SITUATION IS TENSE

BOTH MAYOR AND MUNICIPAL JUDGE STAND GROUND.

Peremptory Removal of Tazwell Promised Today if Laffer Refuses to Vacate Office.

"It would not be dignified for me to discuss the matter further. I have said all I have to say; perhaps I have discussed it too much already."
This was the reply of Mayor Simon to a query if Judge Tazwell will remain on the municipal bench after today. The Mayor has asserted that if Judge Tazwell does not leave the bench voluntarily at the close of business today, he will be peremptorily removed, and Mayor Kennedy will be appointed in his place, the appointment to take effect tomorrow.
Judge Tazwell is just as positive in his assertion that he will not leave the bench. He denies that he offered a cash consideration to Mayor Kennedy to withdraw from the contest, and declares that he will not only remain on the bench till the present elective term expires, but will be a candidate to succeed himself.
The controversy and discussion over the reported deal, whereby Judge Tazwell was to resign February 1 and Mayor Kennedy would be appointed, has been submerged by speculation as to how the Mayor will remove the Municipal Judge and appoint Major Kennedy and how Judge Tazwell will hold onto the bench in the face of the Mayor's executive power.
The controversy is no nearer solution than the day it became public matter and it is predicted that a settlement will not be made until the crisis comes tomorrow, when Mayor Kennedy will be directed to perform the duties of Municipal Judge.

AGED INDIAN FIGHTER DIES

Wilson McNeill Was Member of Famous Texas Rangers.

TAOOSMA, Wash., Jan. 30.—Wilson McNeill, aged 81, is dead at his home. He was a native of Tennessee, but more than 50 years ago he removed to Texas, where he joined the Texas Rangers and was in many fights with the Apaches, Comanches and other warring Indian tribes. He served in Colonel Maddin's Texas regiment during the Civil War. Four sons and five daughters survive him.

PILOT IS FOUND DEAD

CAPTAIN ARTHUR LEIGHTON PASSES AT ASTORIA.

Well-Known Master Mariner and Columbia Bar Guide Born on Ship 50 Years Ago.

ASTORIA, Or., Jan. 30.—(Special.)—Captain Arthur Leighton, the well-known Columbia River bar pilot, was found dead in bed at noon today at his room in the Bertleson residence. His death was caused by a hemorrhage resulting from stomach trouble with which he had been suffering for several days. It is thought that death came about midnight. On retiring last evening Captain Leighton complained of severe pains in his chest.
Captain Leighton was 50 years old and of Nova Scotian parentage, and was born on board the ship of which his father was master while the vessel was lying in the harbor at Bridgeport, Conn. Going to sea, when only a lad, Captain Leighton sailed the Atlantic for many years, advancing in rank to mate and finally to master.
About 20 years ago, Captain Leigh-

WOMAN'S HAT IS NO HAT AT ALL--JUST HAIR

Deceiving Coiffure Humbles Vancouver Residents.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Jan. 30.—(Special.)—In a local theater a woman, coming in late, took a seat well back, during the second act of a comedy. Directly in front of her sat another woman who had forgotten to remove her hat.
The woman who had come in late was much perturbed by the hat, as she could not see what was going on. So that the offender could hear, she mumbled in an undertone, such remarks, "I wish she would take off her hat," "I can't see through that bunch of feathers," "I wish I could see."
Hearing not a sound, but intent on watching the actors, the woman with the hat remained unmoved.
The woman in the back row could stand it no longer, so she motioned an usher who passed, and said, "I can't see the show for that woman's hat, will you ask her to remove it, please?"
"Why, certainly."
Stepping to the side of her seat, the usher in a whisper, "The lady behind you can't see for your hat, will you kindly remove it during the show?"

Looking up, she indignantly replied, "Why I have no hat on; here is my hat," taking it from the seat on her left.
