Governor Declares Letter of Law Regarding Taxation Must Be Upheld.

ASSESSORS MUST COMPLY

If County Attorneys Pail to Prosecute for Neglect They Will Be Removed-One-Third Is System at Present.

BOISE Maho, March 7.—(Special.)—The State Board of Equalization today took the most drastic action in its history by ordering that all property in Idaho of every description shall be assessed at its actual cash value. Heretofore, the same property has been assessed at one-third of its valuation.

of its valuation.

It is asserted that the board so acted for fear of an extra session of the Legislature threatened by Governor Hawley, on account of the fact that the constituon ercount of the fact that the constitutional limit is almost reached in the mill tax and the bonding indebtedness is near the limit. Governor Hawley has not as yet signed the appropriations bill. It is said on good authority that he is seriously considering the extra session.

"By the living God," said Governor Hawley during the Equalization Board meeting, "I believe it is my duty and the duty of the Board to comply to the very letter of the law in taxation. I am empowered with authority to enforce that law and shall do so."

Notification has been sent to County

TACOMA EASTERN HALTS

Dismissal of Suits May Mean Discontinuance of Work.

CHEHALIS, Wash., March 7 .- (Special.) -Indications are that work on the ex-tension of the Tacoma Eastern branch from Morton to Kosmos and down the Cowlitz River has been suspended indefinitely. The company has purchased much of its right of way, but had upwards of 30 condemnation cases in the Lewis County Superior Court, in cases in which settlements with the owners had not been effected. These cases were to have been tried at a special term of the Superior Court this month. Attorneya for the company asked the dismissal of all the cases yesterday, and the belief at the Courthouse is that work will not proceed further at this time.
It had been announced that the company was assembling men and material to rush work immediately between Morthe first opinion of the kind ever handed down by a court of last resort, the Supreme Court today reversed Judge Galloway, of Marion County, in the case of Cockinham and Thatcher versus the Board of Control and O. Finkelnburg, appellants, and remanded the cause to the lower court with instructions to dismiss a writ of review. The opinion was written by Chief Justice Eakin.

In this case, according to the statement of facts, Cockinham and Thatcher filed with State Engineer Lewis an application for a permit to make appropriation of 10 second-feet of the water of Powder River and to irrigate 30,000 acres of land as well as to construct a reservoir to impound the waters of Powder River in Thief Valley with a capacity of 60,000 acre-feet at an estimated cost of $500,000. The same day O. C. Finkelnburg filed an application with the State Engineer for a permit to construct a storage reservoir in Thief Valley for the storage of waters of Powder River for irrigation at an estimated cost of $500,000. storage of waters of Powder River for irrigation at an estimated cost of $300,000.

Court Overrules Board.

The State Engineer, being of the opinion of the public, referred the applications to the Board of Control. After a full hearing the board directed the engineer to refuse the applications of the parties not obtaining final contract with the Desert Land Board for reclamation of the lands and to approve the application of the party obtaining such contract. The plaintiffs filed a petition in the Circuit Court of Marion County for a writ of review and the Circuit Court sustained the writ, directing dismissal of proceedings before the Board of Control for the reason that it had no jurisdiction of the proceedings and consequently the board appealed.

State Controls Reclamation.

In his opinion Chief Justice Eakin holds that the right to beneficial use of water to be acquired under the permit applied for is not an opportunity to acquire a monopoly of the water of a stream for promiscuous sale, but must contemplate a use upon specific lands which shall become appurtenant to the land to which

This meeting declared itself in favor of the commission form, and committed the work of drafting the necessary charter changes to a committee composed of representatives of the Municipal League, the City Council the Commercial Club, the Merchants' Protective Association, the university faculty and other organizations. After the amendments were filed, the Council refused to submit them to a vote, and passed instead an ordinance naming a commission of nine men, to be voted on at the April election, to draft a commission charter which would be submitted later. This the friends of commission government regarded as an attempt to smother the whole commission plan without delay, and the present campaign is the result.

The administration candidates for Councilmen have not yet announced themselves.
