PORTLAND, FRIDAY, JANUARY 20, 1911.

BRIGHT OUTLOOK FOR DIRECT SENATORS.

There should be "direct" election of United States Senators, the method should be made as direct as possible. It can be made by amendment of the National Constitution so as to take away the indirect agency of the State Legislatures and to bestow election upon state voters, same as in choice of Representatives.

LIGHT ON THE EXPRESS BUSINESS.

Through the agency of the Interstate Commerce Commission the people of the United States now enjoy their first opportunity to obtain accurate knowledge of the organization and business of the express companies. Statistics have been published which go into the subject quite thoroughly.

CALIFORNIA AND OREGON ROAD.

Road building is attracting more attention at the present time than ever before. The increasing use of the automobile is responsible for some of this good road sentiment, but there is also in evidence a better understanding of the economic advantages of good roads.

DECLINING DOMESTIC EXPORTS.

The preliminary statement of the Bureau of Statistics showing the value of domestic exports for the year 1910 again calls attention to the rapid decline in our exports of breadstuffs.

WHY AND WHY NOT?

Why not continue to call the Sandy road the Sandy road? Why "boulevard"?

AS TO THE GERM THEORY.

The letter from Helen Sayr Gray which the Oregonian prints today is presented to the reader more for its psychological interest than for any other reason.

GERMS AND HOW TO LIVE LONG.

Correspondent Secuts Value of Serums in Prevention of Diseases. PORTLAND, Jan. 18.—(To the Editor.) In the Sunday Oregonian is an editorial on "How to Live Long."

This remarkable result moves one to inquire whether the Government could not learn something from the express companies in the direction of business management and economy.

THE LEGISLATIVE REVOLT.

On the face of things the people of Oregon have declared that the Legislature is not to be trusted in the untrammelled naming of United States Senators.

heavens is one example of this. Pasteur's germ theory of disease is another. If Miss Gray had the industry to read the accounts of the patient's progress, the infinitely careful investigations, upon which the great master laid the foundations of his hypothesis, and then to read how one scientist after another has confirmed it, she might change her mind.
