

Lane County Legislator Says Refusal to Join Bowerman Costs Speakership.

FOUTS NAMED GO-BETWEEN

Appointment of Committees and Organization of House Held to Be Under Control of Bourne and ex-Senator Fulton.

(Continued From First Page.) by Eaton as to the chairmanships of the committees he enumerated were ful lied a few minutes later, when Speaker tick announced his committees

McKinney was the first to reply to Enton's remarks. The Baker County man resented the charge of Eaton that iy attempt had been made to use the University of Oregon as a club to in-fluence the position of Eaton or any er member as to their position on any natter coming before the Legislature. He said that merit alone, and not personal grudges, would always determine the consideration these institutions will receive in the Legislature.

Fonts Sees Eaton's "Halo."

Fouts sarcastically answered Eaton's charges as to himself by saying he had sheerved howering about the Lane County man a "halo of purity, virtue and deand then directly charged that Eaton's tactics in conducting his campalgn for the Speakership were not bend criticism. Proceeding, Fouts declared that early in the campaign Eaton licited his support and while Eaton specific promises, assured made 120 Fouts that he (Eaton) would have need such "lawyers of ability" on his committees. Fouts said the reason he had refused to support Eaton was because and his "progressive Republican colagues" did not regard Eaton as such a man as could be trusted with the apatment of important committees, such as that on revision of laws. Fouts emphatically denied that any trade had en made and said he did not know what committee places he was to receive until after the Speakership coutest had been determined.

on warmly resented Eaton's charge that the men associated with tompson in the Speakership fight were of the kind that could be delivered or traded by any one man or a score of men. He accused Eaton of connivance his candidacy for the Speakership and in replying to Eaton's reference to Fulton's participation in the contest. sald:

Mr. Fulton came to me in the presthese of Jay Bowerman, my good friend, and I am proud of it, and told me that if we would support Eaton for Speaker, Rowerman could be elected President of the Senate. Bowerman promptly replied: T'll go to hell first.' You, Mr. Eston. could not have had the Speakership at any time or for any price. I have only stood aside in this matter and asked that gress tonight from the Oregon Legisla-ture, urging that San Francisco be named as the location of the exposition which will celebrate the completion of the Pan-ama Canal. These telegrams followed a message from Governor West urging that such a move be taken, as tomorrow is the date set for Congress to vote on this question. Senator Joseph introduced a resolugion carrying out the request of the Governor, which was adopted in both houses. Governor West's message fol-lows: ONE House Committee Selections "Believing the holding of the Panama

Brownhill, Abrams, Huntington and Clyde participated briefly in the discussion, the tenor of their remarks being that if the present House had the authority some provision should be made by which the committees of the House at the next seasion should be melected in some other manner. This at least, they argued, would have the effect of removr any suspicion attending their selec-on as evidently has arisen during this ing any and the

Oratory Rules in House.

These bursts of oratory and interchange f personalities occupied more than an our and resulted in the adoption of the rules of the last mession, which carry with them the right of the Speaker to appoint his committees. Brownhill and Smith were the only two Representatives opposing Thompson's motion for the adoption of last year's rules. Speaker Rusk immediately announced his com-201 thereas mittees. At the opening of the afternoon session Eaton, chairman of the special commit-tee on rules, received permission to sub-mit two reports from the committee. The report signed by Abbott, Mahoney being nhaent, recommended the adoption of the rules of the last session intact. Eaton submitted a report favoring the same rules with the exception of an amend-ment giving to the members of the House the selection of their committees. Mcthe selection of their committees. Mc-Kinney moved that the minority (Eaton) report be substituted for that of the mafority report. In the meantime, however, Eaton had moved that both reports be tabled and Smith seconded the motion. Eaton appealed for harmonious action, Eaton appealed for harmonious action, explaining that the step he had proposed was intended to avoid a conflict. At the same time he pledged the members of the House that if the reports were tabled it would settle the controversy. McKinney finally concurred and, a vote being taken, the reports were laid on the table by a vote of 3 to 20, four absent. Thereason assended by Eaton, then

Thompson, seconded by Eaton, then oved that the rules of the 1500 session adopted as the rules of the present Eaton demurred to this, contend ing that under a previous motion by Thompson the rules of the last House remained in force until other rules were remained. Thompson insisted on his mo-tion, charging Eaton with insincerity in his professed desire for harmony. On the contrary, alleged Thompson, Eaton was seeking by his action to continue the House in a disorganized state and leave the situation such that a majority of the the situation such that a majority of the members of the House at any time could take out of the hands of the Speaker any measure of legislation. By formally adopting the established rules, he said, such a proceeding could only be had with a two-thirds vote of the members. Can be Given Secretly.

There is nothing that will create sickness or cause more trouble than a disordered stomach, and many people daily contract serious maladies simply through disregard or abuse of the stomach.

We urge every one suffering from any stomach derangement, indigestion or dyspepsia, whether acute or chronic, to try Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, with the distinct understanding that we will refund your money without question or formality. If after reasonable use of this medicine they are not satisfied with the results. We recommend them to our customers every day, and have yet to hear of any one who has not been benefited by them. Three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00 a box. Sold only at The Owl Drug Co., Inc., Cor. 7th and Washington Sts.
