ROAD OPPOSITION VAGUE

Lionel R. Webster Predicts Passage of Pending Bills.

"I believe the Legislature will adopt each of the five highway bills without material change," declared Lionel R. Webster, chairman of the executive committee of the Oregon Good Roads Association, returning last night after the third day he has spent at Salem.

"The opposition that has been expressed vaguely from various portions of the state has materialized in the Legislature in the persons of a few dissenters. But these are not to be understood as expressing the sentiment of the Grange members or of the farmers of the state. The Oregon State Grange adopted at its annual meeting a resolution, one of whose statements reads:

"The most important question of interest to farmers under consideration today is the building of permanent public highways. In order to lessen the cost of transportation of farm produce to the nearest market."

TAFT STANDS PAT IN COLWELL CASE

President Refuses to Withdraw Dictation of Two Senators.

LET SENATE REJECT HIM

Committee Will Probably Report Adversely and Senate Adopt Report, but Bourne Can't Dictate New Appointment.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Jan. 20.—President Taft has flatly refused to withdraw from the Senate the nomination of Elmer B. Colwell as United States Marshal for Oregon, but has put it up squarely to the Senate to decide whether Colwell shall be confirmed or rejected.

"When informed that the unwritten rule of the Senate does not permit the confirmation of any Presidential appointee who is 'personally obnoxious' to a Senator, the President took the position that Colwell has proved to be a competent official and for that reason he is not willing to withdraw his nomination. If the Oregon Senators maintain that Colwell is 'personally obnoxious' to them, the Senate must assume the full responsibility and must reject his nomination, if it wishes to get him out of the way."

It proved to be caused from the falling of a wall in the excavation where formerly stood the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Clubhouse, at the corner of Tenth and Yamhill streets.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—(Special.)—It was learned from an intimate friend of Paul Morton, who died suddenly at Hotel Seymour yesterday, that he left a fortune amounting to only $1,300,000. Of this sum $300,000 was in life insurance policies divided among several companies. Most of the insurance was taken out within the last year or two.
