The Portland Furniture Manufacturing Co.

Portland, Oregon

1249-1259 MACADAM ROAD

The home of "guaranteed" upholstered furniture and mattresses. Sample room, the most elaborate and complete west of Chicago, containing a permanent exhibit of our line, as well as those of the other South Portland furniture factories, is located in the building of the Rudge-Merle Co., 1186-1190 Macadam Road.

From a small beginning we have been enjoying an unprecedented growth, and today we are second to none in our particular line of manufacture.

We were the first ones to prove to the general public that good upholstered furniture may be made just as well at home as imported from the East, and the fact that our guarantee is back of every piece we make has helped materially in building up our reputation.

We employ no child-labor, but skilled workmen only; every one connected with our establishment is a practical mechanic, the raw materials used are of the best quality possible, and no matter whether you buy one of our cheapest mattresses or a high-priced Davenport, you can always be sure to get full value for your money.

Ask your furniture dealer for our goods. Buy them, and become another booster for Home Industries in general, and for the Portland Mfg. Co. in particular.

Mt. Hood Soap Co.

When you buy Mt. Hood Soaps you buy home-made goods. Your money circulates at home and gives employment to home people.

Ask your grocer for Mt. Hood Soaps:

- Rose city Transparent Glycerine Soap.
- White-Wonder Laundry Soap.

- Feldman's X. L. N. T. Soap.

FAIR WILL HELP STATE

LARGE VARIETY OF OREGON PRODUCTS EXHIBITED.

Manufacturers' Show Demonstrates What is Being Accomplished by Home Industries.

With 50 members of the Manufacturers' Association exhibiting their products, the people of this city and state will today have opportunity to see some of the goods which are being made in Portland, and which will give the people who visit the exhibition at the Meier & Frank building some idea of the rapid strides Portland is making as the manufacturing center of the Pacific Northwest.

The exhibition is confined to the fourth floor of the building, and although the various displays were not complete on Saturday night, nearly 5000 persons made an inspection of the exhibits already in place. By this afternoon all the exhibitors will have their displays complete and ready for the critical inspection of visitors.

The wide range of the manufactured products on show doubtless will have the effect of greatly interesting the people of Portland in the "Made in Oregon" movement. The Manufacturers' Association is leading the "Made in Oregon" movement, and the exhibition which is now being held, and which will continue for at least two weeks, is one of the phases of an educational campaign which the association proposes to conduct to educate the Oregon people in home-manufactured articles. The directors of the Manufacturers' Association believe that in the present show a big step has been taken in the campaign.

Among the articles being shown are various kinds of clothing, including uniforms, automobile clothing, water-proof garments, shirts, overalls, suspenders and pilled clothing; mattresses, pillows, bed springs and a wide and varied line of high-class furniture; the products of local furniture factories; wagons, pottery goods, iron and steel products, all kinds of food products, including fruit and flavoring extracts, spices, coffees and teas, canned goods and gristmill products of various kinds. Also being shown are stoves and ranges of local manufacture, safes and vaults, mirrors, boxes of wood, cartons and boxes of paper and boxboard; various planing-mill products, including a wide line of woods for interior finish for homes and office buildings, art glass, hammered brass and plated ware, wood rejuvenators, gas mantles, art goods, electric light fixtures, tile goods for floors and other purposes, harness goods, leather belting of various sorts, and soap and cleansing preparations.

Several of the exhibitors have installed working exhibits which are at all times surrounded by persons curious to see how the various goods are converted from the raw materials into the finished product. One manufacturer has installed a complete overall factory on a small scale. In this exhibit 16 operatives are at work making overalls. In another booth is shown in operation a complete ventilating plant and a blow-pipe plant, such as is used in lumber mills and other factories. The ventilating plant in operation is of such power as to keep the air in the exhibition pure and sweet and free from the variegated odors incident to the various manufactured lines on display.

DRINK TRIUNFO COFFEE

DELICATE DELICIOUS INSTINCTIVE

Triunfo Coffee, like the Hood River Apple, has a distinctive flavor, because of the soil and climatic conditions in which it is grown. The Triunfo Coffee is grown on our own plantation on the Tumbala Range of the Sierra Madra Mountains, on the border of Guatemala, where the best coffees are grown, and from there shipped direct to our Portland Roasting Plant, 24 and 26 Front street, where it is roasted and packed in one and two-pound tins.
