Corrupt Proposals Shown.

Stephens says Gore was approached by Jake L. Hamon substantially as charged by Gore: that Hamon prob-ably was acting by authority or with-out knowledge of McMurray; that a mber of Congress was approached Hamon substantially as charged Gore; that the preponderance of evidence shows a questionable activ-ity on the part of a member, "that to my mind indicates an interest;" that the evidence does not prove that a member of the Senate was interested in the McMurray contracts; that an ex-Senator from Nebraska and an ex-Senator from Kansas were interested in the McMurray contracts; but that the evidence above no improvedety of the evidence shows no impropriety of such interests; nor that they attempt-ed improperly to influence any Sena-tor or Representative in respect to the McMurray contracts. He further holds that the evidence shows at least one person made corrupt proposals in connection with the con-tracts; that an improper proposal was made to D. C. McCurtain on the part of McMurray, an improper proposal to Green McCurtain on the part of George W. Scott, and an improper proposal to W. A. Durant, speaker of the Chociaw Council, by G. W. Scott and Tom Sanguin.
