San Francisco Defeats Hanford and Reds.

SPOILS 9-0 GAME

Modesto and Hanford Camps Scenes of Double-Header for Bay City Boys, Who Make Good Showings in First Contests.

MODESTO, Cal., Feb. 26 .- (Special.) ... The stay-in-cap Scale did themselves proud today when, with a burst of speed and timely batting they downed the Reds 7 to 2.

All told it was a good ball game. comewhat one-sided, but never without hope for the Modesto fans until the Tommy Madden opened the game with a two-bagger, but was forced at third. In the second, Powell walked and stole McCauley fanned, but Harris drove into center, scoring Powell. Madden got his second two-bagger and the addition to tallying the soldier went Madden got his second two-bagger and in addition to tallying, the soldier went to third as Campbell let the ball go by him. Madden tailied on McArdle's drive and Lewis was fanned. Two more runs were added in the third. Mahler walked, and when Berry attumpted a sacrifice. Ferlin, the first sacker, threw the ball back of the automobile stand and "Captain" Kidd was home with Berry on third. Powell tailied the catcher and the inning ended with no more runs.

Ehrenpfert started in the fourth by giving Osborne a two-bagger, and although the runner reached third, with he out, he was held there. As Another als and a wild pitch but could not ake the circuit. The mixth saw action of both side:

Harris. McArdle stealing home.

The first of the bumpings by Modeste came in the last of the same inning. With one down, Meeding was hit and Paim singled. Ferlin followed with a drive into left that Powell failed to get under and Meeding was home. McCarthy forced Ferlin, but Mohler tried to double the old-timer out at first and his wild throw gave another run.

In the last of the eighth Osborne walked, stole, was sacrificed to third and come home on Palm's safe one. The score: Fan Fran. 7 10 1 Modesto ... 3 6 3

RAIN SPOILS GAME OF SEALS

By Score of 9 to 0, San Francisco Lads "Steal" Hanford Boys.

HANFORD, Cal., Feb. 28 -- (Special.)-A cold shower of rain brought the much advertised game between Hanford and the Seals to an abrupt ending today attay six innings had been played and the cessation of hostilities was welcomed

The Hanford boys found themselves workfully out of condition and even with the help of some of the Scal squad, the affair was turned into a joke after Harry Sutor quit pitching for the opposition. He was relieved in the fifth inning by a big lefthand country boy named a big lefthand country boy named buckles, who was wild and given to standing on his head every time a batted ball came in his direction. BASEBALL COMES WITH SPRING

Ideal Weather Conditions Bring Out Amateur Diamond Stars.

Portland was gripped by the fron hand of haseball yesterday. All day long in the North, South, East and Western sections of the city and even in the down-town streets, players were conspicuous. Many impromptu games were played and today sore arms and bruised fingers will be the rule. Dry fields and the Summer-like weather drew the ambitious players out from their Winter habitations. Many of those practicing yesterday were prominent local semi-profession from more until sundown, the North Please block diamond was at a premium; the West End field was liberally patronised and the South Portland hottens were lined with players all day. Everywhere could be heard the crack of horsehide against wood, the shours of the players and the enthusiastic rooting of the assembled fans.

Testerday was really the first day sufficiently good for baseball Portland has had this year and advantage was taken of it to "limber up."

One of the features of the day's sport was the playing of two Japanese ball tossers on the North Plaza block. These men learned the game in their mative land after watching the touring american college teams and plan to Airge his American college teams and plan to sign with some of the fast local semi-professional teams. Several members of the Portland Glants (colored) also of the Fortished claims (colored) also were out for a fling on the Plaza block. The colored lads expect a stronger team this year than they have ever mustered together. Last year they met the best of the state and local teams and at the season's end had a majority of victories.

Workmen began laboring yesterday Workmen began laboring yesterday to get McKenna Park, Portsmouth, into condition for this year's play. The Portland team in the Northwestern League plans to play its Sunday exhibition games, on that diamond until Recreation Park is placed in playing condition.

PURPOSE IS EDUCATIONAL

Students' Judging Contest and Lectures on Livestock Topics Are to Be Especially Valuable as Practical Aids.

Without gate fee and purely educational in its objects, the first Annual Pacific Northwest Livestock Show to be held in Portland, March 20-22, has received the indorsement of James J. Hill. chairman of the executive board, of the Great Northern, in a recent letter. It is his opinion that Oregon, and Portland in particular, can do no greater work than by pushing the show to a successful conclusion. Not only does he give than by pushing the show to a successful conclusion. Not only does he give it his indorsement, but in addition he will lend it his financial support.

President Splawn, of North Yakima. Wash, has written: "This will be the first livestock show and comprehensive exhibition of fat stock that has been held west of Denver or St. Paul. It is absolutely educational as there will be no gate fee, and from present indications the capacity of the Portland Union Stock Yards will be taxed to take care of the exhibits.

of the exhibits.

"James J. Hill, of the Great Northern, and Robert S Lovett, of the Harriman lines, have lent their names and influence to the show, as they appreciate the great educational force of the project. There will be a great display of draft horses in harness, in which an object lesson will be given showing what the draft horse industry means to the Pacert horse industry means th draft horse industry means to the Pa-cific Northwest. There will be great display of thoroughbred beef cattle and there will be on exhibition thoroughbred sheep and hogs. The premium list does not include prizes for thoroughbred stock.

"The student's contest, which takes place on the first day, to be followed by lectures on livestock topics, will draw the attention of hundreds of people who are interested in better livestock. In actual benefit and as a direct assistant of the kind. ance in attracting settlers of the kind who build up the country, nothing that has ever been given in the Pacific Northwest will mean as much as the exhibition of the Pacific Northwest Livestock

Students from the agricultural colleges Students from the agricultural colleges of Oregon. Washington, Idaho, Montana and California will take part in the students' contest. This is one of the leading features of the show from an educational viewpoint. These classes in stock judging will compete and judges from the East of National reputation will pass upon the work of the students. President Kerr, of Corvallis, will attend and will aid in making the livestock show a success.

GOOD ROAD FRIENDS REVIVE

Work to Be Broadened With Eye on Coming Legislature.

The Oregon Good Roads Association will held a meeting in the Beck building Tuesday night for the purpose of reorganizing its finances. It is suggested that by making the subscription it a month, the funds will quickly grow. It is believed that in doing so a larger membership may be attained and the work broadened and widened so that when the next two years have rolled around the force will be of such strength that only friends of the cause will be in the Legislature.

Among the members of the association it is felt that some of the members of it is felt that some of the members of the Legislature who were obstructionists will have occasion to regret their stand in case they should ask for re-election. They assert that some opposed every effort of the association and put unneces-sary blocks to the progress of the move-ment.

Leaders of the good roads movement are positive in their assertions that the loss of some sort of a law has brought disappointment to the citizens of the atate. They believe that this feeling is a keen one and sure to be reflected in the attitude of the people whenever they get an opportunity to express their sentiments.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The pressure has decreased along the immediate Pacific Coast, and also along the Atlantic Coast, while over the interior of the country there has been an increase which was quite marked in the Mississippi Valley. A large high pressure field is apreading southeastward over the states was of the southeastward over the states was of the southeastward over the states was of the southeastward in the states was of the southeastward over the states was of the missispi River and is causing colder weather generally throughout the Westorn States. Precipitation has occurred in California. Nevada, Utah, Southern idaho, in the Pinigs States, in Texas Louisiana, Tennessee and in the St. Lawrence Valley. West of a line drawn from Western Texas to Northern Michigan temperatures are correspendingly above normal, while to eastward of this line the temperatures are correspendingly above normal, the southward advance of the high pressure area from Northern Canada is causing increasing winds over the Paget Sound country and northeast storm warnings were ordered displayed at 7:10 P. M. on the Sound and the Strait of Juan De Fuca. The wind storm is not expected to be damaging and the warnings are intended to be mainly advisory. Conditions are favorable for generally fair weather Monday throughout this district, except that snew flurries are expected for Southern Idaho and colder weather will obtain east of the Cascade Mountains. Northeasterly winds will prevail, being high to brisk along the Washington Coast and over Puget Sound.

Portland and vicinity—Fair and centing.
