

GENERAL NAVARRO OCCUPIES JUAREZ

Trip of Federal Soldiers to Northern Mexico Town Tame Excursion.

REBEL HOSTS SCATTERED

Citizens Give Enthusiastic Welcome to Diaz Commander and Insurrectos in El Paso Are Much Downhearted.

EL PASO, Feb. 14.—Amid wild cries of Viva Diaz the Navarro General Navarro, at the head of 1000 Federal troops from Chihuahua, entered Juarez this evening.

The entire trip, consuming 12 days, was made by train, without the firing of a shot or sighting the revolutionists.

Navarro during the trip was compelled to repair 25 bridges and culverts which had been blown up or wrecked by the insurrectionists.

The arrival marks the end of the Juarez campaign. Orozco and the other rebel chiefs are scattered east and south of here.

Citizens Greet Navarro. An hour after his arrival, General Navarro was escorted to the customhouse, where the Taft-Diaz meeting occurred. Here he heard members of Colonel Hahn's staff and citizens, among them a number of women.

Two hundred insurrectos were at Guadalupe today, where a new provisional capital has been established. Orozco was at Sausalaya this forenoon, but he had decamped when Navarro arrived.

The Federal troops traveled on two trains, preceded by a construction train. The insurrectos are downhearted here tonight.

Campaign Is Failure. The Juarez campaign has been a miserable failure. Leaders of the junta admit that had Orozco proceeded with energy and taken Juarez, as he might have a week ago, the moral effect would have been marked, and no doubt would have added much to his strength in the way of recruits and arrangements.

The capital of Guadalupe is far from permanent. It will be moved at Federal approach. It is believed on the border now that Orozco must retreat to Casas Grandes again. It is said that he cannot even threaten the city of Chihuahua, for there is a garrison of 1500 troops defending the place.

NEUTRALITY TO BE ENFORCED. Rebels Crossing Boundary to Be Disarmed and Imprisoned.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 14.—Insurgent sympathizers in this city have suggested a communication from Simon Berthold, the American Socialist leader of the insurrectos at Mexicali including a letter received by him from Captain Babcock, of the United States troops at Calexico, which prohibits the insurgents from entering the United States, while either armed or unarmed, and from purchasing supplies of any kind on this side of the line. An insurgent crossing the border will be disarmed and retained in custody.

Studebaker Corporation Formed. TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 14.—The Studebaker Corporation, with an authorized capital of $15,000,000, was incorporated in the state here today.

Mexicans to Cross Border. WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—The State Department has given permission for the passage through the frontier of a body of Mexican guards to protect the employee and materials along the dike being constructed to control the Colorado River. Mr. Cairns is now collector of Customs at the Port of Hilo, Philippine Islands.

PERSIA HIRES 2 EXPERTS. Cairns and Dickey to Aid in Reorganizing Finances.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—In addition to W. Morgan Shuster, of this city, recently appointed Treasurer-General of Persia, the Persian government has made arrangements for the employment of Frank S. Cairns to be director of taxation, Mr. Cairns is now collector of Customs at the Port of Hilo, Philippine Islands.

Silver Fox Killed; Felt Worth $200. HURON, Wash., Feb. 14.—(Special.)—A silver fox, the pelts of which are valued at $100, was recently killed near Puhla, 12 miles northeast of here. L. W. Wood, with his bear dogs, picked up what was considered the trail of a coyote, but the quarry proved more valuable than a $150 bounty. This is the fourth silver fox captured in western Klickitat county during the past winter.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Feb. 14.—(Special.)—During the first day of registration for the second semester at the university yesterday, practically all of the old students and 25 new students filed their registration cards. DANVILLE INQUIRY IS ON (Continued from First Page.) he called for a vote as to whether the jury should act as the prosecutor and carry on the remainder of the inquiry "in its own hook." Bodiam broke loose at this juncture.

Woodward assumed control after the turmoil. He selected George B. Welfinger, of Catilla, a young law student who is a member of the body, to act as prosecutor, and declared that all members might feel free to join in the interrogation of witnesses.

Lorimer's Fate to Be Decided at This Session.

BURROWS SECURES DELAY

Beveridge Tries to Hasten Action, but Is Blocked, and Bailey Ends Defense of Lorimer With Velled Attack on Democen.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—An effort to fix a day to vote in the Senate on the Lorimer case was made today, but failed. Assurance was given, however, that ultimately there would be a vote. Upon the conclusion of Bailey's speech in defense of Lorimer, which he had resumed after having taken three hours yesterday, Beveridge tried to obtain unanimous consent to fix a day to vote. No objection was forthcoming from Burrows, chairman of the committee on privileges and elections, which had presented the report in favor of Lorimer after his investigation of his election by the Illinois Legislature. Burrows said in time there would be a vote. Bailey practically charged forgery.

DIRECT ELECTION FIGHT NEAR CRISIS

Borah and His Followers May Force All-Night Session to Secure Vote.

ENDURANCE TO BE TESTED

Senate Must Face Issue of Popular Choice and Some Democrats Will Support Change Despite Injection of Race Issue.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—As the result of many conferences in cloakrooms and other places in the Capitol, friends of the resolution for direct election of Senators today determined on a decided move forward. Borah voiced that purpose in a formal notice that on next Thursday he would ask the Senate to sit until a vote should be reached.

If this is persisted in, it will mean the Thursday session will be extended into, and if necessary through, the night. It will mean a test of endurance between friends and opponents of the measure and either continuous speaking by the opposition Senators or a filibuster. On the other hand, the supporters would be required to maintain a quorum as a requisite to doing any business.

Direct Electionists Confident. The popular electionists have considered all these points and declare they know just where they stand. They have confidence in success that they have manifested for some time. This renewed hope is due to a canvass of the Democratic side of the great Democratic and Republican side, with the Sutherland amendment incorporated, some Democratic votes will still be assured.

The amendment provides for the ultimate Federal control of Senatorial elections in case Congress should decide such control to be desirable. It would not be a constitutional amendment to the State Legislatures.

Borah's colleague, Senator Heyburn, made it evident today that he will press his opposition to the attempt by refusing to permit a vote on Friday.

Nebraskan Supports Change. Brown of Nebraska today replied to the speech of Lodge and Dewey, who opposed direct election.

"The American people," he said, "cannot be joked or smiled at or deceived by a few Senators. Their determination to have a direct voice in public affairs. Representative government is dear to them. They would perpetuate it."

"How natural and logical, then, is their desire to become more closely and more directly identified with their grand homogeneous representatives, whether in the National Congress or in State Legislatures, and to have a more direct voice in the laws of the land?"

Brown supported the principle of direct primaries and predicted that "the time is not more than six years distant when the direct election will be chosen by direct vote."

ELMORE ESTATE VICTOR. Walter Ridelahg's Claim for $35,000 Dismissed by Court.

ASTORIA, Or., Feb. 14.—(Special.)—The claim of Walter Ridelahg against the estate of the late Samuel Elmore was set for hearing before Judge Judd, of the Probate Court, today, but a petition was received from the claimant's attorneys asking that the case be dismissed, and this was done. The claim was for $35,000, which the claimant asserted was due to the Elmore estate. The second will came from a school especially organized for the middle classes, and the third division will provide for a general barracks for the masses.
