

DEATH OF PRELATE TO BRING CHANGES

Rivalry for Late Archbishop Ryan's Title Will Be Very Keen.

MANY ALREADY MENTIONED

Bishop Coadjutor O'Connell, of San Francisco, Spoken Of—Action for Second American Cardinal Likely to Revive.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—(Special.)—Important changes in the government of the Catholic Church in America are made inevitable by the death of Archbishop Ryan. There will be a strong rivalry for the throne he has vacated. Priests of the archdiocese of Philadelphia may be expected to make a strong plea for the promotion of a Philadelphia, one of the bishops of that province, or, as is more likely, Monsignor Kennedy, rector of the North American College at Rome. According to the laws of the church, Auxiliary Bishop Prendergast becomes administrator of the archdiocese pending the appointment of a successor. It is understood Bishop Prendergast, who is well advanced in years, has no desire to be promoted. If a bishop of the province of Philadelphia is favored, the choice will be among Bishops Fitzmaurice of Erie, Shanahan of Harrisburg and others.

Many of the archbishops may be expected to favor the promotion of some prelate entirely disconnected with the province of Philadelphia. Among those prominently mentioned are the former rector of the Catholic University, Bishop Conroy and Bishop Coadjutor O'Connell, of Philadelphia. The latter was appointed coadjutor with the right of succession in the event of the death of Archbishop Riordan, who also had been ailing for a long time. Archbishop Ryan was in a similar position at the time he was transferred to Philadelphia. He was coadjutor to Archbishop Kenrick with the right of succession, and the prelate was most anxious to see his assistant take his place, but Rome had other plans. Bishop O'Connell, of Sioux Falls, and Bishop Keenan, of Charlestown, Wyo., are likely to be considered.

The death of Archbishop Ryan has removed a formidable factor in the creation of another American member of the Sacred College. The dead prelate was always thought to have had an even chance with Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul, and Cardinal Gibbons, of Baltimore, to have succeeded to the vacant throne of the Philadelphia. He was said to be the choice for cardinal if there should be another in this country. His death, therefore, in a measure, is a situation that is known to have given Rome much concern, and it undoubtedly will revive activity both here and abroad in the matter of a second member of the Sacred College.

SESSION MAY BE LONGER

far no organized movement to prevent a vote in the House. The passage of the bill, nevertheless, probably will result in one of the hottest debates of the session. The Democrats of the House are pledged to the reciprocity agreement under the recent caucus action, although a handful of the minority will oppose the measure. A conference of Democratic Senators and members of the House will be held on Tuesday, but it is expected an adjournment will be taken until the House has acted upon the agreement.

Democrats Are Hesitant.

Several Democratic Senators feel that they ought not to define their attitude on the measure until they learn in what form it has been presented. The indications are that Senator Brown of Nebraska will not have to invoke his threatened opposition to appropriations bills in order to bring about a vote on the resolution providing for popular election of Senators. The "former case, a service measure, will and the bill to create a permanent tariff board.

Sentiment Is Shown.

A careful canvass seems to justify the statement that the sentiment as to these measures may be described as follows: Popular election of Senators probably will be defeated by reason of the intersection of the race question into the discussion of the resolution. An amendment to the resolution had already been offered by Senator Sutherland, which Southern members say is as objectionable to them as was the "force" bill. It seems practically certain this amendment will be adopted, and its effect certainly would be to alienate Southern support, thus making impossible the necessary two-thirds vote of the Senate for the main resolution.

Tariff Board May Yet Win.

A week ago the bill to provide for a permanent tariff board seemed in danger of defeat because of the almost solid Democratic opposition. There has been a change in the Senate majority. Led by Senator McPherson, those who believed the passage of the bill to be in the President Taft's political interest have arrived at the conclusion that Democratic opposition would simply convince the country that the Democrats of the Senate and House were not pulling together. The House Democrats voted for the bill almost as a man, and it was their position that made its passage certain. Administration leaders will tell President Taft tomorrow that the bill will go through.

ROUTE IS INSPECTED

Harriman Officials Start on Trip to Redmond.

SOUTH DISTRICT IS GOAL

Special Cars to Run Up Deschutes Valley to Trout Creek, Where Railway Chiefs Will Journey Farther by Stage and Auto.

Chiefs of the operating and traffic departments of the Harriman system in this city left on a special train last night for Deschutes, for the purpose of making an inspection trip of the Deschutes Valley Railroad, now under construction. The private cars were attached to the fast mail train leaving for the East at 6:30, and will remain at the Deschutes Junction until daylight this morning, when the run up the valley over the newly-constructed line will be started. It is intended to reach Trout Creek, which marks the end of the track, before noon today. From that point wagons will convey the officials to Madras, which place, it is expected, will be their rendezvous tonight. The journey will be continued by automobiles and stage to Redmond and probably to Bend.

While Redmond will be the terminus of the Harriman road, it is likely that considerable traffic will be enlivened from points south of that place. For that reason it is desired to secure as much knowledge of all the adjacent territory as possible. All the roadbed from the river south to Trout Creek has been placed in excellent condition and will be ready for service as soon as the bridges across Trout Creek and Willow Creek are constructed, so as to permit the operation of trains south of the present end of the road.

It is expected that these two bridges will be finished about April 1. The line to Redmond, it is figured, will be opened early in the summer. The trip today will be the first for some of the local men into the Deschutes country. They desire thoroughly to familiarize themselves with conditions there, so as to be able better to handle the business that promises to result as soon as the line is opened for traffic.

As the road nears completion, inquiries for both freight and passenger service become frequent. On the present trip the officials will come into personal contact with prospective patrons of the road and will be in a position to learn of the individual needs of the several communities on the line. Included in the party are H. B. Miller, traffic manager; M. J. Buckley, acting general manager; Fred W. Robinson, general freight agent; William Boltons, superintendent; John M. Scott, assistant general passenger agent; George W. Boschee, chief engineer, and P. H. Dunn, traveling freight agent.

WOMAN WINS $20,000 CASE

Mrs. J. D. Mayer, of Vancouver, Victorious in Property Suit.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Feb. 12.—(Special.)—Mrs. J. D. Mayer, of Vancouver, was informed yesterday that she had won a case before the Supreme Court, in regard to two lots at the northwest corner of Main and Eighth streets. The property involved is now valued at not less than $20,000.

Gladstone Records Diphtheria Cases.

OREGON CITY, Or., Feb. 12.—(Special.)—Two cases of diphtheria, both in the same family, were recorded in Gladstone Saturday. Mrs. William Emery and her little son are those sick, but conditions are such that no danger of contagion is feared and it is thought those afflicted are in little danger.

that novels are seldom successful when dramatized. While the salient features of the book are preserved, some of the finer shades of characterization are lacking, yet the picture portrays Thelma and her father, Olaf, in strong colors and the film, with its majestic scenes of the sea, the interior of the two other worlds, one comic and the other an Indian thriller, make up a good bill. The effect of the new picture in bringing out the depth and shades of the photo plays was appreciated and Thorn and Carney did splendid work. The singing of the "Gypsy Love Song" by Mr. Swinton, received an encore by every show. Next Wednesday the management will exhibit at the Star for the first time the famous Buffalo Jones' picture, "Lassoing Wild Animals in Africa." The Star has engaged an expert baritone tenor, who will illustrate how Buffalo Jones and his Western cowboys caught lions and other beasts of the African jungle without the aid of guns or other deadly weapons.

At the Arcade the feature is a well constructed story in which Abraham Lincoln plays the leading role. "The Petticoat Sheriff" is an extremely funny comedy. At the Odéon "The Slave's Revolt" is not the advertised feature, but it proved to be a feature with the spectators. "Carmenita," "Tommy Mother-in-law" and double singers made up a strong entertainment.

A strong Indian picture, full of tragic action, a Western cowboy tale and a comedy, good singing and "Uncle Hiram and His Little Pig" pleased unusual crowds at the On Joy Theater.

East Siders gathered in force at Tivoli and despite the rain were rewarded with the season's most effective show. Three thousand feet of good film, a great song and a clever music made up the programme. On March 1, 2, 3 the pony contest will come to a close. Three East Side merchants will superintend the award and tickets will be requested to make affidavits that the award is made absolutely independent of the People's Amusement Company and exclusively under the control and direction of the committee.

NEGRO DENIES MATCHES

CHAMPION JOHNSON IN CALIFORNIA FOR GOOD TIME.

No Promoter Has Made Proposition to Black Man, Who Expects to Go Into Business.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 12.—(Special.)—Jack Johnson is taking a more sensible course than of which many laymen would imagine a boxer capable. The heavyweight champion of the world, who is a long way from being anybody's fool, reasons as well as the sporting writers of the country that there is no market for his wares at the present time and he is not cheapening himself by insisting that there ought to be some one to match against him.

Most of the talk of the prospective matches has emanated from Eastern newspaper men, who have had little else to write about. "Honestly," said Johnson, with the earnestness that he frequently assumes, "there is not a word of truth about any match for me. It has been newspaper talk and nothing else. Not a promoter has come to me with a proposition to meet any one. They know that I can't afford to go into the ring for a paltry sum when there are so many theatrical engagements open and they are not offering their time by making absurd propositions. I am not running away from any one in the world, but at the same time I am not going around making a lot of talk. In Pittsburgh I did post $10,000 that I was willing to meet any one, but the issue was forced on me by one of the 'hopes,' who I had been doing a lot of talking.

"Believe it or not, I am out here in California to have a rest and a good time. I have enough money put away, if I never go inside a ring again, so you there's no use to worry. I am not talking foolishly about retiring, but in a year or so I will go into some business."

Mexican Central, about 80 miles south. The insurrecto forces are scattered between Ahumada and Juarez, wherever they can find pasture and water. The country for 100 miles south of here is practically a desert.

Castillas, probably the best educated of the insurrecto leaders and who has been in El Paso at a council of war for three days, was captured by American soldiers at Ysleta today. Castillas was trying to get across the river to join his command. He had a rifle, in violation of the neutrality laws, and was taken into custody.

Navarro, fearing mines under the tracks or bridges, is said to be proceeding ahead of the train which, together with the repairs he is compelled to make, renders his advance a tedious one. A letter received by the local justice today from a sympathizer at Shafter, Texas, purported to show that the Federals have not forsaken the practice of executing the defenseless. The letter says that one Tom Perrien, a river guard, saw the recent fight at Millato, and that four very old men were taken out and shot, although unarmed and defenseless.

"One of them," says the letter, "was partly blind and paralyzed and was 75 years old. Another was 80 years old." The insurrecto board of strategy held a meeting at Sarago, on the Mexican side, 12 miles east of here today. Their plans were not divulged. Newspaper men penetrated the desert 35 miles south of Juarez today without catching sight of the troops of either side.

The alarm of fire was given by sentries in the camp of the United States troops less than a block away from the burning buildings, but none of the soldiers crossed over, strict orders having been issued to remain on United States territory.

No Federal soldiers have appeared and the rumor that Mexican troops had appeared across the desert between Pecos Pass and New River proved groundless. In anticipation of the troops appearing, Berthold called in all the sentries and massed them in the bull-light arena.

Recruits to the insurrecto force are constantly being received. The statement was made today that the insurrectos have 50 men in the Cocopa Mountains, where they can keep close watch of Pecos Pass, through which the Federals must come from Ensenada to Mexicali.

Berthold had secured the services of nearly 100 Cocopa Indians to act as scouts over the desert. The insurrecto scouts are keeping Leva well posted on the movements of the Federal soldiers.

The Signal Service Corps of the United States Army has sent a detachment of eight men to Yuma and three to Calexico to establish wireless stations. It is expected that stations will be established at points of about 30 miles apart from Yuma to San Diego. In this manner the United States Government will be able to keep in touch with the situation in Northwestern Mexico.

Several members of the committee have met informally with the Bank Examiner and he gave them a few figures on what is being done. Vancouver citizens hope the bank will be reorganized, and D. K. Betts, deputy Bank Examiner, today said that the bank is now closer to reorganization than it has ever been since it failed.

Do You Enjoy Your Meals?

One of the Most Important Questions to Consider in the Search for Happiness and Health.

"The burning question to you is, 'Are you getting out of life all the pleasure and health you are entitled to?' If not, why not?"

No matter whether every organ and member of your body is in a sound state of health and strength, if your stomach is in any way disordered, you are not going to be 'yourself.' You are going to be a worried, out-of-sorts, nervous, irritable, and generally unwell person. The world wants to smile and be cheerful, and unless you are cheerful and smile, at least occasionally, you will have few friends, fewer opportunities, no success, and you will go down in defeat—defeated by dyspepsia and a bad stomach.

A good and thorough digestion has a quick, wonderful reaction upon the brain. You must have a good stomach, for the brain and stomach are as intimately connected as a needle and its thread, one can hardly be used to advantage without the other. If your stomach is slow and lazy in digesting your food, it will produce at once a slow, lazy and cloudy influence upon your brain. Mark it! If your stomach has absolutely quit work, and fermentation is poisoning your vitals as a result, surely your brain is going to be sluggish and correspondingly depressed. No one need tell you that.

But why continue to suffer all the miseries and torments that a disordered stomach brings you? Why? Because, as all stomach troubles arise from indigestion and because one ingredient of Sturtz's Dyspepsia Tablets is able to thoroughly and completely digest 2000 grains of any kind of food, doesn't it stand to reason that these little Dyspepsia Tablets are going to digest all the food and whatever food you put into your stomach? Science nowadays can digest food without having to use the stomach for it. And Sturtz's Dyspepsia Tablets are the result of this scientific discovery. They digest and digest thoroughly and well, anything and everything you eat.

So, if your stomach refuses to work or can't work, and you suffer from eruptions, bloat, brass, fermentation, biliousness, sour stomach, heartburn, irritation, indigestion, or dyspepsia of whatever form, just take one or two of Sturtz's Dyspepsia Tablets, and see the difference. It doesn't cost you much to prove it. Then you can eat all you want, what you want, whenever you want, if you use these tablets, and you can look the whole world in the face with a beaming eye and you will have a cheerful spirit, a pleasant face, a vigorous body and a clear mind and memory and everything will look and taste delicious to you. That's life.

LECTURE NO. 5

NEGLECT OF THE EYES

We work our eyes, the most delicate mechanism in the body, with far less mercy than any other part of it. Knowingly, but thoughtlessly, we continue our reading in the twilight, or by a flickering gas-light, far above our heads.

In the daytime, with no excuse whatever for our behavior, we face the light when we work or allow the sunlight to 'dance' upon the pages of our book. We find it too much trouble to adjust ourselves so that the light will come over the left shoulder, or too expensive to change a lamp shade which we know causes a glare that is very bad indeed for our eyes.

We leave the arrangement of our gas jets and our electric bulbs so that each separate light sends its burning rays straight into the sensitive eyes of all who sit or stand in the room, and we frequently leave our windows unshaded so that the 'blessed light' becomes a deadly glare, irritating and tiring to even the strongest eyes. Walls are left white to increase the glare or are covered with large tortuous figures and inharmonious colors.

We weary the little focusing muscles of our eyes by reading on trains or by watching the flying objects from the window. We go to moving-picture shows and wonder why our eyes ache and twitch when they are over. We watch brilliant scenic productions with rapidly changing lights, colors, and expect to feel a nervous relaxation afterward when our poor eyes have been adapting themselves to each lightning change and straining to see every detail with nerves drawn taut the entire evening.

In investigation is proving that numerous diseases, some of them very serious, have their beginning in eyestrain. The least of them is headache, and following that we have all the nervous diseases to which man is heir, among them nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, nervous indigestion, spinal diseases, melancholia, hysteria, even insanity and epilepsy.
