Columbia, adopted a resolution condemning the proposal for reciprocity in natural products with the United States and asked that the duty on fruit entering Canada be raised on a tariff equal to that of the United States.

SNOW IS GENERAL OVER NORTHWEST

Falls Reported as Far South as Medford, but No Damage Is Done.

TRAFFIC LITTLE HINDERED

Rain Accompanies Snow in Portland, Causing It to Melt as Fast as It Touches Ground—Cold East of Cascades.

Driven by cold winds from the north, snow, mingled with rain, fell all day yesterday in Portland. Despite the downfall, but little trace remained in the business or residence section of the city, melting as fast as it touched the ground. The hills a few miles from Portland are white.

Though disagreeable to those forced to remain out of doors, the weather here yesterday caused no serious discomfort. Some little delay in traffic was caused in the downtown district, as draft horses experienced difficulty in maintaining a secure footing on the pavements, made slippery by the accumulation of melting snow. Firemen suffered considerably while coping with several conflagrations which occurred during the day, on account of a biting wind that hindered their efforts.

Snow Is Prospect.

Prediction of District Weather Forecaster Beals last night was that prospects were for more snow here today. Warm breezes from the Pacific Ocean, however, he said, might have a tendency to alleviate conditions, and bring rain.

The storm which hovered over the Pacific Northwest for the last three days is moving eastward, and generally all along the coast the weather is moderating rapidly, though reports from the sea show that rough conditions yet exist.

The high winds of the past few days served to disturb wire communication to only a minor extent and the damage done has for the most part been repaired. Railroad officials report but little delay in traffic except on the Canadian side of the boundary, where through service on the Canadian Pacific is at a standstill. However, it is expected that communication through the mountains will be re-established today.

Valley Has Snow.

All points north of Portland in Washington, and in the Willamete Valley, report snow in depths of from one to five inches. South, however, the snow was accompanied by rain, causing it to melt rapidly.

At Vancouver, Wash., the first snow of the season fell early yesterday morning, most of it melting as it touched the ground. At 6 o'clock yesterday morning the temperature along the Columbia River at Vancouver was below freezing, and ice formed. A thin coating of ice on the pavements there caused horses to slip, so that many drivers tied gunnysacks on the animals' feet.

Albany, Eugene, and as far south as Medford and Grants Pass experienced light snow falls. The greatest depth reported near here was at Woodland, Wash., where five inches of snow fell early yesterday morning.

Hail at Coos Bay.

Grays Harbor points, and South Bend, Wash., had from two to three inches of snow. Hail fell at Coos Bay, while a high wind took down telegraph and telephone wires in and out of the city.

McMinnville, and points on the west side of the Willamette River south of Portland report several inches of snow having fallen.

Stockmen in the Willamette Valley are not apprehensive of bad results attending a possible continuance of cold weather. There is plenty of feed to protect them in this event.

Fears that a rise in the Willamette river and tributary streams may cause a flood and serious damage to property are not great, though much snow is in the mountains and foothills. The Willamette River is now at a comparatively low stage and this will prevent a dangerous rise of the waters.

Rainier, St. Helens and towns along the Columbia River toward the ocean yesterday had light falls of snow, accompanied by high winds. Astoria reports a moderation of the gale of Sunday night. The weather there is colder, with indications for snow.

East of the Cascade Mountains the cold wave has arrived, though no snow has fallen. At Pendleton the minimum temperature yesterday morning was 29 degrees above zero, rising last evening to 40 above. Stock has not suffered, and, except that there is no protecting blanket of snow, the wheat is in good condition to withstand a cold snap.

SANTA MARIA IS CHOICE

M'CREDIE TO ANNOUNCE TRAINING QUARTERS.

Portland Manager Will Tell of Selection, It Is Said, After His Trip to Los Angeles.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—(Special.)—Walter McCredie has left for Los Angeles to make arrangements for the Spring training trip of the Beavers. Although it is practically settled that the Portland champions will train at Santa Maria, the Portland manager wants to arrange minor details before he makes the announcement.

Nick Williams held a conference with McCredie, but as Walter expects to return the last of the week, nothing definite was accomplished.

"Walter thinks there will be training weather in Portland as soon as any of the adjoining towns," said Williams. "That matter and the question of when the Portland Northwestern team will report have been left open, but will be decided before McCredie returns North."

McCredie also will have a meeting with Tip O'Neill on his return to secure dates for the Red Sox, of Boston.

Tommy Sheehan and Art Krueger will remain in San Francisco until the Beavers are ordered to report, about the first of March. Krueger is somewhat heavier than when he closed the season, but says that he is lighter than he was a year ago at this time.

Ball, the Cleveland infielder, who has been turned over to Portland, is in Los Angeles. It has been reported that Ball is dissatisfied with being turned over to a minor league team, but McCredie will have a talk with him and sign him up if possible. It is planned to send Ball to second base, which leaves shortstop to be filled by McCredie.

WHELAN OUT ON BOND

MAN ACCUSED OF HAVING STOLEN GOLD IS RELEASED.

Government Allows Reduction in Bond When Defendant Waives Preliminary Examination.

James Whelan, manager of the Fargo Saloon, was released from jail at noon yesterday on a $5000 bond. The bond was reduced from $15,000 by United States Commissioner Cannon upon recommendation of United States District Attorney McCourt. The bond was furnished by M. T. Nolan and Fannie Austin, Nolan was at one time Receiver of the Land Office at The Dalles.

Reduction of the bond was made on condition that Whelan would waive his preliminary examination before Commissioner Cannon, and consent to be bound over to the grand jury. To this he agreed. Government officials say this will save the Government considerable expense.

Whelan is accused of having had in his possession gold stolen from the mails while it was being transported from Fairbanks, Alaska, to Seattle. The Government's witnesses will be brought to Portland in March, when the grand jury begins its deliberations.

STATE-WIDE PROBE DUE

INVESTIGATION OF ALL OREGON INSTITUTIONS ASKED.

Resolutions Before Legislature Demand Inquiry as to Management of Many Places.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 10. —(Special.)—Wholesale investigation of state institutions will be directed by the present Legislature if resolutions offered in the House today are adopted.

Resolutions have already been presented asking for a legislative examination of the management and affairs at the State Penitentiary, insane asylum and the Soldiers' Home at Roseburg.

Another resolution calls for the appointment of a joint committee to visit the site of the branch insane asylum at Pendleton and report to the Legislature what is needed as an appropriation for the necessary buildings and equipment of this institution.

The fate of these resolutions and the question of making the proposed investigations rest with the resolutions committee, to which the several resolutions were referred.

SMALL ERROR IS COSTLY

Ex-Official Thinks Typographical Mistake Increased Salary.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Jan. 10.—(Special.)—The small error of striking the wrong key on a typewriter will likely cost the State of Washington thousands and thousands of dollars in salaries to treasurers of counties in the ninth class, according to ex-Auditor Kies, who thinks that the mistake was made when a certain law regulating salaries was passed.

According to the present law counties of the thirteenth, twelfth, eleventh and tenth classes pay their treasurers the same salary, $1800 a year. When the county is raised to the ninth class, the treasurer's salary is increased to $1850 a year, but when the county goes into the eighth class, one class higher, the treasurer's salary drops back to $1800 again, or what is paid by ninth class counties.

Mr. Kies believes that in making out the schedule the mistake was made in paying ninth class treasurers $50 more a year than treasurers of counties of the eighth class, one class higher.

This law was passed in 1895, and since that time, according to this theory, all treasurers in the ninth class counties have been receiving $50 a year more than they should.

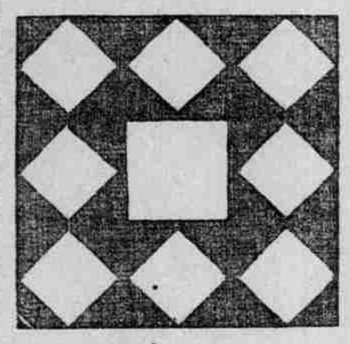
FREE THIS $500 PIANO

If You Can Solve This Puzzle. Can You Solve It?



Take any number from 7 to 15 inclusive. Do not use any number more than twice. Place one number in each of the squares, so that when they are added perpendicularly or horizontally the total will make 33. For the neatest correct answers we will give absolutely free the following prizes in order of merit. All prizewinners will be notified by mail and all prizes must be called for within ten days from closing of contest. It is not wrong to use this paper. Only one person in a family can enter. The winner of the first special prize in this great publicity contest will receive absolutely free the $500 Reed-French Piano, or if they prefer they can have their choice of either of the other two by paying the difference as above. Other special prizes to be awarded in order of merit.

This contest is being held by some of the world's largest manufacturers of high-grade pianos. These manufacturers believe they can make their pianos better known in this way in two or three weeks than it would be possible in any other way in the same number of years.

In Addition to the Above Prizes

every prize winner will receive, according to the merit of the solution, a bona fide Draft for an amount from $25 to $137.50. These Drafts will be accepted by us at their full face value to apply on the purchase of any one of the above new pianos that we are introducing to the piano-loving public through this mammoth advertising plan. The above mentioned Drafts will be given in denominations as follows: Three at $137.50, three at $135.00, three at $130.00, three at $125.00, three at $120.00, three at $110.00, three at $100.00, ten at $75.00, ten at $50.00, and all correct solutions will receive a Draft for $25.00.

Think of it! If you solve this puzzle correctly you will receive, IN ADDITION to one of the above elegant prizes, which you get ABSOLUTELY FREE, a bona fide Draft, as explained in the last above paragraph.

These pianos have an enviable reputation in many of the largest cities and the manufacturers believe they can introduce them in this market more quickly and satisfactorily by giving the people THE SAVING of the enormous expense of an introduction through the ordinary methods. Any thinking person will readily appreciate that any manufacturer of a reliable piano can well afford to make the above liberal offer, if by so doing he makes his instruments as well known in this vicinity during the next three or four weeks as would take three or four years by ordinary methods of advertising.

This is the age of co-operation, and the manufacturer of these pianos correctly believes that the best way to introduce them in this market is to spend the advertising money in making SPECIAL OFFERS TO THE PEOPLE rather than by employing world-famous demonstrators at a fabulous expense, and making the people pay for such methods by asking a heavily inflated price for the piano.

In the event of a tie for any of the prizes, the cash value of the prize will be divided equally between those tying. ALL CONTESTANTS WILL RECEIVE A VALUABLE PRIZE FOR THEIR EFFORT.
