ALL URGED TO DECORATE MONKEY WORK SUIT BASIS

Cany Store Owner Wants $56.75 for Simian's Depredations.

Steps Are Taken by Management to Secure General Scheme of Decorations Throughout Retail Business District.

Red. White and Blue.

For copredations committed by a mischievous monkey in one night of riotous freedom, damages in the sum of $55.75 are claimed by Peter and Colcho Stancheff in a suit filed yea-terday in Justice Court terday in Justice Court against Fred Neam

Nesme. The Stancheff brothers recite that they were until one night last week the proprietors of certain candies, to-baccos and cigars, deposited in a store-room at 73 North Third street, and that Nesme, who runs a moving-pic-ture show in the neighborhood, was the owner of a monkey. Through his carelessness, they allege, the monkey was allowed to stray and entered their store, where he "broke, injured, de-stroyed and ate" stock of the value of 151.75.
