PASSES BY 1 VOTE

Measure to Give Secretary of State Assistant Is Debated With Spirit.

OPPONENTS MAKE CHARGES

Thompson Protests Against Lobby Against Bill by Deputy From Governor's Office, Who He Declares Is Active.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Feb. 8. (Special.)-With only one vote to spare, Senator Bowerman's bill, creating the office of Assistant Secretary of State. passed the House today with 22 in its passed the House today with 22 in its favor. 25 agains: and Representative Buckley, a supporter of the bill, absent. The debate on the bill was the most spirited of the session and included charges of playing politics, questioning the Republicanism of members opposing the measure and intimating that the sole purpose of the bill was to discredit Governor West.

At its afternoon session the House in-definitely postponed the Derby bill pro-posing the validation of all efficial acts performed by the chief clerk in the of-fice of the Secretary of State during the absence from the state of the Secretary. The reason for this action was explained s the fact that a similar bill, providing also for the validation of all notarial crifficates issued under the same cir-umstances, has already been introduced in the Senate.

The bill came up at 10 o'clock this The bill came up at 10 o'clock this morning under a special order when Derby, seconded by Fouts, sought to have it taken up in committee of the whole. This was defeated as was also a second motion by Fouts that the bill be re-referred to the committee on irrigation. In support of his motion, Fouts explained that he wished to have the measure amended so as to increase the bond of the assistant Secretary from 110,000 to 5100,000 and that the assistant should serve only when the disability of the Secretary of State extended over a period of three menths.

Thompson Supports Bill.

Replying, Thompson said the bond of the Secretary of State already was fixed at $10.000 and it was not right to ask a larger bond of the assistant. Thomp-son, in arguing for the bill, said it was necessary for the proper transaction of the business of the state.

"What is more, I protest against the Sobbying against this bill which has been going on in the House this morn-ing," continued Thompson. "A deputy from the office of the present Governor from the office of the present Governor has been interviewing members of this House since early this morning seeking to put the scare of God into their hearts by telling them what will happen if they support this bill."

Later in the discussion Thompson denled that C. N. McArthur was slated for the position as reported in a Portland paper, and for the information of Brownhill, who had maked who was requesting the creation of the office, said he had received a letter from Secretary of State Benson urging the enactment of had received a letter from Secretary of State Benson urging the enactment of the Bowerman bill that the office of Secretary of State might be represented on the State Board. He said further that he had been informed it was the purpose of Secretary Benson to appoint his chief deputy. H. H. Corey, to the position of Assistant Secretary of State.

Amme spoke in opposition to the bill, which, he said, proposed creating an office the state had done without for as ffice the state had done without for 40 years. "If Secretary of State Benson is not able to fill the position, and he will not recover from his present liness, he should resign and let us put somebody else in his place." Johnson opposed creating an additional office on grounds of economy.

These Support Measure.

Huntington, Abrams, Brooks, Peterson, Neuner and Mahoney spoke for the bill contending that it was not in any sense a political move but on the contrary merely provided for a serious contingency in the state's affairs. They argued that it was only right for the Legislature to provide for a third member on the State Board, by which was disbursed annually three-fourths of the money raised by the state from tayatter money raised by the state from taxation and other sources and aggregating be-tween $2,000.000 and $4,000,000.

Derby insisted that the Legislature should proceed carefully in the creation of additional offices at the expense of the faxpayers. While the proposed office, he said, did not involve a further expense to the rists, still it provided for an officer to discharge the duties of the Secretary of State wide he was out of the state and at the same time drawing his salary from the state. Derby said his salary from the sizie. Derby said the Howerman bill was defective for the reason that it made no provision for validating the acts of the chief cierk in validating the acts of the chief clerk in the Secretary of State's office during the absence of the Secretary.

Answering these objections, Thompson said the curative provisions suggested by Derby were purposely omitted from the Bowerman bill for the reason that if included the bill would embrace two subjects of legislation and consequently would be unconstitutional. He suggested would be unconstitutional. He suggest-ed that the matter of validating the acts of the chief clerk should be provided in another bill.

"Machine," Declares Brownhill. "The men behind this bill," said Brownhill, "are the same men who have been directing the political machine of this state for years. It is only a move to discredit the present Governor of this state. Benson should have resigned. I am sure if this matter was left to a vote of the people of the state they would not approve of the Secretary's being absent from the state for such protracted.

S. B. 154. by Calkins—To impose a tax on mortgages.

S. B. 125, by Joseph—To install voting machines in Multnomah County.

S. B. 125, by Bean—Relating to creating of drainage districts.

S. B. 65, by Kellaher—Prescribing laws governing hotels.

NEW SCHEDULE TO

not approve of the Secretary's being absent from the state for such protracted periods and at the same time draw his salary from the state. Following Brownhill, McKinney suggested that the most direct way of treating with the salary of the Secretary of State was by the enactment of a bill providing that when out of the state that official should not receive his salary from the state, rather than to inject this feature of the discussion into the confeature of the discussion into the consideration of the bill before the House and to which it was not sermane.
"I shall introduce such a bill," answered.

McKinney proceeded roundly to cen-sure those Republican members of the House who were opposing the bill and questioned the quality of their Repub-

"This is only a bill which gives a Republican Legislature the right to put a Republican on the state board and complete its membership," said McKinnoy. "Is the slogan Let the people rule" to be replaced by 'Let the Democrats rule" I am a Republican. I have the greatest respect for a Democrat, but I do not have to become a Democrat, but I do not have to become a Democrat, but I do not have to become a Democrat, but I do not have to become a Democrat, but I do not have to become a Democrat, but I do not have to become a Democrat with the fineription 'I am a Pencerat' and wave it about you, so that your true colors will be known. I would lie awake all night, and my suffering was intolerable. A scaly humor settled on my back, and being but a child, I naturally seratched it. It was a burning, itching sonsation, and utterly intolerable, in fact, it was so that I could not possibly forget about it. It did not take long before it spread to my shoulders and arms, and i was almost covered with a mass of raw flesh on account of my scratching it. I was in such a condition that my hands were tied.

"A number of physicians were called, but it seemed beyond their medical power and knowledge to cure me. Having tried numerous treatments without deriving any benefit from them. I had given myself up to the mercy of my dreadful mailady, but I thought I would take the Cuticura treatment as a last resort. Words cannot express my gratitude to the one who created 'The Cuticura Miracies,' as I have named them, for thank heaven there was such a miracle as the Cuticura Remedies sent to the suffering world, and now I feel as If I never suffered from even a pimple. My disease was routed by Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and I shall never cease praising the wonderful merits they contain. I will never be without them, in fact, I can almost dare any skin diseases to attack me so long as I have Cuticura Remedies in the house. Kallahar's only words against the Kellaher's only words against the proposed measure came this morning, when he declared the bill "is full of omissions and jokers." He had submitted a minority report on the bill against a majority report signed by Bean, Patton, Burgess and Malarkey. Kellaher moved that the minority report be substituted for the majority, this motion losing. Kellaber being the only one to vote favorably upon it. But slight amendments were made during the entire consideration of the bill. Barrett of Washington attempted to secure a cut in the appropriation from $35,000 for the two-year period to $25,000, but this was voted down. When Malarkey attempted to secure final passage of the bill, Joseph interposed a motion to adjourn. Bowerman objected, as he had a short report he wished to submit. Yet was taken to wished to submit. Vote was taken on motion to adjourn, however, and the motion lost, but nine being in favor

HOUSE HAS TINY MUTINY

SOME REPRESENTATIVES TRY TO

UNSEAT RUSK. Several Rebel, Alleging Speaker Fails to Recognize Them-Thompson

Won't Join Fight. Special.)-Peeved by what they allege amounted to lack of recognition and undue consideration when recognized, several House members today initiated a small-sized rebellion which and for its purpose the unseating of Speaker Rusk. The insurrection, while not assuming dangerous proportions, developed sufficiently that some of the disgruntled members went to Thompson of Lake, and suggested that he permit his name to be considered as a candidate to succeed Rusk. Thompson refused to entertain the proposal.

This dissatisfaction among a few Representatives with Speaker Rusk is the result of the Speaker's firmness and determination to dispatch the business of the House, which is in a seriously con-gested condition. Beginning last Mon-day, the Speaker has suppressed a great deal of fillbustering by enforcing the rules of the House rigidly and by limit-ing needless and time-consuming debates. In some rulings the presiding officer probably was a trifle hasty, and in his commendable desire to expedite the business of the House, Representatives occasionally have been cut short in their remarks and in a few instances not rec-sionally have been cut short in their remarks and in a few instances not recognized. But the large majority of the House is with Speaker Rusk, leaving little doubt of the possibility that he will be deposed.

"I am either going to be Speaker," said Speaker Rusk tonight, when apprised that a few of the House members were seeking his removal as Speaker. "I have at all times sought to rule fairly and impartially. My only object is to expedite the business of the House and to curtail the waste of time in which the House prior to this week has been so prodigal. If the members of the House do not approve of my administration, it is their privilege to remove me. However, I am satisfied with my record as Speaker and am not worrying about being deposed." Under the rules of the House, a majority of its members at any time can depose their presiding officer and elect another Speaker.
