BOSTON, Feb. 1.—A move to carry out the terms of the will of Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, founder of Christian Science. was made today.

was made teday.

A bill in equity was filed in the Supreme Jodicial Court, asking that the executor and the trustees of certain trust indentures executed by Mrs. E2dy in 1807 and 1808 be instructed to turn over her real estate in Masmachusetts to the directors of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Hoston, the residuary legates under the will. legates under the will. The amount is estimated at 1,500.00.

The hill refers to the state law which provides that "the income of the gifts, grants, bequests and devises made to or for the use of any one church shall not exceed 1300 a year exclusive of the income of any parsonage land granted to or for the use of the ministry."

It also is said the real estate referred to is of large value and the income will exceed $2000 a year.

exceed $300 a year.

The bill says the state law in question has no application to the gift made by the will, in that the residuary clause in said will leaves the property referred to to be held by the petitioners in trust for charitable purposes.

Mrs. Turnbull Hears Her Evidence Refuted, Oregon Resident Testifying.

LETTER TALE IS DENIED

Witness to Whom Contract Marriage Was Supposed to Have Been Confided Declares That She Knew Nothing of It.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 1 .- The defense in the contest of the will of "Lucky" Baldwin caused several surprises today by the introduction of evidence directly contrary to that given by Mrs. Lillian Turnbull, mother of Beatrice Baldwin, alleged to be the daughter of the dead turfman.

Mrs. Laurie Wilson James, of Robnett Or., who Byed in Cynthiana, Ky., in 1892, when Mrs. Turnbull, then Miss Ashley was visiting there, was placed on the stand and said she had discussed Baldwin with Miss Ashley, telling her that no young woman could afford to number such a man among her acquaintances. Mrs. James declared she told Miss Ashley of Baldwin's possessions in California and of his being married and the father of at least one grown girl.

Mrs. Turnbull Refuted.

Mrs. James was one of those to whom Mrs. Turnbull asserted she had written. Mrs. Turnbuil asserted she had written, telling of her contract marriage with Baldwin. But the witness asserted that she had never received a letter from Mrs. Turnbull to that effect. Mrs. James, however, said that during the trial of Mrs. Turnbull's damage suit against Baldwin in 1896 she had received one letter from Mrs. Turnbull in which the latter had written: "Do not think too hard of me, Laurie; you wouldn't if you knew all."

Mrs. James declared she never had understood from anything Mrs. Turnbull ever wrote or told her that she had been married.

A determined but unsuccessful effort was made by Mrs. Turnbull's attorneys to have the court disregard all evidence concerning the contestant's alleged intimacy with Colonel Albert Pope.

The subject was opened by the effort of the attorneys for the estate to have a witness, Colonel A. M. Stephens, identifications of the contest of the state of the colonel at the colonel

Mrs. Turnbull has denied the existence of such an agreement. Her attorneys objected to this line of testimony, and endeavored to have all testimony concerning Mrs. Turnbull's relations with men, other than E. J. Baldwin, stricken from the record.

Augustus Paimer, of San Diego, an employe of a livery stable at Coronado in 1891, said he accompanied Mrs. Turnbull when she went horseback riding there, and that Baidwin had told him before he started that she was his daughter.

Andrew Reuter, secretary to Judge Ross, of the United States Circuit Court, and a stenographer otherwise engaged in 1896, was placed on the stand in an attempt to prove that the deposition of E. P. Ashley, Mrs. Turnbull's brother, had been reported by him. There was an argument over the introduction of an alleged copy of the deposition and the defense then began to produce other evidence to prove its identity. Charles C. Davis, an attorney engaged by Mrs. Turnbuil in the seduction case, and he believed the copy of the deposition to be correct.
