Contractors Declare Material Is Not Segregated as Required by Ordinance - Further Tests Are Decided Upon.

Bills aggregating about $280, representing the expenses of operating the new garbage crematory during January, which were approved with some protest by the Board of Health at a meeting yesterday morning, were held up yester-day afternoon by City Auditor Barbur, who declared he would not audit them who declared he would not audit them unless it is proved to him that to do so would be a legal act. The contractors are bound by the terms of their agreement with the city to consume garbage at a rate of from 6 cents to 60 cents a ton, depending on the kind of test. The bills show that the cost of hurning garbage during January amounted to 51.5 a ton, and it is due to this excessive cost that Mr. Harbur refuses to audit the that Mr. Barbur refuses to audit the City Attorney Grant yesterday gave an opinion to the effect that every feature of the expense of hurning garbage must be considered in determining the cost of operating the crematory. His opinion, if observed, will require the city to take into account the wages paid to men who have been employed by the contractors. have been employed by the contractors since the tests began, and will raise the cost for the average test thus far made to materially more than $1.5 a ton.

Criticism Leads to Trouble.

Criticism of the new crematory contained in the monthly report of contained 'n the monthly report of Superintendent Napier, and partially sus-tained by a report by Health Officer Wheeler, caused excitement at the meet-ing of the Board of Health yesterday morning, and nearly precipitated a fight after the meeting between Mr. Napier and Fred P. Smith, the engineer who directed the construction of the crema-tary. Napier and Smith have been un-friendly for a long time, and if Dr. Alan Welch Smith, a member of the Board. Weich Smith, a member of the Board, had not interfered when the two lost their tempers yesterday morning a fight their tempers yesterday morning a fight would have resulted, it was believed. Before Napier's report was read. Napier told the Hoard that the expenses of his department had reached $8000 during January and that with the exception of the last three months of last year the average cost had been but shout him was due to the cost of operating the new garbage crematory the report caused considerable construction, and Mayor Simon insisted on a more minute Major Bimos insisted on a more minute explanation. Napler then explained that of the total amount spent for his department. 1200 was for the new crematory and the remainder was for the operation of the old plant. He presented figures to show that the cost of cotsuming garb-age in the new plant from December 27 to January II was an average of $1.25 a ton, or more than twice the cost required by the contract for the new plant.

Contractors Charge Unfairness.

A. B. Manley and Fred P. Smith, repre senting the contractor, the Public Works Engineering Company, acknowledged that at first the cost was excessive, swing to the newness of the plant and the necessity that the men employed there shall become familiar with their work. They filed a report charging work. They filed a report charging Nupler with unfair conduct toward them. They asserted that he had tried to handi-cap their efforts in various ways, chiefly by going out early in the morning and ordering the scavengers to mix the com-bustible and unburnable garbage to-gether, which interferred with the fires. After listening to the reports and hear-ing contradictory statements made con-cerning the new plant, the Board decided to continue the present line of tests for two more weeks before any change is

Dr. Smith supported Napier in his charges against the workings of the new plant, saying: plant saying:

with it, and [will not be estimiled with

Turning to Fred P. Smith, Dr. Smith asked him pointedly whether the crematory had not fallen short in its tests the day before.

"We were seven tons short yesterday," said Mr. Smith, "and that was because I was not notified that much of the morning material would not come to us, and because of an excess amount coming

Special Cleaning Up Denied.

"Isn't it true," said Dr. Smith. "that you cleaned up your plant and let the garbage go for awhile yesterday after-noon in order to have the place presentable for some visitors you were expect

Smith denied this, and insisted that the garhage was not being segregated as re-quired by the city ordinances. Mayor Simon said that something must be done to cut down the expenses of op-be done to cut down the expenses of op-eration, as the money for the crematory would not lest throughout the year. Dr. Wheeler verified Napier's report that the cost of the burning had been $1.25 a ton for last mouth. The contractors said that Dr. Wheeler had been fair with them, and they were willing to confer-with him regarding the further carry-ing on of the tests. After the meeting had adjourned, sev-eral of those present went to the health ing on of the tests.

After the meeting had adjourned, several of those present went to the health office, and it was there that Napier and Smith showed hostility to each other.

"You're nothing but a grafter," said Fred P. Smith to Napier.

"And you're a scoundrel," was the threatening reply.

Dr. Smith stepped in to part the two men and to prevent a fight. After he had quieted Napier, he turned on Mr. Smith and implied that Smith would do well to keep the peace.

LAW TO STOP CORRUPTION

New York Committee Finds Bribery and Proposes Drastic Bill.

ALHANY, N. Y., Feb. 1 .- The enactment of a drastic corrupt practices act with a maximum penalty of ten years' imprisonment and $10,000 fine for the failure of a legislator to report immediately any attempt to buy or inreforms in the fire insurance laws of the state are recommended in a lengthy report of the legislative investigating committee submitted to the Legisla-both bodies.

In probing corrupt practices in connection with legislation, the committee, according to the report, investigated alleged bribegiving brought to the surface in investigations conducted in 1910 by the Senate and the State Superintendent of Insurance and certain other unverified allegations. These allegations, the report says, were made in connection with the payment by the state of a best sugar bounty, the passage of the anti-racetrack gambling law and of amendments to the agricultural and of amendments to the agricultural law with reference to milk.

The committee found abundant evidence of graft. In the beet sugar bounty case, however, the committee rejects the testimony of Harry F. Zimmerlin, the testimony of Harry F. EUGENE CITIZENS AND COUNCIL DIFFER OVER METHODS.

Mass Meeting Calls on Officials to Include Measure on Ballot, but Latter Seek Delay.

EUGENE, Or., Feb. 1 .- (Special.) --The fight for a commission charter for Eugene assumed an active aspect to-night when a mass meeting of citizens for a second time asked that the Com-mon Council include a specific measure on the ballot at the April election. The Council, however, rejected both the pro-posed charters, and instead provided for a charter commission of nine to so to cork immediately after the April elec-

Conflicting reports as to action of the Conflicting reports as to action of the mass meeting came to the Council chamber. Following the report favoring immediate submission of a charter, another story was brought of approval of the Council's action by the four-fifths of the citizens remaining at the mass meeting, and another speaker charged that discussion had been over-tyled by high-handed methods in the ruled by high-handed methods in the mass meeting.

At the Courthouse meeting, attempt was made to confine the discussion to the point at issue, namely, the ratification of the report of the charter commission, and to prevent long arguments on commission government in general, so that the Council would have a chance to adjourn. Nor did the mass meeting inderse the action of the Council. The new ordinance was read, but no vote called, cii. The new ordinance was read, but no vote called.

Feeling is becoming intense and charges of mismanagement of city affairs on the part of the present administration add fuel to the arguments for a commission government. Moreover, advocates of the commission plan feel they have been tricked by the Council. They relied on the Council's invitation to submit a charter, and are chagrined to find delay asked for. Supporters of the administration maintain that the few months required for drafting of a new charter is not material, and deliberate action is the best. At any rate, the city campaign, which is usually confined to two weeks, promises to continue with energy for the remaining 60 days. 60 дауя.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The Paget Sound low pressure area has moved southeastward to Eastern Washington and Northern Idaho, and the sentral Mississippi Valley depression has moved to the Lake region. These movements have been attended with rain or show over the greater portion or the north Pacific Slope, in the Missouri and upper Mississippi Valleys and Lake region. The northwestern high pressure area has spread southeastmard to Wyoming and South Dakota, causing freezing temperatures as far south as Iowa and Northern Nebraska, the temperatures in the region affected being II to IT degrees below the normal. Elsewhere, excepting in the New England states, temperatures, generally, are above the seasonal average. High winds have occurred over the northern Lakes region.

Conditions are favorable for rain or snow Thursday throughout this district, with no decided changes in temperatures and generally westerly winds. WEATHER CONDITIONS.

Build Your Home on the West Side

N THE West Side are the gentle sloping hillsides, from which can be seen the snow-capped mountains and the rivers and the valleys. Those West Side hills, which afford the most magnificent view, are those which lie to the south. A fourteenminute ride on the Oregon Electric from Front and Jefferson lands you at what is now known as Fulton Station. All of the land near to this station is beautiful, gentle-sloping, hillside property—the choicest in the city. Now is the first opportunity the public has had to purchase home sites in this truly beautiful section, which is named

Burlingame

THIS is to be Portland's select residence section. Only homes may be built. The whole of the property is fully restricted. The minimum cost of a home has been placed at $2500. These delightful hills will be interwoven with magnificent avenues and boulevards. The "City Beautiful" system of parkways will extend through Burlingame. Burlingame will be shown to visitors to the city and described as being THE select section of the city. The first prices are always lowest. Those who are wise enough to figure ahead a little, get in on the ground floor. You will want your home in Burlingame. Home sites from $700 to $1000-10 per cent down, 2 per cent per month. Extra special discount of 10 per cent to those who buy before one-fourth of the tract is sold. Visit the property. Then come to the office and talk it over. "POLITICS." EACH ACCUSES President Resents Remarks of Tuesday by Senator From Douglas, Who Makes Specific His Accusation.

STATE CAPITOL Salem, Or., Feb. 1. -(Special.) -- President Selling and Seneter Abraham clashed this morning when Abraham's bill making it mandatory for the Governor to issue requisitions for fugitives from justice, who have been indicted for treason and felony, was under consideration and was being voted upon.

Yesterday when Abraham was speak-ing on the Albee resolution concern-ing the Oregon system of government. President-Selling took offense at some of the Douglas Senator's words, con-sidering them a political imputation against himself.

This morning when Selling's name was called on the roll he rose and said: "I resent the remarks made by the Senator from Douglas yesterday that any of my acts are of a political nature and I deny the imputation. But I do think that the acts of the Schator from Douglas are inspired by political motives and I believe that this bill is so inspired, so emphatically I vote

'No."

Abraham, rising to a question of personal privilege, declared that for men to make estimates of each other's characters was a matter upon which the most profound logicians differ.

"I believe that you are conscientious in what you do. But I don't believe in what you do. But I don't believe that it stands in any man's mouth to tell another what to think. If we see ourselves as we should, or ourselves 'as others see us' posibly we might speak intelligently in this respect. If I have offended you personally, Mr. President, I apologize. What I have said and what I will hereafter say I say only in the interests of the country and the people. It is only from a profound feeling I have for the great good and success of our Government that I have taken any part in this discussion at all. "But, with all due deference to your-But, with all due deterence to your-self, Mr. President, you will concede that you have made remarks from the chair that are not necessary. When you first took the chair you mentioned that machine politics is dead in Ore-gon. On this bill you impugn my moives and I want to call your attention that you are subject to the same charges that you have made against Selling stated that in taking the chair he had merely remarked that "he hoped machine politics is dead in

H. B. 14. Clyde—Abolishing capital pun-the dignity of a District Court and provide another magistrate.

It is believed this would serve to grant the relief desired in the Circuit Court, although some of the delegation is willing to provide for another cuit Judge also. The bill for increasing the salary of the Constable of the Portland district from $1500 to $2400 will have hard sledding. There is a disposition to grant increases in the salaries of the deputies in the District Attorney's office. These questions probably will be determined at tomorrow's meeting of the delegation.

A few of the members of the delega-tion are opposed to creating any more judgeships on the Circuit bench. At Tuesday night's hearing the Circuit Judges left with the delegation a mem-orandum showing the number of days every judge was on the bench during 1910.

The average was 18% days every month. It is argued by some members of the delegation that if some provision could be made for more continuous service by the five judges now serving the increased volume of business that could be handled would remove the necessity for more judges.
